The pilot and co-pilot, Alex M. Davidson, 43, and R. T. "Paddy" Moore, 45, both of Sidney, died instantly.

The plane, a Super Canso PBY operated by Victoria Flying Firemen, Ltd., was fighting a blaze on Skirt Mountain, a third of a mile from Trans-Canada Highway.

Forestry officials said the fire started at 4 p.m. The Flying Firemen, under contract to the B.C. government, were called in at 4:30 p.m.

It is uncertain how many trips over the fire the aircraft made before the crash at about 6:50 p.m.

But the fire, visible from the highway in Goldstream area, had attracted hundreds of sightseers. Many were parked and watching the operation when the tragedy occurred.

Cars travelling north and south were slowed to a crawl and RCMP were endeavoring to keep them moving.

Taking Water From Finlayson Arm

Eyewitnesses said the aircraft was making landings on Finlayson Arm, loading its 1,157-gallon tanks by skimming over the water with a "probe" or scoop, then flying over the fire to bomb it with a deluge.

The path of the plane carried it south from Finlayson Inlet directly over the intersection of the Trans-Canada Highway and the road which cuts off to Goldstream Inn. There the plane would turn to approach the mountain.

Dropping its load of water, it would then head back to the inlet.

At the time of the fatal drop the plane appeared to veer to the east over the fire, striking a wing on nearby trees and falling at a point beyond the fire.

The plane burst into a pillar of flame. The bodies were found 150 feet from the main part of the plane. The plane was scattered over a wide area.

See pictures, stories pages 2, 17

The fire started by the crash was quickly controlled. The bodies were not brought out until this morning.

Herbert and Mabel Guttormson, 2516 Florence Lake Road, were standing near Goldstream Inn.

"He seemed awfully close to the trees," said Mr. Guttormson.

"He came in toward the lower part of the fire," said Mrs. Guttormson.

"I saw pieces coming off. He was veering toward the right when he crashed," the husband said.

"It didn't explode until after it fell to the ground. Just before the crash he got in behind some trees.

Mr. Guttormson said it was windy.

"I remarked about it. He was flying so low with all that wind."

Mr. and Mrs. William Hutchinson, 3460 Cedar Hill, had been watching the fire for half an hour and were taking pictures. They were standing opposite Goldstream (Shell) Garage, 2892 Trans-Canada Highway.

"The plane would come over us and we'd pick it up in the view-finder and follow it until it dropped its load.

"I was watching, and all of a sudden I saw a wing go up in the air and pieces flying off as he apparently hit the top of a tree. Then she bellied right down under the trees, out of sight."

'AWFUL TO STAND . . . AND WATCH MEN DIE'

They were taken by an amateur photographer, William Hutchinson, who went out with his wife to take snaps of a forest fire—and was confronted with sudden death.

Both were shocked by their experience.

"It's awful to know we could just stand there and watch men die," he said.

BILL EYED TO HALT RAIL STRIKE

A bill was expected on President Johnson's desk before day's end. (See page 21.)

Meanwhile, Canada today placed an embargo on mail bound for the United States because of the strike.

First class mail (letters travelling by air or land) will continue to be reecived and dispatched but other classes of mail will be held in Canada until the strike ends.

UN Team Moves In At Suez

Times News Services

Egypt and United Nations truce officials have reached agreement on details regarding the work of UN ceasefire observers in the tense Suez Canal area, Egyptian foreign ministry sources in Cairo said today.

The agreement followed a reported hitch which delayed the start of observation work along the canal Sunday. The points agreed on were not disclosed.

Meanwhile, Egyptian and Israeli guns along the waterway were silent for the second straight day.

The two Arab leaders Sunday night ended discussions in Cairo on the Middle East war aftermath with Presidents Nasser of Egypt, Nureddin Atassi of Syria and Ismail el Azhari of Sudan.

A communique on the talks said the five Arab leaders agreed to take effective measures to wipe out all traces of "Zionist imperialistic aggression."

They also approved a proposal by Azhari that Arab foreign ministers should meet soon in Khartoum, Sudan.

CHECK CANAL AREA

Small teams of UN observers, acting under a Security Council mandate, were on both sides of the canal, making preparations to observe the operation of the new ceasefire that halted the air and artillery battles Saturday.

The semi - official Cairo newspaper Al Ahram said the start of the UN patrols had been layed by continuation of talks in Cairo and Tel Aviv by Lt.-Gen. Odd Bull of Norway, the head of the UN Palestine truce organization.

AP correspondent Dennis Neeld reported from the Israeli headquarters at El Quantara, on the canal, that Egypt had refused to allow direct communication between UN observers on opposite sides of the canal.

LOCKED ROOM TURNED 'INTO FLAMING OVEN'

JAY, Fla. (AP) — Thirty-seven prisoners were killed Sunday at a state prison road camp when disgruntled convicts fired scrap paper and inadvertently turned their locked barracks into a flaming oven, state officials said today.

Fourteen of the 51 prisoners inside the burning barracks, which recently became racially-integrated were rescued. Six were taken to hospital with burns and eight were transferred to the jail at Pensacola.

The fire was set by prisoners, said Louis Wainwright, director of the state corrections division. A guard saw two prisoners — one a Negro and another white — touching lighted matches to newspapers, Wainwright said.

G. C. Mayne, Jr., assistant warden at the camp, earlier said the barracks erupted into flame when battling prisoners, a Negro and a white, broke a gas line and smashed a fluorescent lamp.

Wainwright said he didn't know exactly why the men were displeased. "That's what we have to find out. There has been no indication that any racial problem was involved at all."

Asked why more prisoners did not flee the burning building after the door was unlocked, Wainwright said: "The guard told them to get out. Apparently they panicked."

Among the dead was a prisoner who started the newspaper-fed fire, Wainwright said. Wainwright declined to give their names.

Rescue workers retrieved 35 bodies when the embers cooled several hours later. A reporter at the scene said 19 victims were found in the showers, where they apparently had sought safety by dousing themselves with water. The other two victims ran from the burning building and dropped dead on a lawn.

"The entire room was wrapped up with fire," the Santa Rosa sheriff's dispatcher, H. C. Crawford, quoted a surviving prisoner brought to county jail at nearby Milton. All eight unharmed convicts were jailed there overnight.

"Somebody hollered 'fire,'" Gerald Milligan, the prisoner, was quoted as saying. Milligan said he was sitting on his bunk removing his shoe. Then, he said, the fire "swept the whole top of the building."

"They began to pass out," Milligan said. He said he ducked under beds and crawled toward the locked door holding his nose.

PLAN AIRLIFT FOR 3,000 FROM BIAFRA

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — About 3,000 Europeans and Americans were trying to get out of secessionist Biafra today as federal Nigerian troops advanced toward the rebel capital of Enugu.

...WATER BOMBER

Mr. Hutchinson said: "Nothing happened for maybe a second and then a huge column of fire—bright yellow fire—went straight up.

"It lasted two or three seconds while the fuel burned.

"We were both severely shocked.

"Nothing could have survived. They must have died immediately."

Saanich police sergeant John Post was parked nearer the Malahat, watching the fire-fighting operation and watching the plane scoop water from the inlet. He said he thought it was the plane's third pass when "he disappeared into the smoke and there was just a big ball of fire."

A woman standing near him began laughing hysterically, he said.

Flying Firemen Ltd. have been in service since 1965. It is a separate firm from Flying Tankers Ltd., which has operated Martin Mars water bombers in this area.

Davidson Founded, Headed Firm

Mr. Davidson was founder and president of the firm, in partnership with William Harrison of Omineca Air Services. It has operated throughout B.C. with three Cansos, wartime flying boats, and planned to have two more airborne soon.

In recent days the Canso which crashed had conducted successful attacks on a fire on Mount Finlayson.

It has also worked in the interior of the province, where the two other operational planes are now working.

An official of the firm said it is impossible to say who was flying.

'They worked as a team."

The bodies were carried down the mountain at daybreak along a trail leading to the Goldstream Garage, 2892 Trans-Canada Highway. They were brought into Victoria by Langford Ambulance.

The transport department has launched an one-site investigation and a B.C. Forest Service investigation team was on its way from Vancouver.

Coroner Edmond Jorre de St. Jorre said this morning he has directed the bodies be taken to St. Joseph's Hospital for a post-mortem. An inquest date would be set "as quickly as we can."

TWO CARS

Nine Die In Road Collision

ESPANOLA, Ont. (CP)—Nine persons, four of them Americans, were killed today in the head-on collision of two cars on Highway 17 about 50 miles west of Sudbury.

It was the worst death toll in a Canadian car accident since nine were killed in a head-on collision near Kamsack, Sask., June 22, 1965.

A man and woman from St. Paul, Minn., and two women believed to be sisters from the Elmwood post office district in Wisconsin, were dead in one car.

An Ottawa man, his wife and three children died in the other.

A fourth child of the Ottawa couple, a young girl, survived the crash and was reported in serious condition in hospital at Sudbury.

Police said the Espaonla accident occurred in good weather at a slight curve in the two-lane highway. The collision occurred on the centre-line, they said.

There have been higher road tolls in Canada, but they all involved vehicles larger than cars.

Other accidents with high death tolls:

Terrace, B.C. eight dead, July 31, 1965; Vegreville, Alta., eight dead, April 8, 1966.

Highway 17 in the area of the crash is a two-lane road forming part of the Trans-Canada Highway.

London Bridge May End Up In Carolina

Now he wants to buy the London Bridge.

London is planning to sell the bridge to make way for a new and larger bridge.

King called a friend in London on Friday and asked him to get details.

He figures that if London is willing, the bridge's granite supporting arches can be dismantled and sold there and the railings and other ornamentation can be shipped to North Carolina for reassembly as a tourist attraction.

North Carolina's Yadkin River would be a good place, he said.

In Fresno Negro Shot

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — Police said the Negro director of Fresno's summer anti-poverty program was shot in the arm and thigh Sunday night after a day of sporadic violence involving Negro youths.

Police said Dennis Mathis, 28, who directs a job program, was hit by a bullet fired by a white private patrolman. Police were attempting to learn whether the incident was accidental.

Monaco Royalty Outdraws Queen

OTTAWA (CP)—Prince Rainier and Princess Grace of Monaco drew a traffic-jamming 12,000 spectators to Parliament Hill Sunday for an official welcome opening a two-day visit.

The crowd was the biggest by far in the round of Centennial Year ceremonies for heads of state. With the exception of Queen Elizabeth's appearances, crowds have not exceeded 5,000.

WEATHER SYNOPSIS

Fair weather was reported this morning from southern and central interior while the north coast and the northern half of Vancouver Island reported cloudy conditions with a few showers.

A ridge of high pressure will maintain mainly sunny skies over southern portions of the province today. However, moist air over the north coast is expected to move southeastward over the province Tuesday bringing increasing cloudiness to most of B.C.

Surveyor Landed but Not Softly

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Plans called for Surveyor IV spacecraft to land on the moon—which it did.

But scientists questioned today whether it landed gently, as planned, or went down with a crash. The odds, they said, favor the crash—and Surveyor IV wasn't talking.

"Everything was going as planned—it just didn't go on long enough," scientist Howard Haglund said Sunday night after contact with the craft was lost.

Attempts to contact Surveyor IV were halted at 1:10 a.m., today to be started again at 5:30 p.m. at which time the craft will be over the Goldstone tracking station, 40 miles northwest of Barstow, Calif.

"All we know is that Surveyor IV is on the moon," Haglund, the project manager, added. "We don't know its condition."

The 2,290 - pound craft was heading for what looked to be a perfect textbook landing, officials at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory said.

CONTACT LOST

Then, when it was about seven miles above the moon, all contact was lost.

Controllers went through the normal landing routine, shutting off equipment, trying to test components, but they got no response.

"It will take several hours at least before we can be certain what happened," Haglund said.

"There are many possibilities but one of those uppermost in my mind is that there may have been an explosion in the rocket case just before burnout.

RACE VIOLENCE SPREADS

White Policeman Beaten, Shot Dead

PLAINFIELD, N.J. (AP) — Gunfire flashed through a 14-block Negro district and within sight of police headquarters Sunday on the third night of racial trouble in this suburban city.

A white policeman was shot and died after being beaten and stamped by a Negro gang.

Only occasional gunfire was heard early today.

Twelve persons were hurt, 10 of them shot during what Mayor George Hatfield charged was "planned, open insurrection" in this community, 18 miles southwest of riot-wracked Newark.

Also injured was an attractive blonde who tumbled from a bullet-riddled car at police headquarters crying, "They shot me! They shot me!"

GUARD SUPPORT

National guardsmen and state police moved in to back up local officers reinforced by helmeted patrolmen from neighboring towns.

Governor Richard J. Hughes said he was "shocked and dismayed" by his state's second episode of shooting and death.

Shots echoed through the night, clearly heard at police headquarters. Some came from automatic weapons.

Detective Lieut. Daniel Hennessy said he saw Negroes in a car speed around a corner firing a sub-machine-gun. He said he was atop a roof returning fire.

About 50 firemen and policemen were pinned by shots inside the central fire station for nearly eight hours.

Police mounted rooftops to guard headquarters against any possible hit-and-run raid after the woman was hit in the ankle by one of 17 bullets sprayed into the car in which she and a male companion rode.

"It was really brutal," David Hardy, a Negro reporter for the Plainfield Courier News, said of the attack which took the life of patrolman John Vincent Gleason Jr., who joined Plainfield's police force in 1958, the year his police lieutenant father retired.

Witnesses said Gleason had moved to head off a group of white youths menacing a band of Negroes. He was caught between the two groups.

The white youths ran and Gleason was surrounded by Negro youngsters. Witnesses said he pulled his pistol. A shot was fired and the young man, Bobby Williams, fell.

Another shot felled Gleason and the youngsters swarmed over him, Hardy said. "They beat him and stamped him. He was raising his hand and they just kept kicking him."

Hardy, Negro Councilman Everett Lattimore and two other Negroes guided a white reporter into the troubled area but quickly had to escort him out to avoid trouble. Hardy returned to the scene, then advised: "They're shooting at anything white."

PETTY RUCKUS

Trouble began with looting, aimed mainly at liquor stores, after two nights of lesser violence. Thirty - seven persons were arrested and 17 were hurt Saturay night in a fluryr of rock pitching.

No shots had been reported until Sunday night.

After the policeman's death, shots rattled through the West End of the city, a Negro area of individual houses, apartments and two low - income housing projects. It is not a tenement region nor a slum of the sort which burst into fury in Newark.

SNIPER FIRE SUBDUED

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — New Jersey's largest city had its first night of relative quiet in five violent days Sunday, but gunfire and firebombs mushroomed in nearby Plainfield, where national guardsmen were called in after a white policeman was shot and beaten to death as Negro gangs rampaged.

Trouble also echoed in Jersey City where a group of teenagers was scattered after smashing several windows with rocks and firebombs, and in adjacent East Orange where police arrested three white men for firing from a car at a Negro boy.

Guardsmen stationed on every corner along Newark's ravaged Springfield Ave. reported scattered but considerable subdued sniper fire after dark, and no more of the looting and firebombing that left the Negro shopping area a mass of broken boards and glass.

Three more riot deaths Sunday brought the Newark total to 24. A woman was shot before dawn, a youth died from gunfire while looting a store, and a 12-year-old boy was shot after dark. Governor Richard J. Hughes said some bodies probably still lie undetected on roofs or inside buildings.

More than 1,100 persons have been hurt in the worst racial riot in the United States since Watts in 1956. Property damage estimates soared past $5,000,000.

GARBAGE ROTTING

Hughes said the 11 p.m. curfew throughout the city might be lifted today, and that collection might begin on the piles of garbage starting to rot in the cordoned-off Negro area that covers almost half this city of 400,000.

Hughes said all schools, liquor stores and bars, shut since Friday, will remain closed today.

Three persons were killed Thursday, 11 Friday and seven Saturday. Only two were white, a detective and a fire captain.

The 5,000 guardsmen who searched cars and suspicious persons in the riot area Sunday will stay, Hughes said, until the snipers are isolated and order is restored.

He made no reply to a demand from leaders of three civil rights organizations for the withdrawal of all armed forces as the necessary first step toward law and order.

A pullback, said the leaders of the Congress of Racial Equality, Student Non-Violent Co-ordinating Committee and United Community Corp. at a press conference, would give leaders a chance to reason with Negro militants.

James Hooper, chairman of Newark CORE chapter, said poor housing, overcrowded schools on split sessions and discrimination in the city administration's employment policy were some of the reasons for longstanding resentment in the Negro community.

Mother, Child Killed in Fall

PARADISE, Wash. (AP)—A mother and her four-year-old daughter died Saturday from a fall into an ice tunnel on 14,420-foot Mt. Rainier or from exposure in the freezing temperature in the tunnel.

Mrs. Melvin Louden, 26, of Bremerton, and four-year-old Karen Louden were found Sunday afternoon in the tunnel, caused by snow melting under the surface.

'We May Go Further' Could Be Bomb Halt

LONDON (Reuters)—A report in The Guardian says there is reason to believe the United States has decided to suspend the bombing of North Vietnam.

The report by Victor Zorza, one of the paper's commentators on international affairs, says "some Washington officials, when questioned about the present state of play between the United States and the Soviet Union, put it thus: "On the ABM (anti-ballistic missile) moratorium, the United States has gone as far as it could to meet the Russians. On the Vietnam bombing, we may go further.' "

Zorza adds: "This view has been stated with sufficient authority to suggest that the decision to 'go further' to meet the Russians on the question of bombing has already been taken."

He says it might not be a coincidence that this view was expressed soon after President Johnson's announcement that more troops would be sent to Vietnam.

. . . UN TEAM MOVES IN

The Egyptian government announced it had informed Bull any Israeli attempt to move boats on the Suez Canal would be considered a violation of the ceasefire and Egyptian forces would immediately open fire.

On the Egyptian side of the canal, five UN truce officers and seven assistants were setting up headquarters in a hotel at Ismailia, the midpoint of the 104-mile waterway.

The observer unit on the Israeli side raised the blue-and-white UN flag over a headquarters at El Qantara, and a large Israeli escort took three observers on a tour of the canal to stake out spots for observation posts. The first unit was made up of four officers and seven UN civilian employees.

The Australian leader of the group at El Quantara, Maj. Ronald Skinner, said there would be a gradual buildup of observers along the canal.

The observers moved into the canal area after the third successive weekend of fighting following the June Arab-Israeli war and a new ceasefire worked out Saturday night at UN headquarters in New York.

The Egyptian government said 50 Egyptians were killed and 134 were wounded in the fighting Friday and Saturday and that many were civilians. The Israelis reported eight of their soldiers killed and 42 wounded.

In dogfights over the Suez Canal, Israel said it shot down six Egyptian planes — five MiGs and a Sukhoi-7 fighter-bomber, all Soviet built.

The Egyptians claimed they shot down six Israeli planes. The Israelis and Egyptians admitted only losing one plane each.

The Israeli newspaper Haaretz linked the fighting to Israel's demand for use of the Suez Canal, from which Egypt has barred its ships and cargo bound for Israel since the Jewish state was founded in 1948.

In Jerusalem, Israeli Defence Minister Moshe Dayan by implication raised the threat of an Israeli blockade if Egypt does not lift its ban.

At the moment the canal is blocked by several ships sunk during the war. Egypt says it will do nothing about removing them until Israeli troops give up the territory they seized.

In New York, the emergency session of the General Assembly was a month old today. The Soviet Union, which demanded the session, was trying to prolong it for at least another two days in the hope of negotiating a resolution calling for withdrawal of Israeli troops from Arab territory. But there was no word of progress toward a compomise that could get the two-thirds vote necessary for adoption.

STANFIELD
. . . in Tory race?

Roblin Delay May Bring Stanfield

By VICTOR MACKIE
Times Ottawa Bureau

Premier Robert Stanfield of Nova Scotia may soon declare himself a candidate for the Progressive Conservative national leadership.

Patrick Nowlan (P.C.-Digby-Annapolis-Kings) in Ottawa for one day, today, after travelling around his constituency, said there was a growing feeling in Nova Scotia that the premier would be entering the race.

He said certain moves were afoot this past week that indicated the premier was under pressure to let his name go before the convention.

The failure of Premier Duff Roblin to come out and announce that he will be a candidate for the national leadership has led to "certain prominent people within the party," making representations to Premier Stanfield to run. according to the young Nova Scotia M.P. He said up until ten days ago there had been a feeling that the Maritime premier would not be available.

PICTURE CHANGES

"But there has now been a change. There is a growing belief that Premier Roblin's apparent reluctance to declare himself is changing the picture," said Mr. Nowlan. He said he had encountered a number of Conservatives in Nova Scotia this past week who were confident that Mr. Stanfield would decide to seek the leadership.

He said it had been understood that Premier Stanfield was not going to run because Premier Duff Roblin would be running. But with the Manitoba premier still holding back a number of leading Conservatives were looking elsewhere and turning to Mr. Stanfield.

Admiral Wows Reeve's Daughter

Saturday morning, following the naval parade of Japanese, American and Canadian sailors through Victoria streets, Esquimalt Reeve Ray Bryant introduced his daughter Janine, 5, to Rear-Admiral Seizaburo Hoshino.

It was love at first sight.

Saturday evening at a special reception for civic leaders Rear-Admiral Hoshino called for attention while he made a special presentation.

Reeve Bryant, pleasantly surprised, accepted for his daughter a delicate engraved brooch carrying a flag emblem.

Suddenly I Lost My Memory!

A noted publisher in Chicago reports there is a simple technique for acquiring a powerful memory which can pay you real dividends in both business and social advancement and works like magic to give you added poise, necessary self-confidence and greater popularity.

According to this publisher, many people do not realize how much they could influence others simply by remembering accurately everything they see, hear, or read. Whether in business, at social functions or even in casual conversations with new acquaintances, there are ways in which you can dominate each situation by your ability to remember.

To acquaint the readers of this paper with the easy-to-follow rules for developing skill in remembering anything you choose to remember, the publishers have printed full details of their self-training method in a new booklet "Adventures in Memory," which will be mailed free to anyone who requests it.

NOT PURSUED

Mercenaries Make Stand In Leader's Plantation

KINSHASA, The Congo (AP) White mercenaries and Katangan troops who mutinied against the Congolese government are reported to be holed up in the vast plantation of Maj. Jean Schramme, their Belgian leader, in a tropical rain forest 155 miles southeast of Kisangani.

The mutineers, who seized part of Kisangani July 5, moved out last week, leaving it to the Congolese army. The army did not pursue the mutineers but instead started looting.

Mercenaries and Katangan troops took over Bukavu and Kisangani after news reached them of the kidnapping July 1 in Europe of their former leader, former premier Moise Tshombe. Tshombe now is being held in Algiers, and Congolese President Joseph Mobutu's government is seeking his extradition so it can execute him.

Schramme, about 40, fought for Tshombe during the Katanga secession in 1961 and led a mercenary forces when Tshombe was premier in 1964. A long-time resident of The Congo, he was among the mercenaries who remained with the army after Tshombe was overthrown.

Congolese sources said 20 or so mercenaries who were in Kinsheasa when the mutiny broke out July 5 have been "liquidated," but there was no official confirmation of this.

LACK IDENTITY

Four Belgians and three Frenchmen were presented on Congolese television Sunday as captured mercenaries. But the commentator did not say when or where they had been taken prisoner.

Estimates of the strength of the rebels at Schramme's plantation near Punia ranged between 50 and 180 whites and 200 and 800 Katangans.

As many as 10 Europeans were killed in the fighting in Kisangani, refugees who arrived in Kishasa said. Congolese troops who entered Bukavu after the rebels moved out also killed white civilians in retaliation for the mutiny.

Three U.S. Air Force C—130 transports sent to Mobutu by President Johnson and two Red Cross planes evacuated 330 Europeans and Americans from Kisangani and were continuing to fly supplies into Congo troops.

Tomatoes, Rocks Thrown at Diplomats

PEKING (Reuters) — Two British diplomats were pelted with tomatoes today at the gates of Britain's diplomatic mission here by Chinese demonstrators protesting against the arrest of Chinese newspaper men in Hong Kong.

About 1,000 slogan - chanting demonstrators from the official New China news agency and other Peking newspapers, marched to the mission to present protest petitions.

When two members of the staff of the British charge d'affaires—First Secretary Anthony Blisen and Second Secretary Leonard Appleyard—went to the gates to receive the petitions they were pelted with tomatoes and some stones.

They were not hurt although both returned to the mission with their shirts stained.

What's Good for Kaiser . . .?

THAT THERE IS MUCH MORE to the provincial government's proposal for a super-port at Roberts Bank than the export of coal from the Fernie area to Japan was revealed by Attorney-General Bonner in his latest report on the progress of this mining-transportation project. And with the latest public revelations, the interest of British Columbia's taxpayers, who are being asked to guarantee the financing of part of the development, should be intensified.

The essence of the government's scheme is that coal from the Fernie fields owned by Crows Nest Industries Ltd., a subsidiary of the Kaiser Corporation of Los Angeles, would be shipped via a new rail spur 80 miles south into Montana, where the Great Northern Railroad would carry it through the United States to the coast and then back up to Roberts Bank. Included in the Roberts Bank complex would be an eight-mile rail line through the Boundary Bay area to connect with the Great Northern tracks.

Initially, the scheme appeared to be based on the Japanese export market, but now Mr. Bonner states the viability of the undertaking has been increased by the intention of the Kaiser interests to ship "some" of the Fernie coal through Roberts Bank to its Fontana steel plant near Los Angeles. Prices and costs would be favorably affected by the increased volume of traffic, says the minister.

It thus became clear that the Kaiser Corporation did not buy out Crows Nest Industries solely for the purpose of exporting Canadian coal to Japan. Kaiser is interested in securing coal for its Fontana mill at lower cost than it is paying its present sources in the United States. Construction of the Roberts Bank port complex would enable Kaiser to evade the United States Jones Act and ship by water down the coast to California in low freight rate foreign vessels. If the coal were shipped from Fernie via the Great Northern to a United States west coast port, under the Jones Act it would have to be carried on from there in higher-cost American-registered vessels.

This would be fine for Kaiser but would it be a good deal for the British Columbia taxpayer and for Canada?

Here is what is involved:

—Carriage to the coast of Canadian coal destined for consumption in California would be diverted from the Canadian rail system to a foreign carrier with resultant economic loss to the Canadian system.

—The coal would be brought back into Canada for trans-shipment through a new port to be financed by the government of British Columbia thus enabling Kaiser to benefit from evasion of the Jones Act. Shipment through Vancouver could produce a similar result but Kaiser has indicated lack of interest in such a solution.

—So far as export to Japan is concerned, diversion of Fernie coal to a foreign carrier would prevent the Canadian rail system from maximizing the economic advantage accruing from high volume traffic. Substantial amounts of coal for export to Japan from Coleman, Alberta, just east of Fernie, are already contracted to move via the CPR rail line which passes through Fernie and down to the Port of Vancouver. Combining the movement of Coleman and Fernie coal destined for Japan would have definite economic advantages resulting from increased volume—advantages which would accrue to a Canadian rather than a foreign carrier. Kaiser, it appears, has rejected this possibility.

The proposed Kaiser-Roberts Bank deal hardly seems calculated to have overwhelming appeal for the British Columbia taxpayer concerned with protecting his own—and the Canadian—interest.

Building More Than a Hall

THE ENCOURAGING EFFORTS of Cowichan Indians to create a $75,000 cultural and recreation hall on the outskirts of Duncan has encountered a familiar problem. The money for the project is coming in slowly.

Collections to date have not measured up to expectations, but the leaders of the campaign, whose spokesman is Mr. Abel Joe, are optimistic. They hope to have the structure opened before the end of the year and they see prospects of a steady flow of contributions providing the required funds.

On the surface, the project has much to commend it. This is a centennial gesture by the Cowichans. It is of a nature which should promote not only Indian culture, but also better understanding between the Indian and the non Indian community up-Island. Mr. Joe looks forward to the day when the children of different ethnic origins play together in the quarters and with the facilities planned for the centre. These are all attractive prospects.

The Indian sponsors have invited help from non-Indians and have received a substantial measure of assistance so far. They need more, some of it generated within the band, some of it from other sources.

In a cheering and cheerful surge of generosity, communities and individuals in many parts of Vancouver Island recently made it possible for the children of the Kuper Island school band to go to Expo—a success that has been gratifying to all who made donations and all who assisted in the campaign.

The appeal for support for the Cowichans' cultural hall is different in kind, but invites an equally enthusiastic public reaction. More than construction of buildings is entailed. Achievement of the goal will also build increased assurance in the band members, to their benefit and to the advancement of a better society.

What Else Comes Tumbling Down?

AGE, AN EARTH TREMOR IN 1930, bombs in the last war, vibrations from nearby building activity and a drop in the water table which has weakened foundations have combined to threaten the tall central tower of York Minster, one of the architectural spectacles of northern England.

The graceful, historical edifice is vulnerable now to some destructive forces which it might have withstood easily in earlier years.

It is, however, a completely modern hazard which creates the greatest present anxiety over the maintenance of the spire—the possibility of super-sonic booms from passing aircraft causing the tower to fall.

The concern in York is for the safety of a 700-year-old minster. But the implications of destruction reach further afield. As the aviation industry moves ahead into super-sonic transport, with large aircraft flying routes over populated areas—and taking off as well as landing not far from great cities—the effects of the noise, including the booms, on humans must be given further high-level study. Reports on hand already indicate the harm that can be done to those on the ground. The Dean of York is "terrified of super-sonic bangs" for the sake of his fine old edifice. It could be one of the lesser victims of the new age of noise that is approaching.

Britain Argues Suppression of the News

PRIME Minister Harold Wilson's relations with the British press have dipped sharply as a result of the so-called 'D-Notice Affair.' The prime minister has, in effect, charged the London Daily Express with endangering the security of the country and possibly lives through the publication of an article disclosing that cables and telegrams are routinely collected here for scrutiny by officialdom.

Traynor

The prime minister started off by claiming the story was a breach of two D-notices, circulars sent out by a joint government-press committee asking editors not to print articles on sensitive subjects. When a tribunal of inquiry under Lord Radcliffe found that there was not much substance in the prime minister's charges, Mr. Wilson said the committee was not completely in the picture and that real damage had been done.

Mr. Wilson has also made remarks which have recently led the ex-secretary of the D-notice committee, Col. L. G. Lohan, to claim he is being made the scapegoat. The colonel, who resigned as a result of the affair, says someone is trying to give the impression he leaked the story to the author of the Express article, Chapman Pincher.

Col. Lohan's story smacked strongly of skeletons in closet, and as a result new attention has been focused on the events which led up to the publication of the Express article. The basic facts as well as a good deal of suggestive commentary are set out in the testimony taken by the Radcliffe committee.

Tip-Offs

It seems the cable vetting procedure came to Mr. Pincher's attention five days before it appeared in the Express. Several other papers, including the rival Daily Mail, had been tipped off at the same time.

Col. Lohan's immediate reaction when queried by Mr. Pincher was that the story would not fall under any of the 16 D-notices extant. Subsequently, however, he requested both the Mail and Mr. Pincher not to publish it on security grounds.

There is a strikingly wide divergence of testimony about the way in which this request was put by Col. Lohan, who was nominally neutral as between the press and the government but who was actually closely linked to the civil service.

Whatever transpired, Mr. Pincher concluded, rightly or wrongly, that there was good reason to think the story was not directly covered by D-notices and that Col. Lohan was under strong pressure to suppress it in order to avoid embarrassment to the government.

Mr. Pincher subsequently told his editor that Col. Lohan had not invoked D-notices, and this led directly to the decision to print. Meanwhile, Col. Lohan had persuaded the Daily Mail to hold back.

Comedy of Errors

There followed a comedy of errors in which Foreign Secretary George Brown intervened at the last minute with a phone call to the publisher of the Express, Sir Max Aitken. Mr. Brown spoke of D-notices, and this ultimately persuaded the Express editor to reconsider. But by that time several editions were in print and the other papers had picked up the story.

There is certainly no aroma of conspiracy about the relations between Col. Lohan and Mr. Pincher. On the contrary, their comments about one another were surprisingly snide, considering they purport to be old friends.

Col. Lohan, for instance, charged that Mr. Pincher had his mind set on publication from the outset. Mr. Pincher denied he was perverse or truculent. He claimed it was a clear case of balancing the potential threat to security against the value of the information to the public. The fact that the material did not appear to be directly covered by the relevant D-notices was taken as an indication that the security risk was not great enough to outweigh the importance of informing the public that their cables were subject to government vetting.

As proof of his sincerity he cited instances where he and the Express had suppressed stories for security reasons and this turned out to be a most interesting by-product of the report.

Mr. Pincher claimed, for instance, to have discovered that the main walls of a huge atomic explosive reactor were so defective they might have to be pulled down. Nothing appeared about this until after their repair.

He also claimed to have stayed mum about the "kidnapping" by trainee secret agents of a member of the public instead of a man playing the part of an enemy agent. Disclosure, he said, might have made the British security service appear stupid in the eyes of the Americans.

On another occasion, Mr. Pincher claims to have discovered that a senior guided missile scientist had been a Communist but was being left in his job until he could be quietly transferred to a non-secret post.

Over-all, the D-notice affair squarely raises all the fundamental questions about the relationship of the press to the government. Is it possible clearly to determine what material should be suppressed in the interests of security? Should a free press be party to such suppression at all?

There appears to be a consensus here that the present system, despite its recent breakdown, is worth while and should be further developed. The Radcliffe committee stressed that the final decision whether or not to print must remain firmly in the hands of the editor, but at the same time made a number of recommendations aimed at tightening up the D-notice system. Most of these have been endorsed by the government and some have gained the reluctant approval of the press, but there have been more than a few envious glances at countries without official secrets acts and without any form of formal self-censorship.

Beyond this, there is the question of the propriety of the cable-vetting procedure. Details of the operation remain obscure, but the practice itself is a near relation to wire-tapping, and its widespread occurrence might well be considered cause for unease. Unfortunately, it has tended to be overshadowed by the other aspects of the affair.

There is, finally, the immediate issue of the prime minister's behavior. The tenacity with which he has maintained his position tends to be seen as excessive and, politically, an ill-omen. Critics argue it has not helped security but has created an impression of petty stubbornness. His usage of Col. Lohan has certainly lost him support. The whole affair has been grist to the Conservative mill, and Mr. Heath is grinding away with a vengeance.

Letters

Still Prefers Mike

Re the unfortunate and dreadful war in Vietnam. Your correspondent, Mr. Wrixon, I am quite sure is not a Communist, yet nevertheless, perhaps unwittingly, follows the exact belief and policy in Vietnam as proclaimed by Moscow, Peking and Hanoi.

I think as a Canadian, I prefer the beliefs and policy of Prime Minister Pearson, who, as a holder of the Nobel Peace Prize, has stated freqently Canadian's desire for peace in Vietnam, but not on Communist terms. — M. P. Paine, 3620 Quadra.

Hong Kong Accomplishment

Re a recent editorial: Hong Kong was ceded to Great Britain in 1842 by the Treaty of Nanking, and Kowloon in 1860 by the Peking Convention. My grandfather took part in that latter war.

In 1898 a 99 year lease was obtained of the new territories, which comprise the bulk of the mainland area of the colony.

Canada would also have a hard time maintaining its standards had it doubled its population with refugees in a few years.

At that Hong Kong has not done too badly. Hundreds of thousands of apartments have been built, and in 1963 there were 771,000 at school and the University of Hong Kong had over 1,400 students in arts, science, medicine, engineering and architecture.

Relative to Canada, Hong Kong may be backward but it is miles ahead of any other mainland Asiatic country except possibly Malaya. — J. P. Thornton, 943 Wilmer.

Constabulary Goodwill

I would like to compliment the police officer who, in these days of wars, killings and other horrible things, helped a blind man across the street on the evening of July 16. First, the middle-aged blind man was standing on the corner of Pandora and Blanshard Streets. The poor fellow just could not move. I was watching but we didn't know what to do. The constable stopped his automobile this night at the traffic signal and helped the unfortunate blind man across the street to the constable's auto. We have never seen such good will toward man. —Victoria Citizen.

Children—Collectively

This morning, three distraught grandmothers phoned me about the annual summer visitation of the young from other parts of Canada.

We amused ourselves by thinking of suitable collective nouns. This is our list. Perhaps some of your readers could add to the collection. Of names, that is, not children!

We chose—a babble of babies, a tumble of toddlers, a halo of innocents.

Less enchanted were—a circle of sadists, a shrill of squabblers, a triumph of tale-bearers, a cry of cookie-eaters, an infestation of the not-so-innocent.

The Mosquitoes Puncture the Illusion

THE doubters who scoffed at the propaganda and placed their bets on the mosquitoes and flies in the war between DDT and insects can get ready to pick up all the money and go home. The insects are winning the war hands down and the ranks of the DDT advocates are rapidly being decimated. The federal forestry department has not only turned its back on DDT, it is having sober second thoughts about the wisdom of using any chemical insecticides. Calgary has abandoned DDT in its parks department and no longer uses is to fog golf courses. Edmonton is searching frantically for something better and so are Saskatoon and Regina.

Gray

Only Winnipeg, where the countryside for miles around is fog-drenched periodically for mosquitoes, seems still committed to the unrestrained use of DDT.

It is just 20 years ago that DDT caught the public fancy as the greatest boon to come out of the wartime chemical revolution. It, we were told, would free the world from flies and other insects in one easy application. It was sold by the five-gallon can and sloshed into everything. It was sprayed into dairy barns, squirted around kitchens from aerosol bombs and was even mixed with house paint to provide permanent shields of protection.

Alas, it was all just another advertising copy-writer's pipe dream. Resistant strains of bugs developed to replace those killed off. Because they were immune to DDT, which had replaced a lot of moderately effective but selective insecticides, the bugs became more pestiferous.

It was discovered, moreover, that DDT could be dangerous to humans and fatal in overdoses to fish and birds. Concerned naturalists began to write and speak against it. Biologists joined in. Meanwhile, back in the laboratories, the chemists shook up their test tubes in an effort to find new chemicals that would overcome the steadily increasing insect immunity.

In Edmonton, this spring, spokesmen for naturalist organizations demanded that the city stop fogging up the countryside with DDT. The only defence offered for the use of DDT was that it was cheaper than other chemicals and would allay complaints of the citizens about mosquitoes. Meanwhile, experiments are being rushed on several new formulations.

The notion that places like Winnipeg and Edmonton can be freed from mosquitoes by fogging the surrounding countryside is regarded by some scientists as sheer illusion, regardless of the material used.

An official involved in fogging golf courses said the ground cloud they apply never completely frees the course of mosquitoes. It only persuades the members the management is on its toes on their behalf. They see the fog machine at work and stop blaming the bugs for their bad game.

Another scientist scoffed at the whole fogging business. Most city residents, he said, raise their own mosquitoes. The insects lay their eggs wherever there is a bit of stagnant water. He named eavestroughs, tin cans in open trash barrels, sewer catch basins, wheelbarrows, and indentations in streets and lanes as favorite depositories.

The mosquito, like the house fly, is as much an accoutrement of urban living as the common sparrow. Street and freeway construction often dams up natural drainage channels to create superb mosquito hatcheries. The more we eat out of cans, the more bottles and cartons we scatter around, the more mosquitoes there will be.

More Effective

Tidier living habits, he said, would be a lot more effective than fogging machines. But the best method of all was the one that Winnipeg pioneered 50 years ago—go out and spray the surface of stagnant water with an oil slick and kill the insects when they hatch.

Unhappily, for this advice, there has been a rapid increase in the number of stagnant pools all over the west. The comparatively wet years we have been having produced bumper crops of grain and gave us thousands of new mosquito hatcheries as an added dividend. Caught up on the strong winds, the swarms of country-bred mosquitoes are cascaded into the cities and towns by the millions.

The rapidly spreading disenchantment with DDT (dichloro-diphenyl-trichlorethane) is leading biologists away from the whole range of petroleum based compounds. They are concerned by the build-up of chlorinated hydro-carbon residue in plant and animal life. They are turning to the organic-phosphates which have a short residual life.

Nothing equal to the early potency of DDT has yet been developed, though there are many compounds now being used which give signs of being moderately effective. Meanwhile, more and more gardeners are reverting to Black Leaf 40, derris dust, rotenone, pyrethrum and the other plant guards devised several generations ago.

New Democrats Bent a Bit As New Guard Took Over

By GEOFFREY STEVENS
The Globe and Mail

Andrew Brewin, the stocky, emphatic member of Parliament for Greenwood, was on the platform in the Canadian Room of the Royal York Hotel, telling his party in unmistakable terms the hour of power was approaching and it was no time to rock the boat.

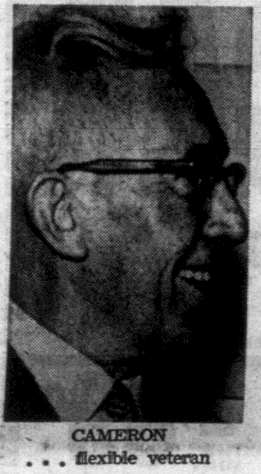
At the same moment, in the press room a few steps down the hall, Dr. Morton Shulman, deposed Metro chief coroner and champion political boat-rocker, was announcing his decision to join the NDP and stand as a candidate in the next Ontario election.

Dr. Shulman's announcement brought unexpected life to an otherwise unexciting and confusing political convention. Two hours later, he stood on the platform waving to the crowd and basking in the shouts of young New Democrats — "Power now. Power now. Power now . . ."

Within minutes, the NDP's fourth national convention was over, the room cleared to make way for the Gideons International and NDP delegates clustered in the lobby, trying to assess what had happened to their party.

Something had happened. But it was something that defied precise analysis by politicians and political observers. Power had shifted subtly into new hands — not enough power to take over the party, but enough to make the leadership sit up and take note. There was no split, but the party probably bent a little.

There was little agreement among delegates on basic questions — where the membership of the old guard stopped and the new began, where the groups differed in policy and how much power each controlled. Some members of the so-called ginger group felt a new order had been established. Others contended they had failed, that the old guard had been too firmly in control of the convention to be dislodged.

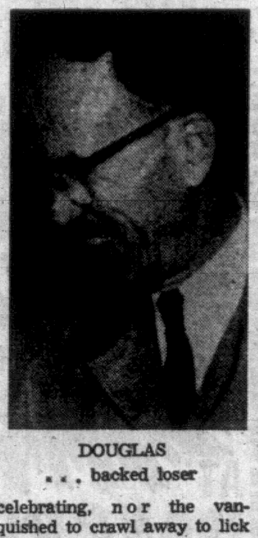


CAMERON
. . . flexible veteran

The only clear confrontation came in the election of the national president. It pitted James Renwick, 49, a corporation lawyer-turned-provincial politician, against John Brockelbank, 70, a farmer whose socialism had been molded by 18 years in the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation Government of Saskatchewan.

Mr. Renwick was the new guard candidate, nominated by Ontario MPP Stephen Lewis and supported by dozens of other young, sophisticated, experienced politicians, men with little use for dogmatic socialism. Mr. Brockelbank had the support of the established party leadership, from federal leader T. C. Douglas and deputy leader David Lewis, Stephen's father, on down.

Mr. Renwick scored a stunning victory, but is was not strictly a victory of one segment of the party over another. Unlike Dalton Camp's triumph over Arthur Maloney at last fall's Conservative conference the victors did not feel constrained to sit up all night celebrating, nor the vanquished to crawl away to lick their wounds.



DOUGLAS
. . . backed loser

There was remarkably little bitterness. Even David Lewis was able with unquestioned sincerity to praise Mr. Renwick as a fine man who would make an outstanding president and who would enlist the support of the entire party.

The presidential contest was in part a victory of the younger generation over the older, but only in part. Most members of the ginger group were young, but included in their number were such veterans as Colin Cameron, a 70-year-old MP who has mellowed since his days as a flaming left-winger, and Max Saltsman, 42, MP and owner of a Waterloo dry-cleaning establishment who has emerged as one of the party's leading economic thinkers.

Real Difference

The real difference between the old guard and the new lies in the apporach to problems, rather than age or policy.

Members of the new guard described their movement in a variety of terms — New Radicalism, New Pragmatism, Radical Pragmatism and Pragmatic Radicalism, among others. They seemed to like the sensation of rolling these terms arounds their tongues.

A favorite phrase — used to describe the goal of the NR, NP, RP, or PR — is participatory democracy. By this they mean a break with the old bureaucratic socialism to give the people the deciding voice in all areas of life.

They would democratize the grass roots, and extend party institutions, starting at democracy throughout the political system and into social and economic spheres.

They have little use for such traditional Socialist standbuys as nationalization. They regard nationalization as a tool of government, but not an important tool. Government intervention in the economy is as important to the new guard as the old, but the new favors more modern, sophisticated methods. They would regulate business through fiscal policies and use investment policies — including the NDP's proposed Canadian Capital Resources Fund — to enable the government to direct public and private investment into channels deemed most advantageous for the country and its citizens.

The 12-point program for Canadian independence, adopted by the convention on Tuesday, is an achievement of the new guard.

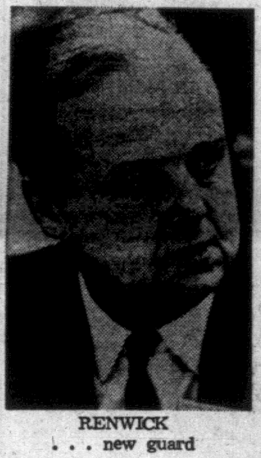
It is designed to curb U.S. influence in Canadian domestic and international affairs by using large-scale government intervention in the economy to offset the influence exerted by U.S. ownership and control.

Something for All

The program was approved by a massive majority because it offered something for all sections of the party. Anti-Americans took heart because they saw in the policy a means of curtailing U.S. investment influence.

The program, drafted by new guardsmen Cameron and Saltsman, deliberately avoided any reference to nationalization, but the terms were broad enough to permit old-line Socialists to read nationalization into the public ownership clauses. Only a small, radical group was sufficiently concerned to make an abortive bid to have nationalization specified in the program.

For the new guard, the policy meant neither anti-Americanism nor nationalization. They were enthusiastic because it embodied the economic tools they favor. And they felt it steered clear of anti-Americanism because it is directed against all corporate influence, foreign or domestic. To this group, massive economic power is equally repugnant in the hands of Canadian corporations as in the hands of U.S. companies.



RENWICK
. . . new guard

New guardsmen were disturbed by anti-American overtones in Mr. Douglas' speech at the opening session of the convention on Monday. The following day, Mr. Cameron lashed out at the leader in a CBC interview.

"He . . . has been given no opportunity to rethink his position on things because of the absolutely insane programs they (the party) put up for him. He's running back and forth across the country. The man's just exhausted."

Referring to Mr. Douglas' remarks on U.S. investment in Canada, Mr. Cameron added:

"I would suggest to you Tommy has the gift of enthusing an audience on almost any proposition he likes to put forward. They don't examine it very much and there is a latent anti-Americanism and a sort of emotional release accentuated by the profound distrust or even hatred so many of us have for American policy in Southeast Asia."

Mr. Douglas was furious at Mr. Cameron and wasted little time in making his anger known to the British Columbia MP.

David Lewis called Mr. Cameron's comments irresponsible and said there was no truth to the accusation that Mr. Douglas was kept too busy to keep up with new ideas.

The dispute died almost as quickly as it blew up and by the end of the convention delegates were too busy trying to jam too much policy discussion into too little time to worry about passing battles.

During the four-day convention, they approved, in addition to the Canadian independence program, policies covering international affairs, agriculture, labor, consumer affairs and the cost of living, taxation, federal-provincial relations, individual and collective rights and the status of women.

The international affairs debate produced an angry confrontation over Vietnam before the convention crushed a revolt by a small band of radicals who wanted the convention to take a strong anti-U.S. line. The resolution adopted by the convention was similar in tone to one adopted in 1965 and stopped short of demanding immediate withdrawal of U.S. forces.

Strange Omissions

In line with its efforts to enlist votes in Quebec, the party re-affirmed its support for special status for the province.

Perhaps the most remarkable thing about the convention was what it did not get around to doing.

When the 861 registered delegates arrived they were handed a 42-page printed booklet and a handful of mimeographed sheets crammed with about 400 resolutions.

But organization turned to disorganization almost as soon as the convention opened and resolutions never reached the floor.

In the rush to get out of the Canadian room before the Gideons arrived, there was no time to consider party policy on resources, regional development, transportation, housing, education and science and technology.

Most surprising, there was no time to discuss social welfare — long the main plank of the NDP. A resolution calling on the government to establish a guaranteed annual income for all Canadians sat neglected on the order paper throughout the convention.

No one, least of all the new guard, seemed particularly concerned about the omission. For them economic nationalism — or independence, as the party calls it — is the issue of the future.

'Cream of Crop' Lost by Israel During Conflict

By YUVAL ELIZUR

JERUSALEM — Fewer than 700 Israelis died in the six-day war in June, not more than one holiday weekend traffic toll in the United States and less than 5 per cent of the fatalities which Israel's enemies in the war, Egypt, Jordan and Syria, admitted.

Yet most Israelis believe that the price was high. It was perhaps more than the country can afford.

For one thing, for the less than two and a half million Israelis the loss means the same as if 60,000 Americans were killed within one week. Moreover, those killed by no means represent a cross section of the population. Hardest hit was Israel's military, economic and cultural elite and their loss will no doubt be felt in years to come.

Officers Lead

The figures show that of those killed no less than 23 per cent were officers as compared with the average of one officer per 10 men killed in other armies. One combat brigade lost 30 of its officers out of a total of 55 killed. The Israeli casualty list includes 12 lieutenant colonels and one colonel.

The high proportion of officers among those killed is a result of the Israeli combat theory which believes that officers should call on their men to "follow me" rather than send them into battle and stay behind.

While this practice often means that units lose their most valuable men, Israelis believe that this loss is more than compensated by the higher morale and efficiency of the combat teams. Another reason why Israeli losses represented mainly "the cream of the crop" was that in the short lightning war the main brunt of the fighting was borne by select units such as the air force, the paratroopers and the armored corps.

Simple casualty figures also do not reveal the high proportion of kibbutz members among those killed. Although only 5 per cent of Israel's population are members of kibbutzim (collective agricultural settlements) their share in command posts of fighting units is much higher. Second and third generation kubbutz members are especially prominent among Israeli fighter pilots. These young men were called by the air force commander General Mordecai Hod, himself born in a kibbutz, "our secret weapon."

Most Reservists

The toll among them during the recent fighting was among the highest.

Another aspect of Israel's casualty figures is their reflection in Israel's cultural and economic life. Since the Israel army is a civilian army the majority of those killed were reservists called up for the war.

Thus no less than five of those killed were on the academic staff of the Hebrew University which also lost about 20 of its students. The Haifa technical Institute lost, among others, a promising professor of soil mechanics and a senior lecturer in electronics. Many of those killed were also high school teachers, doctors and engineers.

Moshe Habib, a prominent Tel Aviv lawyer and leader in Moshe Dayan's Rafi party, was killed as a major in a tank unit on the Syrian front. At least one of those killed was born at the end of the Second World War in a Nazi concentration camp.

Frightening Total

Israel's year-long war of independence 19 years ago cost Israel 6,600 dead. The 10-day Sinai campaign 11 years ago resulted in more than 400 dead. In between these wars hardly a month passed in which Israel did not lose some of her men in mining incidents, ambushes or border skirmishes. Thus casualties of the six-day war can be added to the frightening cumulative costs of war in the Holy Land.

THE GALLUP POLL

Public More Concerned Over Our Development

By The Canadian Institute of Public Opinion)

There is a decrease in public confidence, over the past seven years, that this nation is progressing and developing as soundly as it should be.

In 1960, nearly six in ten people (56%) felt Canada was developing satisfactorily. Today that ratio has dropped to less than five in ten—48%. Conversely, more persons today (32%) feel our country's progress has not been as sound as it should have been. In 1960 only a quarter of the voters (25%) felt this way.

Quebecers (57%) show the most optimism about Canada's sound growth. The people from Ontario, on the other hand, are more critical. Forty-six per cent say Canada's development has been sound; 44% say it has not been sound.

The question: "Generally speaking, do you think Canada's development as a nation is as sound as it might be, or do you think there is some way in which it isn't sound?"

	1960	Today
Sound	56%	48%
Not sound	25	32

AUSTRALIANS DON'T AGREE

Should Judges Have Right To Decide Proper Attire?

The Vancouver Sun
(An Editorial)

The premier and attorney-general of South Australia, Don Dunstan, has sided with his state's chief justice, Dr. J. J. Bray, in a controversy with another judge about the right of Australia's youth to wear their hair long.

"They can wear it down to their knees if they want to," says Mr. Dunstan. In saying so he had struck a considerable blow against modern society's pressure upon the individual to conform. And in a vitally important place: the courtroom.

There's more involved in this question than the mere right of persons to appear in court "dressed according to their fancy," as one hostile Australian judge has expressed it. It is questionable, of course, if anything in the judges' rules gives the bench the right to prescribe the proper dress for participants in trials (apart from these in custody who have to come as they are anyway). There's certainly nothing in law.

But the important thing is that if dress or manners or what else are to be subject to regulation of judges, even in court, it is time a free society said whoa! and began to take a sharp look.

There's a place here for a reminiscence about the persecutions which met men in the United States in the early part of the 19th century when a few hardy soils pioneered the beard after some generations of smooth male faces.

This was a manifestation of the often-times hysterical reaction of a community to what's strange, or what implies change.

There may be some hint of this in the extreme sentence of three months assessed in England against Mick Jagger, the Rolling Stone leader, for being in illegal possession of a benzedrine type drug.

Mr. Jagger's case differed from that of other individuals charged with him, one for possession of heroin. The evidence against him was that he had bought the drug, a rather mild one, in Italy — which was perfectly legal — and had it in his possession in England without a prescription — which was illegal.

This, as The Times pointed out, could happen to anyone, including the Archbishop of Canterbury. The question asked by The Times, as by other responsible publications and individuals in England, is whether there are no sociological implications in the matter.

"There are," says the newspaper, "many people who take a primitive view of the matter, what might be called a pre-legal view . . . They consider that Mr. Jagger has 'got what was coming to him.' They resent the anarchic quality of the Rolling Stones' performances, dislike their songs, dislike their influence on teen-agers and broadly suspect them of decadence."

If the inferences suggested here are correct, Mr. Jagger received his sentence less for having four forbidden pills on him than because an older generation sought an unconscious revenge. The disturbing feature seems present in the Australian case also. However, in Australia the forces of social conformism are weaker — as it should be in Canada or any other country that strives to think young.

Israel Plans Alternative To Suez

ELATH, Israel — Israel is pouring millions of dollars into this sweltering little Red Sea port to build a rival trade route to the Suez Canal.

The Israelis want to build a dry Suez to their Mediterranean ports with a railway, a major highway and an oil pipeline system through the Negev Desert.

They estimate that through the port they are carving out of rock and sand they could funnel at least 3,000,000 to 4,000,000 tons of general cargo, 2,000,000 tons of bulk cargo and 20,000,000 tons of oil every year to Europe.

Two things stand in the way: the reluctance of Western shipping lines to use Elath because of fears of blacklisting by Arab countries, and lack of financial security.

But the port project could have the biggest impact on Israel's economy.

Elath has a natural deep-water harbor which allows ships to discharge or load cargo at the dock.

Israeli experts argue that unloading oil at Elath and pumping it overland for shipment to Europe would reduce its cost to Europeans. Before the recent Arab-Israeli war and the blocking of the Suez Canal, Egypt charged $1 a ton for oil passing through the canal. Israeli experts say piping the oil across the Negev would cut charges 50 to 65 per cent.

VANCOUVER SINGER BREAKS INTO MOVIES

Once Sang Here, Now in Hollywood

By NORMAN CRIBBENS
Times Movie Reviewer

HOLLYWOOD — A young Vancouver singer, who has visited Victoria many times, is playing opposite dainty Petula Clark in the Irish musical whimsy Finian's Rainbow.

Don Francks, talented actor, singer and dancer, has appeared in many CBC television shows and National Film Board documentaries and is now impersonating Woody Mahoney — the fellow who follows a dream in Finian's Rainbow.

English singer Petula Clark is making her Hollywood debut as a pert, bright-eyed colleen and her screen father is the famed Fred Astaire, cast as a nimble-witted, nimble-footed Irishman in red underwear.

I watched these delightful people filming a woodland scene on the Warner Brothers lot. It was shot nine times in all and I was impressed by the good-humored teamwork of cast and crew.

A hot afternoon sun scorched through the overhanging trees and we all perspired. The trees were loaded with concealed mocrophones, but the rustic effect was spoiled only by the heavy cables connecting the cameras with the powerhouse — about a quarter-mile away.

The woodland scene called for 103-pound Petula Clark to drop daintily out of a tree onto the back of Don Francks and, perhaps because he once worked in a Vancouver iron foundry, he never even tottered.

The sound men played back recordings of songs they had made in the studio two weeks before. Miss Clark and Mr. Francks mouthed the words while dancing and skipping in the glen, so that on the screens they will appear to be singing into the cameras.

Born in Vancouver, Mr. Francks attended Beaconsfield elementary and Britannia High. He worked for Vancouver's Little Theatre and sang in Victoria with a travelling theatre company around 1959.

"I painted scenery, moved props and played all kinds of roles," he said. "It was all good experience."

Earlier, at 17, he dropped out of school to become a merchant seaman and sailed to many lands. Returning to Vancouver two years later, he worked as foundryman in a mill but played The Cave and other entertainment spots at night.

Mr. Francks first came to Hollywood to play a pilot in War Birds with Basil Rathbone and Hoagy Carmichael. Then he took a test for The Living Doll TV series, but lost out to Robert Cummings.

Born near the famous Epsom racecourse, Petula Clark won fame as a child entertainer in England and made her first phonograph record when she was 17.

"This is my first big break in Hollywood," she smiled, "and I'm trying to make the most of it."

Finian's Rainbow is being directed by 28-year-old Francis Ford Coppola, who received a master of arts degree at the University of California a few months ago. His background is both literary and musical.

Tommy Steele, who has a top comedy role in the film, came from London, England, to play in the Broadway musical Half a Sixpence. He has since appeared in Walt Disney's The Happiest Millionaire, to be shown in Victoria soon.

"As a kid I always admired Fred Astaire," he said, "but never dreamed I'd ever play in a movie with him."

Said Mr. Astaire, still very lively in the middle 60s:

"I feel like a grandfather among all these bright young things. But they're a good crowd and they keep me on my toes."

Very much so, judging from his dancing in Finian's Rainbow.

FOR NATO

Multi-Nation Force To Roam Sea Lanes

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The NATO military committee has recommended a multi-national naval force for the North Atlantic Alliance, Pentagon sources say.

The small force, numbering perhaps a half-dozen destroyers or other warships, would be somewhat similar to a NATO brigade-size mobile land force in existence for almost six years.

The proposal includes forming a more or less permanent NATO naval element, with a commander rotated periodically among the participating nations.

The United States was understood to be non-committal on the idea, even though the proposal was reported to have been suggested by U.S. Admiral Thomas Moorer.

Sources said Moorer acted in his capacity as Supreme Allied Commander Atlantic, a job he will leave soon to become chief of naval operations, heading the U.S. Navy.

The NATO military committee, which considered the idea and recommended it in principle, is made up of senior military officers of the member nations.

The NATO navies have co-operated previously in anti-submarine warfare and other exercises.

The main reason for a multi-national force would be to have a NATO naval presence, though small, ready to move in an emergency and — perhaps equally important — demonstate solidarity and unity among the sometimes differing allies.

The land force, called the Allied Command Europe Mobile Force, has conducted multi-national manoeuvres on the northern Scandinavian and southern Greek and Turkish flanks of the NATO perimeter.

CONDUCTED TEST

There has been one experiment in multi-national naval activity under NATO.

This involved the staffing of a U.S. destroyer, The Ricketts, with sailors from a number of NATO navies to find out how they would work and live together.

The idea was dropped. However, U.S. naval officers said the Ricketts experiment showed a multi - national crew could function efficiently.

LYING ON BEACHES

Secret Mini-Mine No Longer Secret

FORT WALTON BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Secrecy surrounding a new "mini-mine" being developed by the U.S. military went up in little puffs of smoke Sunday.

Several hundred U.S. servicemen were ordered into the area to gather up the bomblets along some 120 miles of beach.

A cannister loaded with the brownish disks was reported to have been dropped accidentally into Chocktawhatchee Bay along the Florida Panhandle. The disks are the size of a quarter with knobs protruding from each side.

When squeezed or stepped on they explode with the force of a large firecracker.

AIMED FOR VIETNAM

The secret device, being developed for use in Vietnam as alarms against sneak attack, became unsecret when Donald Spinelli of Ford Walton Beach found one.

Spinelli, 24, was treated for eye and hand injuries after he tried to pull one apart with his fingers and it exploded.

Military spokesmen said the explosion would be painful, but would not mutilate a hand or foot. The spokesman said security on the devices had been "sensitive."

In an official release the air force said the objects were "termed dangerous." A spokesman said they had been dropped under "emergency conditions," but would not elaborate.

However, a civilian official in the area said the accident was caused by "a pilot taking off in the wrong plane."

Many of an estimated 10,000 Sunday bathers were asked to leave the beaches. A plane with loudspeaker circled the beaches broadcasting a warning.

The explosives were to be scattered around military posts in combat areas in hopes the detonation would warn of anyone trying to sneak into the areas.

During the search the servicemen found a 260 - pound fragmentation bomb on the beach. Ordnance crews were called to remove it.

Annual Pilgrimage

PRINCE ALBERT (CP) — About 9,000 persons, including visitors from the four western provinces, joined in the annual pilgrimage during the weekend to the shrine of Our Lady of Lourdes, 40 miles south of here. The shrine, built in 1871 by Rev. Alex Andre in memory of his brother, later was reported to have been the site of miraculous cures.

Stoppage Looms In Post Offices

OTTAWA (CP)—The possibility of a one-day work stoppage in post offices across Canada loomed today as the latest development in the federal government's dispute with a postal union over the Dominion Day holiday.

The 12,000-member Canadian Union of Postal Workers announced it is asking its 300 locals to call meetings to vote on these courses of action:

1. Withdrawal of co-operation in working future statutory holidays.

2. A one-day work stoppage to be instituted at the termination of the union's present memorandum of agreement with the government which expires July 31, 1967.

The dispute arose when the government refused to give some 2,500 postal employees—and certain other federal employees as well—whose scheduled day off fell on Monday, July 3, an additional day off or extra pay because of the Dominion Day holiday.

These employees worked a normal five - day week, while most government employees worked only four.

The federal employment practice is to grant employees an additional day off when a statutory holiday falls on a weekend. However, the policy is less clear when an employee's scheduled day off falls on the "extra" day, following a holiday weeken.

The CUPW met government officials on the question early last week but could reach no agreement. The 10,000-member Letter Carriers Union of Canada, also affected' plans a further meeting with government officials.

Bill Kay, CUPW president, told a reporter the problem could be resolved by the government agreeing to give those involved a day off or a day's pay.

Special-delivery letters will go to union locals today. Results are not expected to be announced until August.

WHO ARE THOSE MEN IN GREEN?

MONTREAL (CP) — Expo security guards today refused entry to the site to a special detachment of the Royal 22nd Regiment that raises the giant flag at the Canadian pavilion every morning.

The incident occurred shorthly after 8 a.m. when the 26-man detail arrived at the Place d'Acceil main entrance gate.

A Canadian pavilion spokesman said the troops, wearing the new trial green uniform, were refused entry "because some of them did not have their passes in the uniforms they were wearing."

The flag is raised each Monday at 10 a.m. by the soldiers.

The pavilion spokesman said the flag was raised this morning by RCMP officers and Expo security guards.

Bennett Says B.C., Quebec Binding Forces in Canada

MONTREAL (CP) — British Columbia and Quebec were described Saturday as vital binding forces in Confederation by Premier W. A. C. Bennett.

At Expo 67 to preside over British Columbia Day at the fair, the premier said:

"If B.C. and Quebec were to separate from Canada the country would fall apart. "These two provinces are tremendously important to Canada."

Speaking at a press conference, the premier said B.C. had wholeheartedly taken part in Centennial celebrations although B.C. was not part of Canada 100 years ago.

"We had a Centennial celebration in 1958, at which we had Princess Margaret, which celebrated B.C.'s 100 years of existence.

"In 1971 we will hold celebrations to celebrate 100 years of B.C. existence inside Confederation.

Mr. Bennett said B.C. was the first province to declare participation in Expo 70, the Japanese world's fair to be held at Osaka in 1970.

"British Columbia faces on the Pacific rim the great impact of Asia," he said. "We do a large amount of trade with Asia, especially Japan, and all we have to give our Japanese friends is our word that we will participate."

He said B.C. would have its own pavilion at Expo 70 and it would be a mixture of government and private enterprise participation.

"Our province has the greatest per capita average wage level in Canada and we are the number one banner province. We don't look on private enterprise as filthy lucre."

He believed in a unified Canada "but not uniformity."

Treaties should be the responsibility of the national government, although B.C. has been consulted in connection with the Columbia River Treaty.

Earlier Saturday he said Expo had demonstrated that there is "in our nation an unlimited capacity for excellence."

Viet Conference

BANGKOK (AP) — Thai Premier Thanom Kittikachorn said today the seven allied countries fighting the Communists in South Vietnam may hold a summit conference in October with Bangkok as the probable site. Speaking at his weekly press conference Thanom said Bangkok has not been definitely confirmed as the site for a conference.

Our beauty.

Will it spoil the Volkswagen image?

A beautiful Volkswagen.

All these years we've been telling you about the ugly bug.

And now, the snazzy Fastback Sedan.

But don't let its good looks fool you.

When you really come down to it, it's still a Volkswagen.

The engine is still in the rear and it's still air-cooled.

It's just as easy to replace parts. (It still takes 10 bolts to bolt on a new fender.)

And it's just as easy on gas as any other Volkswagen. The Fastback averages 32 miles on a gallon of gas. (Which is pretty beautiful itself.) And while we were making the Fastback Sedan good looking, we were also making it bigger.

It's got a trunk in the front where most cars have their motors. And a trunk in the back where most Volkswagens have their motors. (In case you're wondering where we put the motor, well, it's neatly tucked underneath the trunk in the rear.)

The Fastback's also got a little more room for passengers than the Beetle. And that room has been decorated a little more nicely.

Will a Volkswagen like this change our image?

We doubt it.

~~Not the world's most beautiful car.~~

TODAY'S GRAIN PRICES

WINNIPEG (CP)—Flax, rapeseed and rye markets showed brisk rallying tendencies in fairly active trade on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today.

The advances were caused by moisture and deterioration in most areas of the Prairie grain belt. These reports stimulated some buying and overseas support in flax and rapeseed.

Rapeseed was also helped by firmer soybean prices in Chicago.

Oats and barley trade disclosed a few domestic orders associated with feed supply.

CHICAGO (AP)—Wheat and rye futures, influenced by lack of moisture in the northern United States and Canada, advanced 3 to 4 cents a bushel on the Chicago board of trade today.

A reported lack of moisture in Canada that might seriously affect the rye and wheat crops this year strengthened prices on the exchange around mid-session. Prices gained strength as the session wore on.

Car Output Up

OTTAWA (CP) — Canadian plants turned out 75,941 cars and 24,985 commercial vehicles in June, an over-all increase of 9.9 per cent over the same month of 1966, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported today.

Scholarship Program Asked

DETROIT (UPI) — The United Auto Workers asked the auto makers today to set up joint company-union scholarship programs for workers and their children.

The scholarship request was one of eight "position papers" handed to General Motors Corp. as the UAW finished its presentation of 39 such papers.

The latest demands were relatively minor and their delivery opened the way for bargainers to begin discussion of major UAW demands which compose the most expensive list of proposals in the history of auto industry labor negotiations.

The UAW's militancy, backed by a $65 million strike fund, combined with an apparent hardening attitude by the companies to raise the spectre of a possible strike when the contracts expire in September.

Department Store Sales Show Gain

OTTAWA (CP) — Department store sales during the week ended June 24 were up 10 per cent from the same week of 1966, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics has reported.

Percentage increases by region: Atlantic 16.1; Quebec 10.9; Ontario 11.2; Saskatchewan 8.5; Alberta 9.9; British Columbia 13.9, Manitoba was down 16.1 per cent.

$ EXCHANGE

VICTORIA — Banks buying cheques at 7¼ premium, notes 7⅜ premium and silver 5⅜. Selling cheques at 8¼ premium, notes 8⅜ premium.

MONTREAL (CP)—United States dollar in terms of Canadian funds was unchanged at $1.07 27/32. Pound sterling was down 1/16 at $3.00⅝.

NEW YORK (CP) — Canadian dollar up 1/64 at 92 47/64 in terms of U.S. funds. Pound sterling down 3/32 at $2.78 49/64.

Plastic Industry Expanding Fast

HALIFAX (CP) — The plastics industry in Nova Scotia is geared for a rapidly expanding market with the construction of two new plants this year.

Newest company to enter the field is Chester Plastics Ltd., which in March announced plans to build and equip a $500,000 plant for the manufacture of small plastic containers for cosmetics and allied industries.

The parent company, owned by Charles Nemeskeri of Vienna, Austria, already has markets in Western Europe, United States, Australia and South America.

The new plant, financed under an agreement with Industrial Estates Ltd., Nova Scotia's industry promoting corporation, also qualifies for a grant under the federal government's area development program. The plant is expected to employ 25 to 39 persons.

BEGIN CONSTRUCTION

Earlier this year, Union Carbide Canada Ltd., began construction on a seven-acre site in Amherst. The $500,000 plant will manufacture plastic film products such as packaging bags, industrial shipping bags, bread wrap and construction film.

Raw polyethylene, a chemically produced synthetic resin, will be shipped to the plant by rail from the company's Montreal east plant.

One of the first persons to realize the potential of plastics in Nova Scotia was Gordon Alguire, president and general manager of Plastics Maritime Ltd., a Halifax-based company incorporated in 1946.

Mr. Alquire is optimistic about the future of the plastics industry in the Atlantic provinces as he is about the future of the plastics industry generally.

Plastics reinforced with glass fibre are being used increasingly and several Nova Scotia companies are taking advantage of what some describe as a new breakthrough in engineering technology.

DISTRIBUTE MATERIALS

Guildfords Ltd., of Dartmouth, N.S., specializes in the manufacture and distribution of insulation and building construction materials. It makes a variety of reinforced plastic products.

Another Dartmough company, Starr Manufacturing Ltd., steel producers since 1864, opened a plastic pipe division in 1956.

The company's range of plastic pipe is finding wider uses and has revolutionized water system in rural areas of the Atlantic provinces.

In the not too distant future, the company expects it will manufacture more plastic products than steel for the first time in its history.

MARKET SUMMARIES

White Pass Up $1

White Pass and Yukon rose $1 to $18 to lead the industrials in pre-noon trading on Vancouver Stock Exchange today.

The mining section was generally strong. Peso put on .07 to reach a new high of $1.45, Artic was .07 better at $1.24 and Western Explorations gained .04 to .32 on 91,000 shares.

Losses, however, went to Brenda, down .15 to $5.50, and Texmont, off .06 to .92.

In the oils, Plains was once again a heavy trader and gained .01 to .70 on 120,000 shares.

AT NEW YORK rail shares weathered the news of a U.S. rail strike and moved higher on balance as the over-all stock market continued an advance late today. Trading was active. Volume for the first four hours was 7,690,000 shares compared with 7,860,000 for the like period Friday.

While some copper stocks reacted to the strike in the copper industry a number of non-ferrous metal companies advanced on news of the removal of the government ceiling on the price of silver. Steels resumed their advance of Friday. Rubbers advanced. Autos were higher on balance, with Chrysler up more than 2.

Atlas Corp. paced the list on activity and gained a fraction. American Smelting, Homestake and Alcoa rose a point or more. Gains of around a point or better were made by U.S. Steel, Bethlehem, Republic Steel and Jones and Laughlin. Goodrich and Uniroyal advanced more than a point each.

Among Canadians, Granby Mining gained ½ and Massey-Ferguson ⅛. International Nickel was off ⅞, Alcan ⅜ and Distillers Deagrams ¼.

AT TORONTO western oils made a strong advance in generally light mid-afternoon trading.

Dome gained 2⅞ to 64⅝, Scurry-Rainbow 1 to 47 and Husky and Hudson's Bay ¼ each to 18 and 39½.

Mobil Oil Corp., Shell Oil Co. and Texaco Inc. of the U.S., which increased their Canadian imports to refineries on the Pacific coast by 35,000 barrels per day in June, have raised their July purchases by 30,000 barrels per day.

Trans Mountain Oil Pipe Line rose ½ to a 1967 high of 21½ following news that it plans to augment facilities on its line from Edmonton to Vancouver and Anacortes, Washington, to supplement the present line which is operating at capacity.

Among industrials, R. L. Crain advanced 1¾ to 52, B.C. Forest 1 to 20 and Shop and Save ¾ to 13½. Anthes A moved ahead ½ to 27¾ after the company announced record six-month earnings for the period ended June 30, 1967.

Uraniums moved ahead by small fractions with Rio Algom and Denison up ½ each to 34½ and 69¾ and Roman Corp. ¼ to 19¼.

AT MONTREAL the market seemed jumpy and indecisive towards 2 p.m. as stocks moved in both directions.

Dome Pete jumped 2¼ points to 65. CIL advanced ⅜ to 20 and IAC, Labatt and Trans-Mountain Pipe Line ½ each to 22, 27½, respectively.

B.C. Forest added ½ at 19⅝ and MacMillan-Bloedel ⅜ at 29⅛ among the better papers.

International Nickel lost 1¼ points to 106¼ and Hudson Bay Mining one point to 63. Hollinger slid ¾ to 26½ and CPR ⅝ to 70½. Canada Cement, Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce and Fraser Paper were all down ½ at 38, 64⅜ and 22 respectively.

Glen Lake Silver was up 30 cents at $2.50 on the Canadian exchange.

AT LONDON equity shares looked firm, the main feature being the considerable activity in nationalization steels after the government broker announced prices at which he would buy.

Elsewhere, it was left to special features among industrial shares to provide most of the gains and leaders were inclined to move lower.

Dollar stocks were dull on balance although sentiment was helped by a recovery in the dollar premium, which had opened lower. Noranda was firmer and Canadian Pacific to 58¼ had extended an early gain. International Nickel was off the bottom at 226½.

Trans Canada Pipe was easier but other price movements among Canadian shares were insignificant. Canadian banks lacked interest.

ICI, Dunlop, Beechams, Tubes and GEC were a shade off, but Bowater and Reed were firm. Tobaccos added a few pence.

France Hints Co-Operation On Credit Plan

By HAROLD MORRISON

LONDON (CP)—France today hinted it is ready to co-operate in the development of additional forms of international credit to oil the expanding wheels of world trade.

The hint came from French Finance Minister Michel Debre as finance ministers and central bankers from the 10 wealthiest countries opened two days of talks. They are discussing a contingency plan for additional financing facilities should the need arise.

Debre said in a statement that the development of new drawing rights within the International Monetary Fund — a form of automatic borrowing power—would seem sound and constructive "if their characteristics are defined with caution."

Debre made no fresh demands for an increase in the official price of gold, thus indicating a readiness to consider a compromise plan to expand credit facilities through other means. The United States has consistently stated it will not boost the gold price fixed at $35 U.S. an ounce since 1934.

EXPAND CONCESSIONS

Debre's statement, issued just before the talks opened in Lancaster House, gave other hints of compromise when it said that various schemes for expanding world credit or liquidity "have become more realistic since last year."

Many of the ministers were reported worried as the talks opened whether France would co-operate in developing a new contingency plan, or whether it would raise last - minute obstacles. Whatever plan emerges will be placed before the monetary fund conference at Rio de Janeiro next fall.

Reports from Brussels, headquarters of the European Common Market, suggested France will yield reluctantly to the idea of developing a contingency plan for a new form of currency or borrowing power under the watchful eye of the International Monetary Fund, with the Common Market exercising veto power over the new "liquidity" operation.

Finance Minister Mitchell Sharp, accompanied by Louis Rasminsky, governor of the Bank of Canada, said in an interview that he would agree to a Common Market veto. After all, a lot of French and German currencies or credit might be required in the new operation which would be in addition to the monetary fund's current $20,000,000,000 lending authority.

FUNCTION FREELY

Sharp also said that Canada would like to see the new credit or currency facilities operate as free of restrictive conditions as possible. Canada would be in favor of either a new form of reserve asset — almost the same of an international currency—or drawing rights which would be an automatic right of one member country to borrow the required currencies of another country within certain rules and limitations.

Britain is one of the countries which has been pressing hard for some additional unrestricted credit or cash facilities to meet temporary international payments deficits without bringing in monetary fund "snoopers."

These inspectors can demand a country impose severe belt-tightening as the price for providing short - term monetary fund credit to bridge deficits.

An automatic right to call on the currencies of other countries, within certain limits, would allow such countries as Britain to maintain an even flow of foreign spending in the hope that the deficit problem would soon be overcome and replaced by a foreign payments surplus.

The finance ministers and bankers from the so - called "group of ten" have been working on the monetary expansion idea for about four years without achieving much progress. France and Germany, which, in the past, have built up big surpluses in their international transactions, have maintained that increased and unrestricted credit would merely lead borrowers to continue loose living.

FORESEE SHORTAGE

The 10 countries, which cover Europe, North America and Japan, generally agree there is no current lack of liquidity or credit to finance world trade but a number of them, including Canada, see the possibility of a shortage in future years.

Rasminsky has stated that production of newly-mined gold, which provides part of the world credit, will fall sharply below the expansion of world trade. In addition, the excess sterling and American dollars floating around the world as a result of Anglo - American international deficits, will start to dry up as both countries make further attempts to reduce these deficits.

Indeed, it is the refusal of France and some other countries to hold American dollars in their official reserves and demand American gold in exchange that has led the U.S. to impose restrictive measures that have been partly responsible for current unsettled conditions.

Drop Estimated In Cominco Profits

MONTREAL (CP) — Cominco Ltd. has reported in its interim statement that estimated net earnings of the company and all its subsidiaries for the first half of 1967 are $21,100,000 or $1.26 a share, compared with $26,900,000 or $1.61 in the same period last year.

Sales were $114,800,000 against $121,700,000.

The figures include those of Pine Point Mines Ltd.

The company said the reduction in earnings is the reflection of a cyclical decline in the market prices of lead and zinc.

New Japanese Cars Infiltrate Rhodesia

By JOHN WORRALL
The Manchester Guardian

SALISBURY, Rhodesia — A steady stream of new Japanese cars is coming into Rhodesia by devious routes to fill the gap left by the closure through sanctions of the Ford and British Motor Co. assembly plants.

No special publicity has been given to the Japanese drive, but no special attempts have been made to hide it. Cars are on the mandatory sanction list.

Motorists using the road from Port Beira, in Portuguese Mozambique, say they often see convoys of new cars and trucks arriving at Salisbury and Bulawayo after dark. New Japanese autos are seen everywhere in Salisbury and Bulawayo, indicating that Japanese activity is considerable.

Dealers in Japanese cars say they are sold before they arrive. Those which get to showrooms are soon snapped up and there are big waiting lists. One dealer who used to sell British cars—and still advertises them in his showroom — displays Japanese cars exclusively.

Dealers naturally will not talk about transit arrangements but it is understood that cars are coming from Japan via "another country." It is also believed that a dribble of English cars is coming from South Africa by road.

The Rhodesian minister of commerce and industry, Bernard Mussett, said British Prime Minister Harold Wilson's denial in the House of Commons that other countries were taking over Britain's former trade connections with Rhodesia "cannot be reconciled with facts."

Mussett said that as Rhodesia's exports had increased, and Britain had imposed an embargo on exports to Rhodesia, it was difficult to understand his statement.

U.K. Facing Another Crisis

By LOUIS NEVIN

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Wilson's Labor government has just completed 1,000 days in power, with its cherished social-welfare program in jeopardy and the pound sterling in danger.

Wilson began his second 1,000 days Friday with a statement that his regime is preparing "the next advance in the social services."

Later that same day his government agreed to a treasury demand to cut government spending by £500,000,000 ($1,500,000,000) by the end of 1970. Officials agreed the bulk of the cuts must come from social services spending.

Just a year after last July's grave financial crisis, the national economy was again in trouble with demands increasing for devaluation of the pound, a move Wilson had steadfastly rejected.

On Friday also, the board of trade announced another big foreign-trade deficit, which it said was caused by economic difficuties in the United States and West Germany. During the first six months this year the trade deficit has averaged £21,000,000 ($63,000,000 a month.

The respected Financial Times commented: "A small deficit this year is now a distinct possibility."

But this was the year the government had promised that Britain's balance of payments — the difference between spending and earning abroad — would move into a substantial surplus after five years of deficits. The Times commented:

"There is stagnation at home, a payments pattern which does not give much hope and consistently high imports. To enter a new expansionary round without quickly inviting another sterling crisis seems wishful thinking under such conditions."

A year of strict controls of increases of prices and wages has just ended and brought unemployment to the politically dangerous level of almost 2.5 per cent of the working population. The protests of leftwing Labor MPs are becoming more strident.

A move has begun within the trade unions to force the 150 members of Parliament who owe their election directly to trade-union support to heed union appeals for an end to the government's austerity program. A number of government ministers, including Foreign Secretary George Brown, are union-sponsored.

The Middle East oil crisis was a further blow to Wilson's efforts to get the economy out of the red. Authoritative economists estimate that it will cost Britain's balance of payments $560,000,000 in higher freight costs, higher oil prices and loss of trade with Arab countries which have severed relations with Britain.

Wilson told a reporter:

"There has not been time to carry through to completion the great revolution in industry that would be needed to make Britain capable of expansion without running into balance of payments difficuties."

In his view, after the first period of near-insolvency, his administration has reached "the middle phase, the refit, the restructuring of industry, the preparation of the next advance in the social services."

Sales Lower, Profits Higher

VANCOUVER (CP) — British Columbia Sugar Refinery Ltd. has reported higher earnings but smaller sales for the six-month period ending March 31.

The company's semi-annual report showed sales fell $300,000 while net profit rose from $1,169,000 to $1,224,000.

In the report the company declared quarterly dividends of 25 cents on preferred shares and 35 cents on common shares payable July 31 to shareholders of record July 7.

England welcomes home the Hon. John Gilbey

Arriving home after another International Tour, the Hon. John Gilbey remarks on the excellent standards of Gilbey's London Dry in Canada. And Gilbey's International Quality Controller announces that he will now compare the English Gilbey's with its overseas brother:

"My gin has been the best gin in the world for no less than 110 years," says the Hon. John Gilbey. "In Canada, for example, I have found that Gilbey's London Dry perfectly matches the original English standard. So now I intend to compare our English product with it."

Next time you see Gilbey's famous frosty bottle, remember the Hon. John Gilbey and his job as Gilbey's International Quality Controller. When you see the gin with the perfect balance for mixed drinks, bear in mind his proud words: "This is my gin! For no less than 110 years it has carried my family's name. Gilbey's London Dry is the gin with the perfect balance for mixed drinks. And I shall make sure it stays that way."

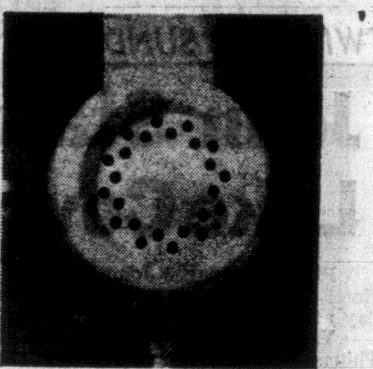
Salesman-of-the-year



The secret of making a business grow is, in most cases, quite simple—win more and more customers spread over a wider and wider area. Nothing helps you find them, sell them, satisfy them and re-sell them so quickly and economically as the skilled use of your telephone. Here are just a few profit-making ideas.

Call for Orders

Head office sales staff follow up leads, arrange demonstrations, solicit orders and maintain contact with established customers by a carefully planned routine of Long Distance calls.

Think of the convenience! He has his customers at his fingertips and keeps right up with their requirements. Cost is negligible compared with operating local offices.

Finally, this dealer also lists a ZENITH number in key centres like Nanaimo, Kamloops and Prince George. It enables customers and prospects there to call him without cost to themselves—another valuable business-builder!

Salesman on the Wing

This salesman is on a trip through his company's market area, extending from Vancouver to the Lakehead. One of the most useful things he carries is his B.C. TEL Long Distance Credit Card.

This enables him to make Long Distance calls from anywhere. He uses it constantly to confirm appointments at his next stopover and contact inconveniently located accounts.

He also keeps in daily touch, of course, with head office: reporting on progress; channelling orders, queries and complaints for fast action; collecting fresh leads as he flies from point to point.

His periodic "swing through the territory" is quite an expensive item of overhead. Long Distance ensures, at minimum cost, that his company gets every last cent of value from it.

"Touring" by Phone

This busy Sales Manager, "tours" his area in a morning—with B.C. TEL's Sequence Calling service.

He simply gives the operator the list of Long Distance numbers he wants. She gets them for him in the right order and at the intervals most convenient for his other work.

He holds regular Conference Calls, too, with his company's three other offices in Calgary, Winnipeg and Toronto—all four of them on the line together, talking and listening as though they were in the same room.

There's no end to the profit-making uses of properly planned Long Distance calling. Ask one of our experienced Communication Experts to explain some of the possibilities for your business—naturally without obligation. Contact him TODAY.

SKRIEN SUMS UP CAMP . . . 'HARD WORK'

"They worked."

In those words coach Dave Skrien Saturday summed up the B.C. Lions' training camp at Royal Roads.

After 14 days of hard work the Lions packed their three tons of gear and headed home for two exhibition games and the 16-game Canadian Football League schedule.

Klass Plans Suit

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — Jack Klass of Woodland Hills, Calif., will seek a court injunction to stop play in the $17,500 ladies open golf tournament at London this week if officials refuse the entry of his 10-year-old daughter, Beverly.

Play in the Ladies' Professional Golf Association event at Sunningdale Golf Club starting Wednesday is restricted to players 16 and over.

"I hope the tournament director (Joe Winter) takes a neutral position on this matter . . . otherwise I'll seek an injunction to stop the tournament," Mr. Klass said in an interview Sunday night.

Mr. Klass and his daughter arrived in London Sunday.

"I was told at Sunningdale that the age limit was set out in last year's entry, basically to prohibit amateurs from getting into the tournament for the sake of having fathers say that their daughter played against girls like Mickey Wright or Kathy Whitworth and so on.

"I feel in my own mind that this age rule was not intended for the pros, regardless of their age."

Painful Finish to 100-Mile Grind

Getting attention for cramps in legs is Victoria cyclist Alan Jones, who fell from bike as muscles cramped after he finished third in annual 100-mile race for Gary Lund Memorial Trophy. Only two seconds separated first three riders as Joe Hailey (inset) of Vancouver, beat Seattle's Bob Haye and Jones across finish line at Portage Inlet after covering route from Qualicum in 4:29:30. Next three finishers, in order, were Andy Newland, Portland; Steve Hall, Vancouver, and Mike Akerley, Portland.

RACING ROUNDUP

Gallant Native Diver In Millionaire Class

Damascus turned back the bid of lightly regarded Favorable Turn in the home stretch and won the $83,350 Dwyer Handicap at New York's Aqueduct race track Saturday.

Under top weight of 128 pounds, Damascus carried the silks of Mrs. Edith Bancroft over the sloppy 1¼ miles in 2:03 for his seventh victory in 10 outings this year.

With Bill Shoemaker using his whip liberally through the final one quarter mile, the son of Sword Dancer-Kerala hit the finish line three-quarters of a length in front of Herbert Allen's surprising Favorable Turn.

As the strong choice of the crowd of 44,551, Damascus paid $3, $2.80 and $2.40.

Favorable Turn, running his best race of the year with Ron Turcotte, a native of Grand Falls, N.B., in the saddle, returned $11.20 and $6.20 while Blasting Charge paid $4.40 for show.

For his victory in this 50th running of the Dwyer, Damascus earned $54,177 and ran his 1967 bank account to $457,069.50.

Native Diver captured the $162,100 Hollywood Gold handicap for an unprecedented third straight year, easily defeating the heavily favored Pretense in a wire-to-wire run at Inglewood, Calif.

The eight-year-old California gelding drew thunderous applause from the 52,000 or more fans packed into Hollywood Park for this 28th running of the classic.

Pretense came on to challenge in the stretch but Jockey Johnny Sellers couldn't overhaul Native Diver, ridden by his regular jockey, Jerry Lambert.

The triumph sent owner L. K. Shapiro's Native Diver into the millionaire class — $1,002,850 with the winner's purse of $112,000 in the Gold Cup.

The time for the 1¼ miles was 1:58 4-5.

Native Diver, second and sentimental favorite, paid $11.60, $2.80 and $2.10 and Pretense $2.20 and $2.10 and Biggs $2.10.

Hobeau Farm's Handsome Boy, capably ridden by Jacinto Vasquez, scored a 2½-length victory in the $112,400 Amory L. Haskell Handicap at Monmouth Park in Oceanport, N.J.

The four-year-old son of Beau Gar covered 1¼ miles in 2:02 over a sloppy track before a crowd of 29,476.

The winner paid $8.80, $4.80 and $4. Amberoid paid $3.60 and $3.20, while Good Knight returned $5.60.

The victory netted Handsome Boy $73,060 to boost his season's earnings to $116,570.

The victory was worth $32,900 to the Wheatley Stable as Stupendous covered the mile in 1:35 under his top weight of 119 pounds.

The winner paid $4.20, $3.20 and $2.40. The entry of Bold Tactics and Francis U. returned $4.20 and $2.80 and R. Thomas paid $3 to show. Francis U. was fourth.

Sooke Raps Century Inn

Sooke Forest Products continued its domination over the Stuffy McGinnis Softball League Sunday by pounding out an 8-4 victory over second-place Century Inn.

Tim Gowdy led the way for the winners with a home run and a single. Tom Sloan and Bob Maxwell each tagged a triple and a single, while Ben Price doubled and singled.

Hillside 66 downed Bottle Exchange, 7-2, in another Sunday game.

STEELERS START WORK; ACQUIRE TWO PLAYERS

Victoria Steelers have shifted their pre-season tryout camp from Royal Athletic Park to Topaz Park, manager Bill Bowes announced today.

Workouts will begin tonight and will be held nightly at 6:30 p.m. until the Continental Football League club moves to Athletic Park on August 7 to prepare for exhibition games and the league opening on August 26.

Steelers will play two pre-season games at Athletic Park, against Seattle Rangers (August 12) and Seattle Cavaliers (August 19).

Bowes also announced the signing of two more players—flanker Stan Sherman and halfback Julius "Whitey" Tuss, both from Calgary.

John Starches Lake Cowichan

Yankoski didn't plan to pitch the doubleheader. Things just worked out that way.

The steady righthander fanned 10 and didn't walk a batter to hold Lake Cowichan to two runs on six hits while his ball club pounded out an 11-2 win in the opener.

Second baseman Jim Leard smacked a triple and two singles, driving home four runs, to lead the winners at the plate.

King's manager, short on pitching, took the mound again in the third inning of the second contest when starter Wayne Peters proved ineffective.

Once again Yankoski refused to walk a batter, guiding King's to a 10-6 victory. Leard collected two hits in the second contest, Brian Grexton stroked a double and two singles, Dennis Thompson singled and doubled to drive home three runs.

Saturday, George Hemming hurled an impressive four-hit shutout as Greaves waltzed to a 7-0 victory over King's Hotel. Jerry Lister and Dave Rivers each collected two hits and drove home two runs for the winners.

Rawlings' George Brice looked effective while stifling league leading Transports 10-2 in another Saturday contest. Manager Herb Wetherell singled twice and drove in four runs for the winners. Barry Cosier tripled off the left field wall to notch his 16th run batted in of the season as Rawlings pulled within a half game of second-place Greaves.

STONE SHAKES GLENN

Derek Stone drilled a clutch three-bagger off Luckies' Glenn Langsett with the bases loaded in the bottom of the sixth to break up a scoreless pitchers' duel Sunday.

Stone's two-out blast cleared the bases and enabled Colony Inn's Bob Labelle to post a 3-0 upset victory in the first game of a Central Park double-header against the Senior Men's Softball League leaders.

Labelle fired a slick three-hitter to earn the win. He fanned six, walked just two and set Luckies down in order in four games.

Langsett matched Labelle's scoreless effort for five innings before running into trouble in the sixth. Two walks and a single by Gary Bishop loaded the bases with two out to set up first baseman Stone's game-winning triple.

Gil Makes Magic; Cubs Sock Giants

Hodges' Solons Win 7th in Row

Two weeks ago, Leo Durocher and Chicago Cubs had baseball's miracle market cornered.

Hodges' Washington Senators, campaigning for a place in the sun after 20 dark years n the American League depths, reeled off their seventh successive victory Sunday, trimming Cleveland Indians 4-1 behind Ken McMullen, a .238 hitter, and Bob Humphreys, a nondescript relief pitcher making his second start in two seasons.

Elsewhere, Minnesota Twins swept a doubleheader from California Angels, 5-1 and 7-6, and climbed within one-half game of the first place Chicago White Sox, who split a twin bill with Kansas City. The Athletics won the nightcap 7-0 after bowing 5-1 in the first game. Baltimore Orioles edged New York Yankees 2-1 in 14 innings and Boston Red Sox drubbed Detroit Tigers 9-5.

OFF RELIEF

Humphreys, opening on the mound after 30 relief appearances this year, blanked the Indians on three hits before giving way to Bob Priddy in the seventh inning. McMullen walloped a pair of homers—his seventh and eighth of the season—as Washington matched its record winning string as an AL expansion club.

"I'm really worked up about this streak," said Hodges, who inherited a 10th place team halfway through the 1963 season, piloted the Senators to a ninth place finish in 1964 and has brought them in eighth the last two years.

The victory left the Senators a half game behind Baltimore's struggling 1966 champs and within 4½ lengths of the first division. The last time a Washington club finished in the top half of the AL was 1946, when the old Senators wound up fourth in an eight-team circuit.

LUSTY PINCH HIT

Bob Allison pinch hit a three-run homer for Minnesota in the first game and smacked a two-run seventh-inning shot that tied the nightcap 6-6 before Rich Rollins' leadoff homer in the ninth completed the Twins' sweep.

Dave Boswell stopped the Angels on four hits in the first game and reliever Al Worthington was the nightcap winner.

Southpaw Paul Lindblad earned KC a split at Chicago by firing a three-hitter in his first complete game of the year. The White Sox took the opener behind first-time starter Wilbur Wood.

ERNIE BANKS

Chicago's Banks On Homer Binge

Ed Kranepool had a hot time in St. Louis while Ernie Banks played it cool in San Francisco.

And the swinging times had by these two first basemen Sunday were too much for St. Louis Cardinals, who saw their National League lead cut to two games over second-place Chicago Cubs.

"I had a real cold spell after the All-Star break," said Kranepool after he turned hot with a pair of two-run homers to lead New York Mets to a doubleheader sweep of the Cardinals, 2-1 and 8-5.

The 36-year-old Banks, who likes to play in San Francisco because "the cool weather here seems to give older players a boost," hit a three-run homer and a two-run shot to help the Cubs beat the Giants 9-0 and 3-2.

NO HOMER SWING?

In other NL games Sunday, Atlanta Braves edged Pittsburgh Pirates 2-1, Philadelphia Phillies trounced Cincinnati Reds 8-0 and Houston Astros swept Los Angeles Dodgers 4-1 and 8-2.

"Fifteen homers for me is a good year because I don't have that kind of swing for home runs," said Kranepool, who connected with Tommy Davis on base in the seventh inning for his sixth homer to give the Mets their first-game victory.

Kranepool singled in a run and then unloaded again with Davis on during a five-run burst in the fifth inning of the nightcap.

ADOLFO CLINCHES IT

Banks sent a ball all the way over the fence with two aboard in the first inning of the opener and then did it again with a man on in the second inning of the nightcap.

The Cubs had no trouble in the first game, Adolfo Phillips clinching it with a grand slam home run in the sixth, but they had a real fight in the second game.

Bank's homer was the only hit off Ron Herbel until Don Kessinger singled to lead off the ninth with the score tied 2-2. Glenn Becker forced Kessinger, but Billy Williams singled Becker to third from where he scored on Ron Santo's sacrifice fly off reliever Frank Linzy.

Double M Murders Hotelmen

Morrison Motors used five home runs to bury King's Hotel, 9-1 and 20-2, in Junior Men's Softball League doubleheader Sunday at Centennial Park.

Ken Bate allowed just three hits while pitching the 9-1 victory in the first game. Doug Gregory hit a three-run homer. Darrel Cairns clouted a two-run circuit blast. Rich Kitto tagged Morrisons' third home run of the contest.

Muzz Smith drove home six runs with two three-run homers as Morrisons routed King's in the second game.

TRIO MEETS NEW HAZARD

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Golfers at Lincoln Park course reported a new kind of hazard on the fifth fairway.

A threesome told police that a man came up to them, pulled a gun, and robbed them of $77. Henry Martinez, 36; Perry Hardwick, 38, and Charlie Howard, 40, admitted that they were off their game the rest of the round.

Mawhinney Wins

CHILLIWACK (CP) — Bill Mawhinney of Chilliwack, 1950 Canadian Amateur champion, defeated Bert Ticehurst of Vancouver after two sudden-death holes Sunday and won the Chilliwack Open golf tournament.

U.S. STRONG FOR PAN-AM

'WHO'S GOING TO STOP US?' ASKS 'CORNY' WARMARDAM

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—"This team will do very well in Winnipeg, even without some good sprinters. Who's going to stop us?"

That was the appraisal today by head coach Cornelius (Dutch) Warmardam of the United States track and field squad heading soon for the fifth Pan-American Games at Winnipeg, July 23-Aug. 5.

"There weren't any real disappointments in the trials—just some upsets, like Jim Grelle failing to make it in the 1,500 metres."

Despite the absence of sprinters Tommie Smith, Charlie Greene and Jim Hines and miler Jim Ryun, this may be the strongest track array the U.S. has sent into the Pan-Am Games.

During the weekend trials, existing Pan-Am records were handily surpassed in 13 of the 17 men's events and in six of the nine women's events.

Most noteworthy was a world record-matching performance by Southern California's Earl McCullough, who Sunday won the 110-metre high hurdles in 13.2.

McCulloch whipped National AAU champion Willie Davenport by four yards as he equalled the world mark set by Germany's Martin Lauer in 1959 and matched by the USA's Lee Calhoun in 1960.

The 30-year-old Grelle, pegged the best Pan-Am 1,500 metre fill-in for Ryun, was elbowed out of a berth by Tom Von Ruden and Sam Bair, both clocked in the modest time of 3:49.8.

Probably the world's two best vaulters will be in Winnipeg—Southern California's Paul Wilson, claimant to a world mark of a 17-8, and current world record holder Bob Seagren 17-5½.

ROWING TROPHY TO SHAWNIGAN

MOLESEY, England (CP) — A rowing crew from the Shawnigan Lake, B.C., school won the Molesey Challenge Cup Saturday in second division races at the Centenary regatta here.

The Shawnigan eight defeated Maiden Head Rowing Club and Midland Bank Rowing Club in the heats to enter the final. In the hard-fought final, the British Columbia school defeated the Kingston Rowing Club by four feet to take the cup.

The school's senior crew won their first heat in the junior-senior eights by defeating Poplar and Backwall clubs but bowed by half a length to Quintin rowing club in the semi-finals.

Shawnigan has private races against Westminster School and Eton College Tuesday and Wednesday and is entered in the Bedford regatta next weekend.

The crew later goes to Copenhagen for an international race and to Ratzeburg, West Germany for the European championships.

Wakeham Rings Bell And Bells Ring Here

By DOUG PEDEN

It was late Saturday afternoon when the telephone jingled and the operator announced a long-distance call from Toronto.

"You asked me to call if I won anything," said the voice at the other end.

Bill Wakeham couldn't hide the excitement in his voice as he explained what had been guessed as soon as the operator mentioned Toronto.

He had just scored his biggest professional tee triumph, capturing the Ontario Open at the Islington Golf and Country Club and becoming the first pro in four years to win the event.

If victory and the $1,200 first prize weren't enough to excite the 26-year-old Victorian, the dramatic manner of his win would have done the trick.

Trailing Cooksville, Ont., amateur Ben Kern by one stroke starting the last hole of the 54-hole tourney, Wakeham stroked an 18-foot putt into the cup for a birdie to tie Kern at 208 and force a sudden-death playoff.

On the first extra hole, a 376-yarder, Bill smacked a 245-yard drive down the fairway, rammed a nine iron shot six feet from the flag and dropped the putt for a birdie while Kern had to settle for a par and second place.

In third place was another amateur, Gary Cowan of Kitchener, who finished at 210, one strok ahead of veteran Ontario pros Moe Norman and Jerry Magee.

Wakeham and Kern, who started the last round tied with Norman at 139, each fired a one-under-par 69 Saturday and were the only players below par for the distance.

'PUTTED REAL WELL'

Away to a slow start Saturday, Wakeham stroked some remarkable shots around the greens as he rebounded for the victory that gave him a berth in the $200,000 Carling World Open at Woodbridge, Ont., in September.

Three strokes behind Norman after five holes, Bill dropped a 20-foot birdie putt on the sixth, chipped 18 feet for a bird on the 10th, canned a 17-foot birdie putt on the 12th, then used three putts on both the 15th and 16th greens before rebounding with his crucial putt on the 18th.

"I've been very pleased with my game," said Wakeham, who also collected a gold watch and a $400 expense cheque for the World Open. "I might have won the Quebec Open (he finished sixth) except for one bad hole.

"The greens were very good here and I putted real well today. In fact, I had it going all week and I just hope I can continue to hit the ball in the same way."

Wakeham, who has won $1,862 in prize money since leaving Victoria a month ago, plays this week in the Manitoba Open at Winnipeg.

Junior Anglers Await Annual Salmon Derby

Youthful anglers have only six more days to wait until their big event of the summer at Saanich Inlet.

Coming up next Sunday is the annual junior salmon derby staged by the Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association. The derby, running from 6 a.m. until 12 noon, is open to all boys and girls 16 years of age and under.

Although club trophies can be won only by junior members of the VSIAA, all contestants will be eligible for the flock of derby prizes and all will be invited to share in the consumption of soft drinks and ice cream.

Salmon, which must be of legal size (12 inches from nose to vee of tail) or larger, may be weighed in at Hall's, Anglers-Anchorage, Gilbert's and Brentwood boathouses.

Rocks Crack Losing Skein

COQUITLAM—Coquitlam Adanacs have one comforting thought as they prepare to take another shot at the top berth in the Inter-City Lacrosse League Tuesday night at Vancouver.

They won't have to look at Doug Thompson.

Continuing to fill in for injured goalie Barry Forbes, Thompson all but slammed the door on the Adanacs in the final two periods here Saturday night, enabling Victoria Shamrocks to scamper to a 10-5 triumph and bounce back into a first-place deadlock with Vancouver.

Thompson blocked nine of 12 shots in the opening period as the clubs battled to a 3-3 sawoff and then permitted only one tally in each of the last two sessions while stopping a total of 15 drives.

While Doug's work was the major reason the Rocks were able to end a losing streak at four games, there were other notable contributions to the Irish success — hustle, teamwork and the shooting of Ted Liebiech, who fired three goals.

Ranjit Dillon and Bill Munroe each zipped two shots past Coquitlam goalie Joe Comeau, who was able to block only 20 of 30 shots fired at his cage.

Adanac ace Mike Gates collected two goals and an assist to maintain his league scoring lead.

Shamrocks, who tangle with New Westminster in Victoria Wednesday night, won't be sharing first place after Coquitlam and Vancouver finish Tuesday's battle.

Beaten in the final by Trail last year, the host Victoria League tonight starts another attempt to win the provincial Babe Ruth League baseball championship.

Victoria tangles with Vancouver Fraserview tonight at 6 as the week-long, seven-team tournament opens at Royal Athletic Park.

Play continues Tuesday with Trail facing Saanich Evening Optiimsts at 2 p.m. and Vancouver Intercommunity meeting Vancouver Capilano at 6.

Games will be played at 2 and 6 each day, with the final round next Sunday.

Saanich Bounces Back To Grab Island Crown

DUNCAN — Saanich Evening Optimist all-stars lost their first game in the Vancouver Island Babe Ruth League (13-year-old division) baseball tournament here Saturday and then bounced back to win the championship.

Optimists bombed Gordon Head Cosmopolitans 20-1 in the deciding game as pitcher Fred King held the Cosmos to three hits and Nick Hay drove in five runs with three consecutive triples.

Cosmos, who had lost their first game in the double-loss, elimination tourney and then won three in a row, made it four straight as they pummelled Optimists 19-6 earlier in the day to force an extra game.

DRIVER LIVES

Drag Racer Flips Over At 186 mph

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — A drag racer travelling about 185 miles an hour flipped over after the decelerating parachute failed to open and critically injured the driver Sunday.

Johnson had hit 189 m.p.h. over the quarter-mile long dragway seconds before the accident during time trials of the Texas fuel championships.

ROSS RAMBLES TO CLEAR WIN

Don Ross captured the John Hart Trophy in the 23rd annual Vancouver Island Seniors' Golf Association two-day tournament as he finished the 36 holes with 152 for an 11-stroke edge over Larry McCooey and D. M. Hogarth, who tied for second.

Ray Spouse (net 143) won the W. and J. Wilson (handicap) Trophy, Gorge Vale golfers won the team title and John MacMillan tied John Carlow for first place in a par contest.

Munn Ninth In Lilac Open

SPOKANE — Ken Still of Tacoma fired a two-under-par 69 Sunday and won the Lilac City Open golf tournament with a 72-hole total of 266, 18 under par.

Still collected $1,000 as he finished seven strokes ahead of amateur Maholn Moe of Spokane and professional Boots Porterfield, who were tied at 273.

Vancouver pro Dick Munn, who fired an opening round 62, finished in ninth place at 278 and won $425.

"Why don't you pick one up and celebrate some time?"

Your first Volvo
will get you out from under car payments
for life
Your Second Volvo
will give you a bank account
Your third Volvo
will put one of your kids through two years of college. Clothes and all.

No, we're not pulling your leg. We're merely doing simple mathematics. Like this:

First Volvo. Drive it six years. That gives you three years to pay for it, three years to make payments to yourself after you've paid for it.

Second Volvo. Take the payments you've made to yourself and pay cash for the second Volvo. Drive it six years and continue making payments to yourself during that time. (At, say, $80 a month for six years you'll end up with a nice round $6,000.)

Third Volvo. Take some of that $6,000 and pay cash for your third Volvo too. (You'll still have about $3,000 left.) Continue making payments to yourself for six more years. You now have nearly $9,000. Enough for college, and your fourth Volvo. And you can take it from here.

Will it actually work? It will if you want it to. Will Volvos actually hold up for six years? In Sweden Volvos hold up an average of 11 years. In Sweden there are no speed limits on the highways; there are over 70,000 miles of unpaved roads.

See a nearby Volvo dealer. He can have a Volvo Canadian in your garage tomorrow. It's the only genuine do-it-yourself money-making machine we know of that the Government doesn't frown upon.

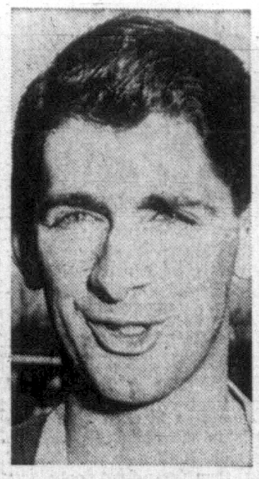
Munich Gets '72 Olympics

MUNICH, West Germany (Reuters) — The 1972 Olympic Games will be held here Aug. 26 to Sept. 10, the organizing committee has decided. The committee based its decision on meteorological opinion that the weather is likely to be good in that two-week period.

Costly Fracture

NEW YORK (AP) — Second baseman Dick Howser of New York Yankees broke a bone in his right forearm Sunday in the fourth inning of the Yankees' game with Baltimore and will be out of action about six weeks.



MARTIN TAYLOR

Taylor Takes Singles Title

Martin Taylor, already noted for his ability to slam soccer balls with accuracy and power, is fast learning how to swat tennis balls into the right places.

Taylor, who patrols the forward line with Victoria's Pacific Coast Soccer League champions, Saturday stepped front and centre on the Victoria tennis stage.

Combining solid ground strokes with remarkable agility and reflexes, Taylor outlasted veteran Gordon Hartley in the men's singles final of the city net tournament at the Racquet Club. Taking command midway in the third set, Taylor, who is in only his fourth year of competitive tennis, collected the title as he downed his tenacious rival 6-2, 2-6, 6-2, 6-1.

CAME FROM BEHIND

Margaret Van Pelt and Felicity Graham forged from behind to win the women's doubles crown, defeating Mrs. Wood and Wendy Cuppage 3-6, 6-2, 6-1.

Ernie Cokane and Ted Smythe, helped considerably by Cokane's powerful service, pounded out a 5-7, 6-1, 7-5 triumph over Taylor and Ivor Goodmanson in the men's doubles.

Goodmanson and Mrs. Wood joined forces in the mixed doubles final and stroked their ways to a 6-3, 6-4 victory over Mrs. Van Pelt and Taylor.

Ladies' singles—Lea Harris defeated Vivian Wilkinson, 6-1, 6-4.

Men's singles—George MacMinn defeated Phillip Jolley, 7-5, 6-0.

Ladies' doubles — Bernice Parrish and Dea Schjoldberg downed Tommy Elmsley and Elsie Bradford, 2-6, 6-3, 6-4.

Men's doubles—Ed Hedley and McEachern defeated Glen MacDonald and Jim Hassard, 6-4, 6-3.

Mixed doubles—Faith Graham and Glen MacDonald defeated E. Sudhues and Brix, 6-2, 8-10, 6-4.

Red Lions Edge Nanaimo Juniors

Galbraith scored four times for the Victoria club, which got single markers from Ron Marshall, Bill Duckworth, Jim Cunningham, Al MacLean, Charn Dhillon, Don Munroe and Daryll MacIntyre.

ROWING TEAM SELECTED

ST. CATHARINES (CP) — A 32-man team of oarsmen from British Columbia and Southern Ontario, will represent Canada in Pan-American Games rowing competition at Winnipeg next month.

The team selected in trials on the Henley course here Saturday, will also compete in the first North American rowing championships a week later at St. Catharines.

Selected were an eight and a four from the University of British Columbia, two pairs from Burnaby, B.C., a cox four from St. Catharines, a double from Toronto Argonauts and a single sculler from Hamilton Leander.

Wayne Pretty, the University of British Columbia coach, was named head coach of the Canadian squad. Frank Read, who formerly coached UBC rowing crews, will go along as technical advisor.

Saturday's trials were dominated by western crews.

An eight and a four from UBC captured their events and pair oared entries from Burnaby Lake, B.C., Aquatic Association had no difficulties in their races.

Lief Gotfredson of Toronto Argonauts won the singles, then combined with Doug Clark to take the doubles, while a St. Catharines cox four won the day's other race.

The smooth-stroking Vancouver eight covered the 2,000 metres in a fast 5:56.7 for a two-length victory over St. Catharines while University of Victoria trailed.

It was the same in the coxless four as Vancouver won over Toronto Argonauts by five lengths.

Better Batting Came Too Late

BIRMINGHAM, England (Reuters)—England won the third and final cricket test by 132 runs Saturday despite a determined and much improved batting display by India.

England's victory was completed 10 minutes from the scheduled close when India, needing 410 for victory, was all out for 277. The home team, winning with two days to spare, thus clinched the three-match series 3-0.

India's last two batsmen, Bishen Bedi and Bhagwat Chandrasekher, supplied a final gesture of defiance in adding a spirited 37 for the 10th wicket. Light was extremely poor toward the end, but the umpires rejected an appeal from the Indian batsmen during the last half hour.

Close of play scores in other matches:

Pakistanis 291 for 5; vs. Surrey.
Worcestershire 150; Derbyshire 41 for 1.
Essex 183; Warwickshire 132 for 6.
Northamptonshire 287; Middlesex 4 for 1.
Glamorgan 129; Lancashire 54 for 6.
Kent 284 for 6 vs. Hampshire.
Nottinghamshire 335 for 5; vs. Leicestershire.

Mainland Bowlers Take Titles

VANCOUVER (CP) — Harvey Wheant of the Vancouver South Lawn Bowling Club Saturday won the B.C. singles title here, going undefeated in his four games.

Wheant will represent the province in the Canadian finals in Montreal, Aug. 21-23, along with winners of pairs and rinks titles.

The pairs event was won by Dave Lowdon and Bill Hamilton of the West Vancouver Club.

WINNER of British Grand Prix for fifth time Saturday was Scottish driver Jim Clarke (above), who was followed by pair of New Zealanders, Dennis Hulme and Christ Amon. World champion Jack Brabham was fourth. Clarke's victory in Lotus Ford moved him into tie with Brabham for second place in current chase for world title, three points behind Hulme, who has 22 points. Race was sixth in series of 11 counting toward world crown.

Soviet Victory

MONTREAL (CP) — The Soviet Union defeated France, 7-5, to win the men's epee team championship as the 32nd World Fencing championships wound up Sunday night.

TAKES MAIN EVENT . . . . . IN STOCK-CAR MEET

Bissenden Makes It 3

After finishing second in two earlier events, Bob Bissenden made it a big night at Western Speedway Saturday by gunning his machine to a main-event victory.

Bissenden, who had piloted his 1949 Ford to runner-up spots behind Tony Mortell ("A" trophy dash) and Roy Haslam (fourth heat), is the first driver to win three main events this season in stock-car scrambles at the Millstream Road track.

Mortell, nipped by Haslam in the disputed race, also failed to finish Saturday's "A" main. He was forced out by mechanical troubles.

Ross Sugenor, last year's point champion posted the fast time of 21.24 seconds before about 3,200 fans and beat out Larry Walker for second place in the "A" main.

Bill Friend took the "B" main.

Happy-Go-Lucky Ricky Wins Baby Show Contest

And these attributes paid off Saturday when Ricky was named best baby in the All Sooke Day-Victoria Times baby show.

Ricky, son of Mr. and Mrs. Garry Hull, 2488 Millstream Road, won out over 65 competitors.

His proud parents were surprised and delighted.

"We just came out to see how he would do," said Mrs. Hull. "We weren't really counting on him winning. I always play safe and think negative."

The babies were judged by Drs. Jack Patterson and Jack Cooper, of Victoria, who said they used a mixture of "intuition and medical know-how".

Best baby under six months was Steven Carlos, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Carlos, 4761 Cordova Bay Road.

15 HOURS COOKING

GARGANTUAN FEEDING OF 10,000

How do you feed 10,000 excited hungry people?

It's simple. You buy 1,000 pounds of salmon, 525 pounds of beef, thousands of clams, buns and wieners, and truck-loads of soft drinks and ice cream.

That's what they did for All Sooke day. But buying it is only part of the problem—cooking it is a gargantuan task.

To cook the beef, Sooke Community Association volunteers, under the direction of Larry Rumsby, lit fires at 9 a.m. Friday in a pit four feet by 20 feet by four feet deep.

At 1:30 a.m. Saturday, they buried 22 huge chunks of beef, seasoned and wrapped in burlap.

By Saturday afternoon, they had 525 pounds of perfectly cooked roast beef for hungry patrons.

The salmon barbecue was directed by George Duncan, a construction worker with B.C. Hydro in Sooke, who uses an old Indian method. He builds a long line of fire between two parallel rails one yard apart.

The salmon is tied to screens which stand vertically against the rails on either side of the fire. A couple of hundred pounds can be cooked at once.

Mr. Duncan, who has worked on the salmon barbecue for 20 years, estimates 2,000 persons were treated to barbecued salmon during the afternoon.

EX-NEW ZEALANDER BIG MAN AT ALL SOOKE DAY

'H' Is Herlihy and Hero

10,000 Crowd Flats

By PAUL WILLIAMSON

Some 10,000 persons jammed Sooke River flats Saturday for All Sooke Day — and for all of them Brian Herlihy is the heor of the day.

The hardy New Zealand immigrant took first place in four events, was on the second place relay team, and walked away with $315 prize money and the Best All-Round Logger trophy.

Mr. Herlihy, 28, has been competing in logging sports since he was 16. He says there is no secret to his success.

"In New Zealand there is much more and much tougher competition. There are 500 registered axe-men, and they're all good."

And Mr. Herlihy isn't exactly slow with an axe. Last year, he just missed making the New Zealand team for the annual New Zealand-Australia competitions.

WINS FOUR

And Saturday, he won four axe events: men's tree chopping, men's square timber chipping, hard hitting, and the standing block chop.

Sooke's own Jubiel Wickheim was as popular with the crowds. Holde of the American log birling championship, he walked off with the Canadian championship held last year by his brother, Ardiel.

Ardiel is in Montreal and was unable to compete. The brothers perform wild antics on bobbing rolling logs every day at the western pavilion of Expo.

'CLIMB A TREE'

Spectators gasped in disbelief half way through the afternoon when an apparent drunk staggered on to the field and began climbing the spar.

"My girlfriend told me to go climb a tree," he shouted.

But it soon turned out he was no drunk. And when he reached the top, Port Angeles daredevil Mal Harper threw down his rope and spurs and stood on his head.

As if this wasn't enough, he demanded music and started dancing on the narrow top of the slender tree, eventually falling off and sailing to earth on a concealed safety line.

If the crowds loved it all, the loggers loved it more. It was their day.

GETTING TOUGHER

"In 1958 we could only get three men to enter the bucking contest — now we're running heats."

Half way through the afternoon he had been in two events and failed to place.

"My arms are like rubber today" he said eyeing his axe critically.

He had better luck with his saw. Ten minutes later he buzzed his way to first place in class B of the men's log bucking event.

Other winners of main events were:

Men's log birling, class B: Jim Duncan, Sooke.

Power saw bucking: Chris Tetz, Chilliwack.

TUG-OF-WAR

Flyweights Score Win In Losing

A three-way war between Canada, the United States, and Japan broke out in Sooke Saturday afternoon.

And Canada won.

It was a happy war — a tug-o'-war.

The winning team was sponsored by Sooke Forest Products and captained by Ian Humphries.

The Orientals, all from the visiting Japanese naval command ship Tedusi, challenged the second place American team and were trounced.

But they won the hearts of the crowd who considered them the best sports of the day.

Tom and Jane checked their finances. They found they were short of money. Would the family holiday have to be postponed? The youngsters disappointed? Definitely not. Tom dropped in to see the manager of the nearest Niagara Loans office. He outlined the problem to him, found him very understanding and helpful. In privacy, they discussed the cost of loans. A repayment plan. (And payment terms to suit the family budget.) Within 24 hours Tom had the money in his hands. And the family was headed for a fun-packed vacation.

Large Park Audience For Combos, Singer

A concert by vocalist Terry Cain and two Victoria rhythm combos — The Pharoahs and The Foundry — attracted more than 700 people to the Cameron Bandshell at Beacon Hill Park Sunday afternoon.

Attractive in a floor-length white dress, Miss Cain sang the Hawaiian wedding Song, Eidelweiss and other favorites.

The Pharoahs scored a big hit with Georgy Girl and Georgia on My Mind. Hundreds of teenagers joined with Victoria veterans and out-of-town visitors in applauding the performers.

MISS UNIVERSE

"I'D RATHER be plain Sylvia after the year is out," says Miss Sylvia Hitchcock, 21, after she was crowned Miss Universe Saturday in Miami Beach. She plans to return to her studies at the University of Alabama after her reign and says "I hope my classmates will forget I was Miss Universe." Miss Hitchcock's measurements are 35½-24½-36½. Miss Canada, Donna Barker of Toronto, did not reach the finals.

ATLANTIC CROSSING IN 37' YAWL

HALIFAX (CP) — Three young Canadian sailors who set out on a transatlantic voyage in a 37-foot yawl as a centennial project did it in eight days less than they had estimated.

The steel-hulled Jala arrived at Finnet Island off Ireland Saturday night, 13 days and four hours after leaving St. John's, Nfld.

YOU'RE A BIG BOY NOW
Peter Kastner
Royal Theatre

Here is a generally wacky farce ranging in mood from the light fantastic to the heavy-handed. Some of the sequences are outrageously funny, some rather precious and some barely tolerable.

The story, winnowed out of a novel by David Benedictus, revolves about an inexperienced young man (Peter Kastner) who wants to get a girl.

Kastner works as a roller-skating stock boy in the main branch of New York's public library and his father (Rip Torn) happens to be the curator of rare books.

Over the tearful protests of Kastner's mother (Geraldine Page), father agrees to let the boy develop on his own in a room away from their suburban home.

He is placed in a rooming house, owned by Julie Harris and also inhabited by a policeman and a pet rooster with an aversion to allowing girls in the upstairs rooms.

Kastner takes library assistant Karen Black to a night club where Elizabeth Hartman is starred as a dancer. Kastner has been long enamored of her, but Karen manages to distract his attention by asking him to show her his new living quarters.

Kastner is well on the way to his first love affair when the virtuous rooster objects noisily and rouses the whole household. A tremendous hassle ensues in which landlady Julie Harris breaks an arm and somebody falls downstairs.

The frantic situations which follow are best left to the screen as they have little or no verisimilitude in cold print. The tangled plot has been capably handled by director Francis Ford Coppola and the acting generally is efficient for this type of entertainment.

Accent On Youth At Expo

MONTREAL (CP)—Expo 67's World Festival turns its attention to youth this week as Montreal is host to the 21st congress of the Federation internationale

The firstes. calmusi snsu of 11 programs to beJe deses oreal is host to the 21st congress of the Federation internationale des Juenesses musicales.

The first of 11 programs to be offered during the congress by the Canadian branch of the organization, devoted to promoting music among youth, was presented Sunday night at Place des Arts.

It featured the three winners of the national competitions for voice, piano and violin organized by the Canadian group as a centennial project.

Second on the program was Annon Lee Silver, a soprano from Glace Bay, N.S., who had placed second in the voice section and received $2,000. The grand prize was not awarded in this section.

HAPPIEST MAN AT CALGARY STAMPEDE

Pot-O'-Gold Winner Realizes Dream

CALGARY (CP) — An American sweep of major rodeo events and a recored attendance Saturday ended the 1967 Calgary Stampede.

High point of the rodeo finals was a spectacular ride by Larry Condon of Omak, Wash., in the Brahma bull riding competition, good for the championship and just under $2,000 in prize money.

Total attendance for the nine days of the stampede soared to 798,575. Until this year, the stampede was a six-day event and the record attendance was 654,120.

Perhaps the happiest of all those who went to the stampede was Peter B. Horsley of Calgary, a 49-year-old commercial advertising designer who won the $50,000 gold brick in the annual pot-o'-gold draw.

Mr. Horsley said initial plans for the money include a holiday with his family and he will use some to carry out long-nurtured plans to go to university. Most of the windfall, however, will be stashed away for the future.

Drifter Found

ACCUSED OF FISHING INSIDE ALASKA WATERS

U.S. Seizes Japanese Fishing Boat

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — The U.S. Coast Guard seized a Japanese fishing boat off the Aleutian Island Sunday, placed an armed party aboard it and escorted the vessel to Adak today.

The Tnyo Maru No. 3 was seized just short of three miles off Segula Island, about 200 miles from Adak.

The coast guard said the master of the 330-foot vessel was accused of fishing within the 12-mile limit, and each of the crew of 110-130 could be fined $10,000, and all the gear, stores and fish aboard could be confiscated.

Seizure of the vessel was the first incident of the kind since two Russian trawlers were escorted to Alaska ports in March and their skippers were fined.

The Japanese crew also may be prosecuted under Alaska law which bars foreign fishermen from operating off shore.

When the first Russian master was fined $5,000, Alaska Gov. Walter Hickel called the penalty "measly," and the skipper of the second Russian ship was fined twice that amount.

The Coast Guard said that when the Japanese vessel was spotted its nets were in position for fishing.

The trawler and its Coast Guard escort were expected to arrive at Adak this afternoon.

THIRD FIRE CRASH

In 1961 two other Victoria men died when a Martin Mars flying tanker crashed at Northwest Bay on Vancouver Island.

Killed were W. G. "Bud" Richmond of Sidney, captain, and W. J. Wigins of Alberni, co-pilot.

Houses Threatened By Spreading Blaze

Air, Ground Attack Stepped Up Sharply

The fire which led to the deaths of two pilots Sunday is still out of control and now is threatening homes in the Florence Lake area.

A change in the wind could bring it down on other buildings in the Goldstream area, harried forestry officials said at press time.

Loggers, water district employees and forestry fire fighters have joined forces to contain it and another water bomber, a huge Martin Mars flying boat, owned by Flying Tankers Ltd., has taken over aerial attack.

The fire, which started on Skirt Mountain Sunday afternoon, is now ranging over 500 acres.

"We haven't pushed the panic button, but we're close to it," a forestry official said.

STATION IN PERIL

"We have no idea how it started but we feel it might be hikers or children or damn fool carelessness. It doesn't take much to set one going."

He said he thought the service station near Goldstream is in danger.

"We can't rely on what the wind is going to do."

The possibility that the Trans-Canada Highway might be cut by the fire and traffic stopped to up-Island points could not be wholly discounted, he added.

At present the fire force includes one Martin Mars bomber brought in from Alberni area this morning, two fixed wing spotter aircraft and a helicopter, 120 men and 13 bulldozers. Another Canso was expected later today from Prince George.

About 15 water district men with a bulldozer are trying to stem the approach of the fire toward Florence Lake where a number of houses are located.

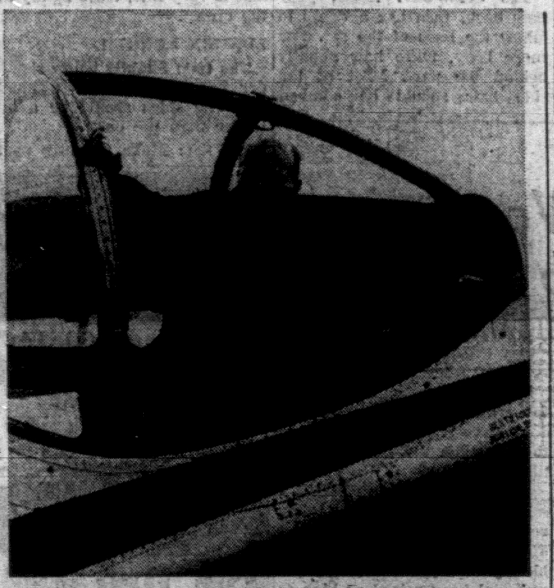
Hazards throughout the Vancouver Forest district have been high for days with 178 fires reported this season.

89 NEW FIRES

Eighty-nine new forest fires were reported over the weekend, a B.C. Forest Service spokesman said this morning.

This brings the number of fires to 280. More than 800 men are fighting them.

In the Vancouver district, which includes the Island and lower mainland, there were 13 new fires and 23 burning. All were reported quiet except the one on Mount Skirt.



SHOWN IN THE "BUBBLE" or "blister" of the Canso which took he and his partner to death at Goldstream Sunday is Alex Davidson, who formed Victoria Flying Firemen water bombing company.

Crash Victims Led Hazardous Life In Peace, War

Both victims of the plane crash Sunday were decorated wartime fliers and ranked as pioneers in the hazardous profession of water-bombing.

Both were also husbands and fathers.

A friend of the families, Carl Smith, who has flown with Alex Davidson and "Paddy" Moore, supplied these backgrounds:

Mr. Davidson, 43, learned to fly with the RCAF. He flew Spitfires and Tempests in Second World War and earlier was an instructor on Harvard aircraft at Ottawa.

For a time he was attached to a Czechoslovakian squadron, winning a flying cross from that nation for distinguished services.

Following the war, in 1951, he joined the Royal Canadian Navy and came to Patricia Bay airport in 1952. For a time he commanded the reserve squadron here.

He retired from the navy in 1955 and was a test pilot for Fairey Aviation here until 1965, when he formed the Flying Firemen.

While with Fairey he had assisted in development of water bombing and conversion of Mars water bombers.

"He was a pioneer in the fire-fighting game," said Mr. Smith.

He said the firm has had an active year so far, fighting fires all over the province with its three converted amphibious Cansos.

Mr. Davidson found time also to encourage flying among others. He was national president of the Royal Canadian Flying Clubs Association in 1965 - 66.

He is survived by his wife, Marjorie; a son, Craig, 16, and a daughter Bernice, 19, a student nurse.

His team-mate on the fatal flight, "Paddy" Moore, 45, leaves his wife, Kathy, and three children, all boys, Robert, 19; Andrew, 16, and Donald, 10. The Moores came from Halifax this year, where Mr. Moore had served with the Royal Canadian Navy as a flier and later worked for 11 years as a test pilot.

He had served in wartime in the Royal Navy Fleet Air Arm, at which time he was awarded a Distinguished Service Cross for gallantry.

$16 Million Tag On New 400-Bed District Hospital

By JIM HUME

A new 400-bed acute care hospital designed to alleviate Greater Victoria's hospital bed problem will cost the taxpayers a minimum of $16 million.

The figure is based on latest construction costs in Vancouver and is being used as a base figure by the survey team now checking on Greater Victoria's acute bed needs.

The 400-bed requirement is estimated as the minimum the area needs if a new hospital is to be built relatively close to the high population area.

Hospital planners say a new hospital requires 900 square feet per bed at a cost of $45 per square foot. The square footage per bed includes the space required for operating theatres, kitchens and other ancilliary areas.

TOO EARLY

"It is far too early at present to even suggest what solution the survey team will come up with," he said. "But latest construction cost figures certainly indicate that $40,500 per bed is the average cost of a new hospital."

At $40,500 a bed a new 400-bed hospital would cost over $16 million if construction started immediately.

Mayor Stephen warned that it is dangerous to pre-judge the survey report.

"The survey has only just got under way," he said. "It will be some time before the preliminary report is ready and I would think it will be about this time next year before the survey team has anything really concrete for us to go on."

EXTENSIONS?

The mayor added that the survey team could well recommend extensions of existing facilities rather than the building of a new hospital.

"When it comes to spending this amount of public money we have to be absolutely sure that we are doing the right thing," he said. "That is why all municipalities agreed that a comprehensive survey of our needs had to be the first step."

The costs estimated for a 400-bed acute care hospital involve construction only. Staffing and operating costs would be in addition to the $16 million.

A suggestion that any new hospital built in the area should be on the University of Victoria campus to give Uvic a school of medicine appears to have foundered early in the survey.

Estimated costs of a university hospital, excluding faculty, classrooms and other essential facilities, are well over $20 million.

Requirements for a teaching hospital set the minimum floor space per bed at 1,400 square feet.

Arbitration Hearing Starts On Estate Price

A three-man board of inquiry met in Victoria Law Courts today to consider the value of a 120-acre property on the McRae estate expropriated by Saanich council.

The board, comprising Richard Anderson, Vancouver, chairman; Ian Horne, QC, and Douglas Peaker, Victoria, adjourned at 11 a.m. to look over the estate.

The hearing was to be resumed this afternoon.

The dispute is over the price Saanich has offered for the site, which includes Cedar Hill Golf Course.

The McRae family has agreed on the principle of selling the property to the municipality for use as a large open area in the heavily populated part of southern Saanich.

Money for the purpose will come from the $2.4 million capital budget borrowing bylaw approved by Saanich ratepayers in December, 1965.

Recreation Chief Appointed Soon

The municipal personnel committee is down to several finalists from the more than 130 persons who applied for the job.

The successful applicant will take charge of the $1.25 million recreation program approved by ratepayers earlier this year. First stage is the $425,000 Tillicum ice arena.

Youth Council 'Sick, Tired' Of Vandalism

By PAUL WILLIAMSON

Hoodlums smashed the front window of the Victoria Youth Council office early Sunday morning, an act of vandalism that may touch off a major conflict between youthful elements in the city.

Council spokesman Charles Barber said youths in a cream Mercury convertible hurled a rock through the window of the 503 Niagara St. office at 1:45 a.m. Sunday and drove off quickly.

The council has been asked to vacate the office, their fifth in less than a year.

"We're sick and tired of this treatment," said Mr. Barber.

FIFTH TIME

"If the police do not choose to act, we will find the culprits and prosecute to the limit of the law.

"This is the fifth office smashed up. We've had wiring ripped, windows and furniture smashed, and even our files stolen.

"We're serving notice to the community that we won't take this any more."

Mr. Barber was angry about the eviction, but sympathetic towards the landlord.

"He has tried to help us in every way, but he feels he has no choice because of the danger to neighbors."

The landlord, who aked that his name be withheld, said he "doesn't mind having the council as tenants.

"If I didn't want to help them, I wouldn't have let them in there, but I'm in business and I can't go against public opinion.

Two-Nation Show In Park Tonight

Canadian and Japanese bandsmen will give a two-hour concert in Beacon Hill Park bandshell tonight.

The concert, starting at 7:30, will feature the Canadian forces band from Esquimalt and sailor-bandsmen from Japanese warships attending the centennial naval assembly.

Accused Man Lost Memory For 3 Weeks

A man charged with capital murder in a shooting near Sooke nine weeks ago lost his memory for almost three weeks, a psychiatrist testified in central court today.

Dr. Edwin Mellor, on staff at Riverview mental hospital at Essondale, was the first witness heard today at a preliminary hearing into the charge against James Frederick Redlin, 37, a millwright from Coombs near Parksville.

Redlin is charged with capital murder after Mrs. Lavina Nicholson, 56, was shot dead in her bedroom early May 9 at the rear of the grocery store she and her husband operated at Saseenos.

17 WITNESSES

A total of 17 witnesses are to be heard in the hearing which will probably end Tuesday. If Magistrate Ostler finds the Crown has sufficient evidence, Redlin will be committed to trial before a higher court.

Redlin was hospitalized with head injuries following the shooting incident.

Dr. Mellor said that when he first saw the accused at Riverview June 1, Redlin was suffering from amnesia covering a period from 2½ to three weeks. He was "markedly depressed."

When he was discharged July 14, Redlin was mentally fit to instruct counsel, said the doctor.

Man Admits Wallet Grab

James King, 42, of 1065 Willow Place, was remanded in custody for sentence July 21.

Police caught King about an hour after the incident on Johnson Street near Douglas and the wallet was found later in a Yates Street parking building, court was told.

Tot Dragged 75 Feet Beside Car

Three-year-old Gordon Davies of 463 Niagara was uninjured Saturday when he was dragged about 75 feet down the street with his hand caught in the door handle of a neighbor's car.

City police constable Ray Thomas said he backed from his driveway at 444 Niagara and had driven a short distance down the street before spotting the little boy.

Gordon was returned home to his mother, Mrs. Shannon Davies, unhurt in the incident.

Frederick Marsh, 20, of 195 Sims was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital with multiple facial cuts after his auto hit a parked car on Oswego near Beckley early Sunday.

HEAVY DAMAGE

Police said both cars were heavily damaged when Marsh's auto rammed the rear of a car owned by Rita Filleul of 328 Michigan.

Mrs. Alice Devereaux of Inuvik, Northwest Territories, was treated at St. Joseph's Hospital for scalp cuts after a two-car collision at Superior and Menzies Saturday afternoon.

Damage was estimated at $1,200 when her car, eastbound on Superior, was in collision with a car northbound on Menzies and driven by Lawrence Kirstein of 1120 Blanshard.

SHOPPING GUIDE

Hassock Cat-Astrophe Leads to Decor 'Find'

By Penny Saver

Anyone who has ever owned a family pet will know that somehow the owner ends by being "owned." The Saver cat has all the qualities of a feudal lord—when his demands for bread and board aren't satisfied immediately, he marches out of the door in high disdain and sulks in the garden, plotting revenge. Usually he manages to sneak into the living room and wreak havoc with his claws on my favorite hassock.

This old stool is looking more dilapidated every year, and Saladin Sam hasn't been helping matters. We've trained him to keep his claws out of the sofa and chairs, but he seems to have adopted this footrest as an indoor scratching post.

This time we know better than to buy a wooly foot-stool . . . we're going to abandon the scratching post to Sam, and invest in a brand-new leather hassock, all our own. In the store where we shopped there are dozens of all-leather hassocks to choose from.

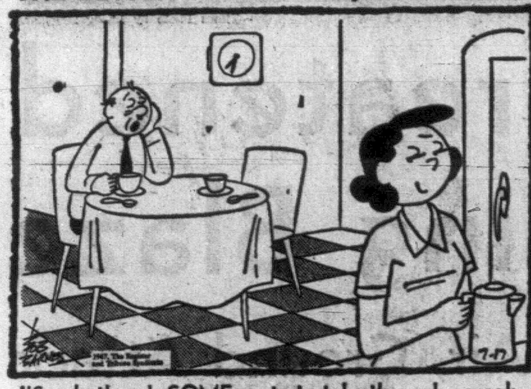
The one that we finally bought is a real beauty . . . it's a round puff made from dyed brown, red and tan leather in an attractive diamond pattern. We decided that we would fill it ourselves, so it cost only $17.95 (or, if you buy one already filled, it is $19.95). These hassocks come in dozens of color combinations of tan, red, green and brown, and are sturdy enough to last a lifetime.

If you'd like a novelty foot stool for the den or living room, this shop has the answer. You can buy a "camel saddle"—a low stool made from palm tree wood and decorated with brass, it is fitted with a sheepskin leather cushion. The cushions are a very soft leather and come in a multitude of colors. This marvelous conversation piece is priced at $29.95.

The picnic season is in full swing, and if you don't have a picnic basket for these outings, you can buy a very practical wicker one in this shop. It is a large-sized basket with wicker lid that opens to the sides, held together by a centre clasp, and has a large handle. This basket, light-weight and easy to carry, is priced at $6.50.

If you'd like to know where I found these items, please give me a call at 382-3131.

THE BETTER HALF By Bob Barnes



"Surely there's SOME route to take through a week-end so as to avoid Monday morning."

The forthcoming marriage is announced of Marilyn Irene Coombs, Sydney, N.S., to Mr. Robert William Pugh, eldest son of Mrs. J. Whitehead, 5661 West Saanich A former Victorian, Mr. Pugh is a graduate in metallurgy engineering from the University of British Columbia and is now making his home in Sydney. A New You

by Emily Wilkens

Summertime is meant for sun and fun. Most girls long to discover a hairstyle that combines maximum flair with minimum care.

Here are three "easy to care and wear" coiffures. One may be perfect for you.

THE BOYISH BOWL

The Cut: A short, short London "bowl" style with deep bangs that hide the eyebrows and hair at mid-ear length at the sides. The back is shaped to the nape in a deep V.

The Set: Part hair in the right behind bangs and wind one jumbo roller to the right, three to the left. At back of crown wind two jumbo rollers down, then one to the left and one to the right. Comb bangs, side, and nape hair into place; secure with tape.

The Comb-Out: Brush your hair back, then use a comb to follow the lines of the set. For more body, tease hair slightly behind the part. Most of the side hair should be combed behind ears with only tiny sideburns left in front.

CHIN-TRIMMER

The Cut: Hair is layered at the nape and shaped to head. Sides are longer and line up with the chin, bangs should just reach eyebrows.

The Set: Section off bangs, comb over a roll of cotton for a rounder look. Make a part at left behind bangs and wind three large rollers to the right of the part, one to the left. Two more jumbos should be rolled at each side above the ears. At the back, wind down a single roller, then a row of two, and finally a row of three. Tape nape hair to the neck.

The Comb-Out: Brush hair into place following the set. Sides should be brushed forward to swing on to the cheeks. If hair is very fine, tease lightly at the crown.

LUXURY LENGTH

The Cut: Slightly below shoulder length, perferably a blunt cut. The sides should be a bit longer than the back.

The Set: Make a centre part and wind one jumbo roller to the left, one to the right of part. Wind another roller behind these; two more down each side. At the back of the crown, wind down a single jumbo roller and follow this with three rows of rollers with three in each row.

The Comb-Out: Brush out and back thoroughly. Then, arrange hair with brush. If you like a face-framing effect, sweep hair in front of your ears. For a cooler hairdo that reveals more of your face, section off a lock from above and behind each car, cross on top and pin.

It's fun and fairly easy to experiment with different hair-dos. But if you have long locks and suddenly decide to have one of those short, short boyish cuts, consider your move carefully before taking drastic action. Do try to get the effect by arranging your hair so that it looks short before it is short.

An easy-care hairdo will breeze the "new you" through the "dog days" of summer in style!

WHY GROW OLD?

Husband's Snoring Can Cause You Loss of Sleep

Lowman

Your loved one's voice may be music to your ears, but his or her snoring may be an entirely different matter. Some persons snore with such vim and variety that they are fascinating to listen to, that is, if you do not need sleep.

The following letter has just come to me.

"Dear Mrs. Lowman,

"My husband and I must have separate rooms because of his snoring. I do not mean that he snores just a little. The noise is unbelievable with loud hums, and great snorts that bring me springing to my feet.

"I am not troubled with insomnia nor am I an extremely light sleeper. Some people seem to think that a marriage is on the rocks if the husband and wife sleep in separate rooms, but it is absolutely essential to health to get some sleep.

"My husband even wakes himself up sometimes, and then I awaken him to ask him to turn on his side because he doesn't snore so much then, so he doesn't get much sleep either.

"Unless we have separate rooms when on a trip, we both come back home exhausted from lack of sleep. What do you think about this, and can anything be done for it?"

Under such circumstances I think that you are much more apt to keep romance alive if you sleep in separate rooms. Loss of sleep leads to irritability and fatigue. The only other defence against snoring is to snore yourself. The trouble with this is, as you have pointed out, you might awaken yourself, even though you drown out the noise your partner is making. Another thought, the nonsorer might use ear plugs.

Sometimes snoring cannot be cured but often it is caused by some physical defect which can be corrected. For instance, overweight can lead to snoring. So can allergies, sinus trouble, or too much smoking.

There are many gadgets in sleep shops or sleep departments in stores. Some of them may be helpful. One is a little ball which is attached to the back of the gown or pajama top. It is true that people snore more when on their back than when on their side. The ball is uncomfortable when lying on it and the individual just naturally turns onto his side.

If you have trouble sleeping with or without snoring, you may want my leaflet "Shut-Eye." If so, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for it. Address to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

DEAR ABBY . . .

Divorced Woman Breaking Up Home

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: For the past two years my husband has had a young woman in his department who seems to be the topic of conversation all over town. She is about 30, has been divorced twice, and, I am told, has some very unconventional ideas about men and morals.

She openly dates married men and has been heard to say, "If a woman can't hold her husband, it's not my fault."

Whenever her name comes up, my husband defends her—saying she's a "nice" girl who is sick on only one subject. Men! She flirts brazenly and tells off-color stories, but because she is pretty she gets away with it.

I have been in a state of turmoil over this for some time, and cannot accept the fact that she is "nice." I'm about ready to give up. I don't want to demand that my husband let her go, but I wish she would be transferred out of his department. (Out of the city would be better yet.) What should I do about this situation?

UNEASY

DEAR UNEASY: Nothing. Just ask your husband how long he would put up with a "nice" wife who was sick on only one subject. Men!

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I are newlyweds. She wants to have a dinner party and invite all her old boy friends. All these fellows are still single. I told her I didn't think much of the idea.

She says she wants to maintain them as "platonic" friends, and besides they all gave her lovely wedding gifts so she thinks she "owes" them a dinner. I say they all received thank-you notes for their gifts just as the others did. We would like your opinion.

NEWLYWEDS

DEAR NEWLYWEDS: A wedding gift doesn't necessarily call for a dinner invitation. If your bride really wants to invite these ex-beaus to dinner in order to maintain them as platonic friends, she should ask them to bring their own girls.

But if she has in mind surrounding herself with the old guard to make them squirm and feel like losers, she should forget it lest she make them feel like winners.

DEAR ABBY: Now I've seen everything! An obviously pregnant woman in a mini-skirt! Don't you think there ought to be a law against people who don't have any more sense than to go out on the street looking like that?

SEEN EVERYTHING

DEAR SEEN: I can only repeat the immortal words of Jim Klobuchar: "Never in the history of fashion has so little material been raised so high to reveal so much that needs to be covered so badly."

How has the world been treating you? Unload your problems on Dear Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069. For a personal, unpublished reply, enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

For Abby's booklet; "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1.00 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069.

Mr. and Mrs. William Ray, 1849 Townley Street, are pictured cutting the cake which was presented to them at the party to mark their golden wedding anniversary, given by their daughter, Mrs. Reg Fisher, in her Oldfield Road home. Married in Chiddingstone, Kent, England, Mr. and Mrs. Ray came to Canada in 1908 to homestead in Liefer, Man. They have lived in Victoria for 30 years. Travelling from Driver, Sask., for the occasion were their daughter, Mrs. (Peggy) Kornelson and family. Other children are Mrs. Sam (Betty) Brasher, Mrs. Art (Ivy) Halpen, Mr. Ron Ray, Mr. Phil Ray and Mr. Chuck Ray, all of Victoria. Grandchildren Mr. Cliff Helpen and family, of Tacoma, Wash., Mrs. Fred Hill and family, of Port Angeles, and son-in-law Mr. Art Halpen, Seattle, also attended the affair. The Rays have 21 grandchildren and 16 great-grandchildren.

GARDEN PARTY

His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. George R. Pearkes will hold their annual garden party at Government House on Wednesday. Music during the afternoon will be by the Royal Canadian Navy Band of Canadian Forces Base Esquimalt. Earlier that day, His Honor will board CNAV Endeavor and travel to Canadian Services College Royal Roads anchorage where he will review the Centennial Naval Assembly of Ships of the RCN, United States Navy, Japanese Self-Defence Force and the Peruvian Navy.

From Alberta

A number of Alberta residents travelled to Victoria to attend the wedding, Friday evening, of Miss Anne Burkard and Mr. John Mace. They included Mrs. Doris Kusch, Mrs. Doreen Hunt and Miss Susan Hunt of Kinuso, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Burkard of Roseland. Other out-of-town guests were Miss Joan Burkard, Whitehorse, Y.T.; Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Tournier and Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Aitken of Chilliwack.

Attend Wedding

Out-of-town guests for the recent Olson-Webb wedding included the groom's parents and family, Mr. and Mrs. A. Olson, Leon and Janice, Mr. and Mrs. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. A. Wendt, Mr. and Mrs. R. Wendt of Chaplin, Sask.; Mr. and Mrs. R. Evans, Mr. D. Wendt, Mr. and Mrs. G. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. G. Payne of Edmonton; Mr. and Mrs. R. Paulence, Mr. and Mrs. R. Molde of Lethbridge; Mr. and Mrs. S. Esselmont, Mrs. R. Hutchison, Mrs. F. Whiffin, Miss I. Donald, Mr. and Mrs. F. Harrison and Wallis, all of Vancouver; Mr. E. Scott, Nanaimo.

Wed in Comox

A wedding of wide interest in Victoria recently took place in St. Peter's Anglican Church, Comox, when Janey Margaret Macaulay became the bride of Randall Newton Smith. Parents of the principals are Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Macaulay, 1902 Buena Vista Drive, Comox, and Mr. and Mrs. A. C. N. Smith, 3481 Veteran Road. The bride's attendants were the Misses Marion Macaulay and Marion Smith, and junior bridesmaid Sheila Macaulay. Mr. Malcolm Williams acted as best man, Mr. Malcolm Macaulay and Mr. Brian Cornall were ushers. The newlyweds travelled on honeymoon to eastern Canada.

Imported Lace Used for Mantilla Worn at Mace-Burkard Wedding

White imported lace formed the floor-length mantilla veil worn by Anne Doreen Burkard when she became the bride of John Mace, Friday evening, in Sacred Heart Church. The bride's floor-length gown was of nylon crepe, fashioned on empire-lines. The neckline of the bodice was square and sleeves were softly belled. As jewelry, she wore the groom's gift of a silver bracelet and she carried white gladioli in her bouquet.

Fr. J. Planeta officiated at the service which united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Burkard, 831 Rogers Avenue, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Mace, 1151 Roslyn Road. Mr. Burkard gave his daughter in marriage.

Bridesmaids, the Misses Penny Chamberlain and Cheryl Mace were in matching gowns of green crepe, similar to the bride's. They had small marguerites entwined in their hair to match their bouquets.

The little flower girls, Shelley and Janice Burkard, the bride's sisters, were in floor-length frocks of pale yellow nylon crepe. They wore marguerites in their hair and carried bouquets of similar flowers.

Best man was John Rostron and ushering the guests were Ron McMicking and the groom's brother Doug Mace.

Baskets of marguerites and gladioli flanked the tiered wedding cake which centred the head table at the reception following in the Ingraham Hotel.

For travelling on honeymoon, the new Mrs. Mace donned an Italian-knit suit in soft tangerine, accented with white accessories. The newlyweds will make their home in the Senator Apartments.

Merle Webb Becomes Bride of Warren Olson

FORMER BEAUTY QUEEN MARRIES

A diamente tiara, given to Merle Viola Webb, when she was "Miss Victoria," held her six-tier veil of silk illusion net when she exchanged wedding rings and vows with Warren Arthur Olson recently.

Chantilly lace encaged the bride's floor-length gown of satin which featured a portrait neckline and lily point sleeves. Appliques of the same lace accented the sleeveless coat of organza, extending into a full dome train, which topped the gown. The bride wore diamond earrings, gift of the groom, and carried a bouquet of cattleya orchids.

Blue gladioli and carnations decorated the Church of St. Andrew, Canadian Forces Base, Esquimalt, for the candlelight ceremony which united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick A. Webb, 999 Violet Avenue and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Olson of Chaplin, Sask. Rev. A. G. Faraday officiated, and organist was Miss Frances Coalston. Mr. Webb gave his daughter in marriage.

GOWNS OF BLUE

The attendants chose floor-length gowns of peau d'elegance, the matron of honor's in electric blue, the bridesmaids in a sky blue shade. The gowns were styled on A-lines, with yoke and belled sleeves of Rachel lace. Similar lace formed the detachable trains, draped softly from a self-fabric bow. Their headpieces were diamente tiarras, and they carried blue carnations with imported white lace fans.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Donald Wilson, and bridesmaids were the Misses Arlene Walker, cousin of the bride, and Janice Olson, the groom's sister.

Flower girls, Penny Evans and Constance Webb, cousins of the principals, wore frocks of sky blue peau d'elegance, styled with yoke and belled sleeves of Rachel lace. They had flowers en tone in their hair, and carried lace baskets of blue marguerite daisies.

Brother of the groom Leon Olson, was best man, and ushering the guests were Fred Webb, the bride's brother, and Duane Wendt, cousin of the groom.

WARDROOM RECEPTION

A three-tier cake, topped with two blue birds and flanked with white candelabra, centred the head table for the reception in the wardroom at CFB Esquimalt. Arrangements of white gladioli and blue carnations continued the color theme and music for dancing was provided by J. McHale and the Olympics. Ernest Scott proposed the toast to his goddaughter.

For travelling on honeymoon to the southern United States and Mexico, a three-piece suit in white with black check was the choice of the bride. She complemented the ensemble with a white straw hat and black accessories, and her corsage was pink glamelias.

The couple will make their home in Edmonton.

COOKING CAN BE FUN

By Mary Moore

Teen's Winning Menu

Moore

Talk about change: Up until recent years Canadians would not even try a sweet and sour dish, but travel — dear old travel — has widened their cooking horizons and sweet and sour dishes are off and running.

Sweet and Sour Lamb Shanks won first prize for 19-year-old Richard Davis, an apprentice chef at Ontario's Provincial Institute of Trades in Toronto.

Food editors were invited to a banquet where the contest finalists' prize lamb dishes were served. I was in my glory for lamb is one of my favorite meats. Naturally I came home with the recipe and made it for our dinner last night.

FIRST PRIZE

SWEET AND SOUR LAMB

(Courtesy Richard Davis via Provincial Institute of Trades—

Two ¾ to 3 pounds lamb shanks or sliced leg or shoulder (6 slices), 2 tablespoons flour (first amount), 1 teaspoon salt (first amount), ¼ teaspoon pepper, 2 tablespoons oil, 2 cloves, garlic chopped, one 12-oz. package mixed dried fruits, 3 cups hot water, ¼ cup sugar, ½ teaspoon cinnamon, ¼ teaspoon cloves, ¼ teaspoon allspice, ¼ teaspoon tarragon (optional), 1 teaspoon salt (second amount), ¼ cup vinegar, 2 tablespoons flour (second amount), ¼ cup water.

Thaw lamb if frozen. In small bowl mix together the flour, salt (first amount), and pepper and rub into surfaces of lamb. In very large frying pan heat oil, add garlic and floured lamb and brown until golden on both sides. Add dried fruits, hot water, sugar, spices, second amount of salt and vinegar, stir gently to mix, cover and simmer 1½ hours. Carefully transfer meat to preheated platter. Skim off excess fat (see note below). Mix second amount of flour with the ¼ cup cold water to a paste and stir in until a little thickened. Pour all over lamb on platter.

NOTES: 1. If desired stones may be removed from prunes but this in not at all necessary. 2. This may be made in advance and chilled, when hardened excess fat may all be removed with ease. Then reheat entire dish and serve. 3. Long cooking may be done in oversize casserole in oven at 350 deg. Fahr. 2 hours. 4. We served ours with hashed brown potatoes.

4 KILLED ON HIGHWAYS IN B.C. AT WEEKEND

By The Canadian Press

And an unidentified water skier drowned after falling off his skis at Hatzic Lake, 35 miles east of Vancouver.

Anthony Wanjoff, 14, was killed Saturday when the car in which he was riding left a road near Castlegar, in southeastern British Columbia. RCMP said the boy was pinned under the car when it rolled over.

None of the five other persons in the car was injured seriously. The victim, a high school student, was last year awarded a cup as the best all-round athlete in the Castlegar district.

At Rossland, also in the southeastern section of the province, Sidney Joseph Bennett, of Vancouver, died Sunday as a result of an accident in which a car left the highway and plunged 20 feet over an embankment. Driver of the car, Roy Alexander Cochrane, of New Westminster, was in serious condition in hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. N. L. Long, of the Kelowna area, died in a two-car collision two miles north of the Okanagan community Saturday. Both were in their 60's. Five other persons were injured in the crash.

OTTAWA CORKERS

When Do They Crown The Prime Minister?

By DENNIS ORCHARD

OTTAWA (CP) — "Where is President Johnson's office?"

"Does the prime minister wear a crown on Sundays?"

These questions and similar ones are confronting Parliament Hill guides these days as Ottawa digs in to handle a centennial summer of unprecedented tourist traffic.

People who answer the public's questions say they get the real corkers from Americans. But Canadians surprise them too.

A Manitoba woman was among several visitors to the Centre Block on Parliament Hill to have asked how much the building weighs.

"Empty or full ma'am?" she was asked.

This kind of facetious reply has been an exception, however, and it is a rare tourist who complains about his treatment in the capital.

Veterans of life on the Hill say Expo 67 and the centennial celebration have made for a special mood. It overwhelmed the place on Dominion Day weekend and it is sticking around.

The changing of the guard, performed seven days a week, has been drawing up to 8,000 spectators a day in July, about 3,000 more than the average for recent years.

BIG CROWDS WATCH

Crowds of up to 5,000 are watching the official greeting ceremonies for the 56 heads of state paying centennial visits.

Up to 1,000 people are turning out for the afternoon and evening performances of singers, dancers and bands scheduled daily between May 20 and Sept. 15.

The Ottawa Transportation Commission reports that twice as many tourists took its 2½-hour city bus tour in June as a year ago. Revenues for bus charters by visiting groups were up more than 600 per cent in June.

Fifteen bright, bilingual university students have won $86-a-week jobs as tour guides.

They report that some of their British and American visitors have to be told that Canadian policy is not made back home in London or Washington.

But they als oreport that they get as many good questions as naive ones. Tourists are split about 50-50 between Americans and Canadians, and the guides suspect that the Canadians would ask more questions if they were not embarrassed about their lack of knowledge of their own system of government.

Big difference in the makeup of the crowds this year is the high proportion of tourists from the West.

Revolution In Sex Life Confirmed

NEW YORK (AP)—Doctors writing for a medical journal have concluded that pre-marital sex is increasing among young Americans because of a change in social patterns and a more liberal use of contraceptives.

Articles published Saturday in the New York State Journal of Medicine said the much-talked about sexual revolution really is taking place.

As evidence, Dr. Graham B. Blaine, chief of psychiatry at Harvard University health services, cited statistics that one of every 18 babies born in the U.S. is out of wedlock—this despite widespread knowledge and availability of contraceptives.

"Statistics as well as professional opinion support the conclusion that more college men have intercourse with the girls they date instead of with prostitutes or pickups as in previous years," Blaine wrote.

Cited as key factors in changing behavior were the greater availability of contraceptive devices, "a decline in the impact and effectiveness of church training" and changes in the attitudes of parents and schools.

Escaped Slayer Turned In

TORONTO (CP)—A 50-year-old convicted killer who escaped from San Quentin penitentiary in 1964 was arrested after he was identified from a picture in a detective magazine.

Wallace Clayton Hakes was sentenced to five years to life for a 1958 murder at La Mesa, Calif. He served only six years when he escaped.

Hakes, an avid flyer since he was 17, was arrested last week at his job in a suburban Malton aircraft plant. Identification was made by a crop-duster who had met Hakes at the nearby Buttonville Airport Monday.

Police said the crop-duster had read an article in a detective magazine on the FBI's 10 most wanted men.

Escaper Remanded

VANCOUVER (CP) — David Bennett, 18, one of the seven persons who escaped from the city jail last week, pleaded guilty Friday to a charge of escaping. He was remanded to Thursday for pre-sentence report.

Complexion Beauty

The secret of beautifying the complexion is said to lie in the saturation of the skin with a new type of tropical moist oil. The skin takes on an immediate healthy bloom as the tiny lines and blemishes are gently smoothed away. The saturation treatment with moist oil of Olay is recommended by skin care consultants, who advise its daily use as a powder base to give the complexion day-long beauty. Your druggist will help you to obtain a supply for your personal needs.

WELL ARMED BUT INEFFECTIVE

Arab Spy Had Everything And Israelis Took It All

By ALFRED FRIENDLY
The Washington Post

HAIFA, Israel — One of the most abundantly equipped and colossally ineffective saboteurs of modern times was convicted here last week of armed infiltration of Israel.

That, it appeared, was the extent of his accomplishment.

The spy who went into the heat was Samir Dervish, a 27-year-old Arab born in Israel and recruited by the Palestine Liberation Front in Syria for the task of setting off bombs in crowded spots of Haifa and Tel Aviv.

According to the account of the prosecution, uncontested by the defence attorney, Dervish swam across the Jordan River on May 6, towing behind him a plastic sack containing 122 sticks of dynamite, delayed action fuses, a French revolver and ammunition, a first-aid kit, a camera with telescopic lens, a switchblade knife, miscellaneous other weapons, a transistor radio (for listening to the Israel radio describing his exploits) and 17 letters to such personages as former premier David Ben-Gurion and Gen. Moshe Dayan boasting of his achievements.

Dervish's whirl, however, was brief. He was arrested one day after he entered Israel.

He was equipped with forged papers identifying him as Steve Philip McGhee, a British tourist, but was given "colorful" sports clothes, suggesting that his Syrian bosses were hopelessly confused in the matter of national dress.

Apparently accident-prone, Dervish was jailed by Jordan for five weeks when he first left Israel, in 1957, and again for six weeks in Syria this year, when he fled Jordan. The Jordanians, it appeared, suspected him of being an Israeli spy, and the Syrians of being a Jordanian spy and Israeli spy.

Ultimately reassured, the Syrian branch of the Palestine Liberation Front accepted him, trained him in the use of high explosives, tattooed his right shoulder with the symbol of the terrorist organization, just so there should be no mistake about who he was.

Dervish-McGhee made it across the Jordan River to Israel only on the third try, catching hell from the Syrians for the first two failures to swim the stream.

Nevertheless, the Syrians apparently had complete confidence in him. Seemingly taking the will for the deed, the Damascus radio announced the day after he crossed into Israel that one of their agents had exploded a bomb in a Haifa movie theatre, killing 100 persons.

Dervish's sentence, which could be up to 10 years in jail, will be handed down next week.

VIET WAR SUPPLY SNARLED

Strike Stops Most U.S. Trains

By JOHN VINOCUR
Associated Press Staff Writer

The biggest U.S. railway strike in 20 years took hold today, halting most commuter train traffic, severing a main link between farm and marketplace and partially blocking the flow of arms for the Vietnam war.

The White House pressed for legislation that could end by tonight the day-old strike by 137,000 shopcraft union workers.

More than 30 railways were shut down and passenger service between east and west coasts was cut off. Only parts of New England and the South escaped the full force of the strike.

Nearly 400,000 commuters used to catching the 7.58 from Scarsdale to New York or Winnetka to Chicago rose early to fight expressway traffic jams. Others headed for the city Sunday and checked into hotels.

INTERRUPTS ARMS FLOW

Defence Secretary McNamara said the strike already has interrupted the weekly movement of 1,000 ammunition - carrying freight cars to the west coast for shipment to Vietnam, and called the stoppage effect on the war effort "immediate."

"Let's not kid ourselves—we have chaos," said Transportation Secretary Alan S. Boyd.

While some freights still rolled with perishables, hundreds more were shunted off the rails to icing and refrigeration points.

The Southern Pacific Railroad sent trucks to the San Fernando Valley and to Yuma, Ariz., to save the cantaloupe harvest. Officials also worried about how to feed stranded livestock.

The mail was affected as Postmaster - General Lawrence O'Brien announced a general moratorium on second, third and fourth class post to resignations more than 150 miles from the mailing point. O'Brien appealed that first class and air mail be used only when absotely necessary.

The strike gathered speed Sunday, spreading from west to east and south as workers along the country's 216,000 miles of track walked off the job.

CONTRACT EXPIRES

The work stoppages began after the expiration at midnight Sunday night of an agreement between the six unions and Congress. Only the International Association of Machinists issued a strike call, but union men said they felt free to walk out after a year of wage disagreements and fruitless bargaining.

"Now we're tired of waiting; our people just can't live on $3.06 an hour," said W. J. Stuadenmaier, a Philadelphia machinists union leader. "We're not strike happy, but something just had to be done."

Lewis W. Menk, president of the Northern Pacific, called the strike "artificially created" and said it was "imposed on American railways by union leaders."

12-YEAR-OLD FOOLS JUDGES

But it was only after the contest was over that embarrassed judges learned she was only 12.

"I didn't think to tell them how old I was before the contest ... Anyway what difference does it make?"

Classes Planned For Oldsters

Night classes in conversational French, English literature, Spanish and journalism, for members of the Silver Threads Service will begin Nov. 1.

The Silver Threads Service Volunteer Corps urgently requires volunteers to assist in the preparation and serving of lunches and teas at the centre. Call 388-4268 or 388-4151.

California Man Discovers Way to Hold False Teeth

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. — A new discovery called Acryline is big news. Users say it fits plates so beautifully they can't believe it. Acryline uses a startling new vacuum principle. It flows on plates and forms an air tight seal. Users say this feels akin to natural teeth. This wonderful feeling lasts up to six months before a new application is necessary. Acryline is available at all drug counters.

Menthol smokers, are you ready to enjoy the disadvantages of Benson & Hedges 100's?

This is what you've been waiting for. Now, you can smoke new Benson & Hedges Menthol 100's. They're longer than luxury size. Longer than king size. Much, much longer than regular size.

And they're available at popular price.

What it amounts to is this. You smoke a pack of Benson & Hedges Menthol 100's and it's like getting more than three extra king size cigarettes on us.

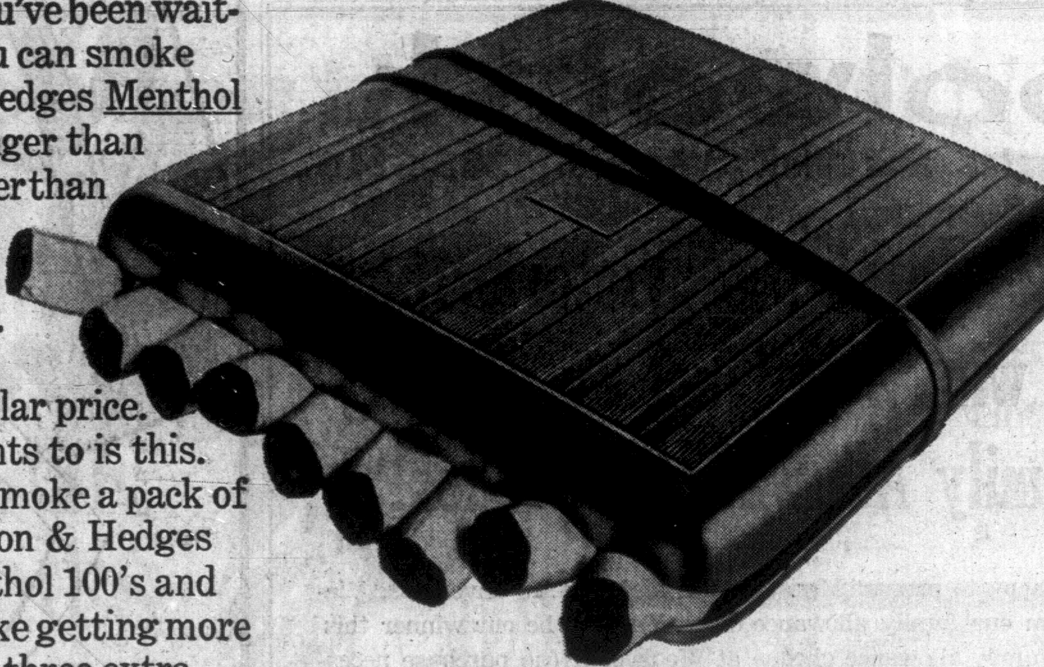
Benson & Hedges Menthol 100's have more of the best Virginia tobacco—and they're new menthol mild.

They're worth a try.



The extra puffs are on us.

Will She Go Back? Of Course She Will

By ELIZABETH FORBES

Forbes

Saw a friend waiting for a bus early evening Saturday and stopped the car to offer her a lift home. Friend looked a mite disheveled. Her hat was on the back of her head. Hair was not quite tidy. Make-up had disappeared and she was quite definitely weary.

"What's happened to you?" I asked.

"Just back from the All Sooke Day party," she answered as she sank down beside me and wriggled one foot out of a dusty shoe. "Oh, it's good to sit down!"

More to start the converstational ball rolling than anything else, I suggested that I'd always heard All Sooke Day was a barrel of fun.

"Agreed!" my friend answered. "It is a lot of fun. But somehow I din't have time to enjoy it."

From her story I gleaned that she had gone out to Sooke on Saturday with a daughter and son-in-law and their two small children. She was drafted to take care of the three-year-old while her daughter entered the younger one in the baby show.

A wild look came into her eyes as she told me the rest of the story.

Before they started for Sooke the baby had to have a nap. By the time they were rolling the road was crowded with cars. "Did you ever see that road when it was crowded with cars?" she asked me.

To ease the tension I suggested that her son-in-law was a very good driver.

"Of course he is," she came back at me, "but it's the other drivers you've got to reckon with."

They finally did get to Sooke Flats ... "late of course, and by then there was no place to park."

The baby show was uppermost in the daughter's mind so she and my friend and the children got out and left the husband to "ease the car in somewhere."

Evidently the daughter went through the crowd on the run. But the three-year-old wanted to stop every few yards. So my friend got away behind.

She lost her daughter entirely and only found her again as she was coming away from the show. Seems the judging was over before she got there.

"So we had all that scurrying and hurrying for nothing," my friend said with a weary sigh.

Things went from bad to worse from then on.

The babies were tired. They could't find her son-in-law or the car. They din't get near the clam chowder, the beef or the barbecued salmon "for ages" there was such a crowd.

Finally the little family did get together. "The children were crying. My daughter was nearly crying too, she was so disappointed she didn't get the baby in the show."

The son-in-law was hot and dusty. He' been looking for his people the better part of the afternoon. "We decided to start back home."

By the time they got to the car and eased it out on the road "the crowd was beginning to come away and we had all that traffic to contend with again."

My friend dropped out when they got back to downtown Victoria. "I went into a coffee shop and had a good cup of tea and a sandwich," she explained. "Now I'm going home to soak my feet and get to bed."

By then we had reached her home and she eased herself out of the car. "It's been quite an experience!" she muttered.

"Think you'll take in All Sooke Day next year?" I called after her.

She looked back at and grinned. "I might at that," she said. "You see, if my daughter has her way we'll all be living out there next year. Then we'll be sure of getting the baby in the show."

Crash Victims Identified

WILLIAMSPORT, Nfld. (CP)—RCMP and transport department officials are investigating the deathes of four men, including two Japanese businessmen, in the crash of a single-engine plane here Saturday.

The dead are Kenichi Muraji, 50, and Toshio Tanaka, 40, both of Tokyo; Donald Milton Steeves, 50, of Gunningsville, N.B., and Neil Bridger, 22, of Gander, Nfld., who was piloting the float-equipped aircraft.

Mr. Muraji was vice-president of the Atlantic Whaling Co. and head of the Taiyo Fishery Co. Foreign whaling department.

Schools Win Centenary Contest

The Greater Victoria Junior Schools Orchestra has been declared winner of its class in the Canadian Centenary Festival of Music.

The 75-member orchestra includes students from Victoria junior and senior secondary schools and competed in the under-19 years catagory.

Directed by Thomas Tucker, the orchestra won the Island semi-finals in Victoria and performed before the centennial adjudicators in Vancouver June 9.

The adjudicators travelled across Canada judging orchestras as they went. The winners were announced in Saint John, N.B. Saturday.

HOME GARDEN

Geraniums Easily Touched Up

By HILDA BEASTALL

Hilda

Even old fashioned bedding geranium (or zonal-leaved pelargonium) needs an assist to continue its colorful career in our gardens until frost.

While these plants do not require a rich moist soil, they certainly respond to an occasional thorough watering and a once-a-month light feeding.

In addition to these aids, geraniums need to be checked a couple of times each week to remove the occasional yellowing leaf. Left on the plants, the whole appearance of the border or planter begins to look neglected.

While the number of heads of bloom depends to some extent on the variety, a plant from a three-inch pot in spring can easily have half a dozen large trusses at one time by early July.

In addition to the previously mentioned assists to health it is as necessary to remove old flower heads from geraniums as from other garden plants.

The time to do this is when the central blossoms in the head are beginning to fade and there are no further buds to open at the base of the truss.

The flower stem will snap off cleanly at its junction with the main stem.

Prompt removal plus occasional food and water results in continuous color on healthy looking plants.

NEARLY 8,000 VISITORS toured HMC Dockyard at the weekend for "open house" aboard the 25 warships taking part in this week's Centennial naval assembly. Here they inspect the United States guided missile frigate, King, largest of three destroyer-leader vessels provided by the U.S. Navy. Some 520-feet long, she will anchor off Royal Roads Tuesday with ships from the Canadian and Japanese Navies. Sunday was Dockyard's busiest day with 5,052 persons passing through the gates. The ships leave Thursday for Vancouver.

Tired of Waiting at the Tee? Try Quiet Game at N. Pender

By JAN GOULD

Would you believe there's a golf course where you don't have to line up to tee off?

Pack your family, your golf clubs and yourself, head for the Mayne Queen at Swartz Bay and to to Pender Island.

Admittedly, it's not Uplands but it is an attractive and well-kept course. It caters to South and North Pender residents and guests.

HONOR SYSTEM

As a guest, you'll be on an honor system, both with fees and scores. You can play all the golf you like for $2 a day. Deposit your fee in a deposit box attached to the clubhouse, take a score card and pencil from another box and there you are — often the only golfer in sight with maybe just a cow or two staring at you from a hillside farm.

The rest of the family? They can go for walks along quiet Grimmer Road, down to the store at Port Washington or for a long explore-the-countryside session which could take them anywhere.

A small bridge links North and South Pender Island. Hike anywhere and eventually you'll come to a public beach. Try South Pender for bright beachstones, rock pools and crevices filled with sea urchins and brilliant ananemones. North Pender offers as much plus plenty of interesting driftwood, clams and oysters.

Now you've persuaded your family to keep busy collecting creeps of the deep you can hie-off to the golf course with a clear conscience.

RESORTS

Accommodation is no problem. Pender Island is equipped with good resorts and lodges. Make reservations in advance.

A new recreation centre, catering specifically to yachtsmen has just opened. It's the Scots Lair at Browning Harbor where the enterprising Dennis family is busy finishing the swimming pool and tennis courts that accompany their smart restaurant and store. As well as good resorts, Pender offers a provincial campsite, Prior Park on North Pender.

ON OWN

Prior Park provides water, wood and a place for your tent, then you're on your own. The resorts can compete offering swimming pools, archery, bicycling and you name it. Anyway, you can relax on the way to the golf course by knowing the children will be too busy to miss you.

If you want to make golfing on an uncrowded course a full-time recreation, you can retire to Pender Island. Residents pay a club admittance fee of $50. After that the yearly fee is $24 for men, $12 for women and $36 a family.

Go-Ahead Given Power Line

NORTH COWICHAN — The municipality has agreed to allow B.C. Hydro to go ahead with laying of power lines between Maple Mountain and Genoa Bay.

However, Hydro still has individual compensation claims to settle with smaller land owners whose property they will cross.

The municipality and Coun. Whittaker are the two major property owners in the area.

Many smaller owners had asked the municipality to represent them in settling claims with the Hydro authority.

Reeve Morton made it clear that while they agreed to speedy installation of the lines, they would not sign any compensation of the lines, they would not sign any compensation claims until all the smaller land owners involved had been satisfied.

The new line will link up with the big converter station being built opposite the new municipal hall, three miles north of Duncan.

'VIGOR, CO-OPERATION'

Renewed Effort In Sewer Drive

NORTH COWICHAN — With three defeated bylaws in the background, both sides in the citizens' dispute over a municipal sewer system met at the weekend.

It was a closed meeting and a vague announcement after said: "It was decided the whole matter be pressed with vigor and co-operation."

Tom Burge, acting as chairman, made it clear the two groups are unified in their desire to see proper sewage disposal in the area.

But both pointed out what they called costly and wasteful duplication of transmission lines and disposal plants.

The critics of the $465,000 bylaw say the area could be more cheaply serviced by linking up with the city of Duncan.

They have previously petitioned to secede from North Cowichan.

Joseph Ball, representing supporters of the bylaw, said it is impossible for a citizens' group to properly understand the engineering problems involved.

He said the whole matter would have to be placed in the hands of experts.

'ALL AVENUES'

The joint meeting unanimously affirmed that the sewage problem should not become a political football and that they will explore "all avenues towards obtaining a proper and adequate system."

Meantime municipal council is awaiting a letter from Dr. Hamish Symons, director of Central Vancouver Island Health Unit, saying lack of sewers in the area is a distinct hazard to public health.

Council will then decide whether to invoke powers in the Municpal Act to have the sewer system installed compulsorily.

4-H Picnic On Wednesday

DUNCAN — Vancouver Island 4-H members will hold a picnic on Cowichan Exhibition grounds Wednesday evening.

The picnic, arranged by Cowichan-Cobble Hill junior 4-H council, will last from 6 until dark.

Events will include horseshoe pitching, nail-driving, foot races, knitting contests, pony rides, pie-eating and the annual senior versus junior softball game.

BRIDGE LESSON

By OSWALD and JAMES JACOBY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Jim: "You have played with everyone from the best to the worst. What type partner is the one who annoys you the most?"

Oswald: "In the 'Mikado' the Lord High Executioner sings, 'I've got them on my list.' I have a long list but I guess the top spot goes to the man who feels that he must show me that he has a five-card suit."

Jim: "You mean the man who insists on rebidding any five-card suit for fear you won't know about it?"

Oswald: "I might well have raised my partner directly to two spades. Three trumps to the king is certainly reasonable support, but in view of my 4-3-3-3 distribution I elected to rebid to one no-trump. When South jumped to three spades, I had no choice but to raise him to four. I held only one honor in each of the four suits and if he was afraid of one of them, I was also."

Jim: "I take it that he didn't make ten tricks at spades."

Oswald: "No, indeed. He struggled, thought, huddled and made a production number of the whole play but the defence held on to the right cards and he wound up with the nine tricks he started with."

Jim: "The same nine tricks you would have made at no-trump."

Oswald: "The very same. I guess it was my fault anyway. I could have rebid to three no-trump and maybe I should have but I just can't bring myself to deny my partner support when he rebids his major suit and I have three to the king."

Jim: "The point is, South should just have raised you to three no-trump. He did hold five spades but they were going to be tricks at no-trump as well as spades."

Andy Stephen Looks at TV

The CBC annual report tabled in the House of Commons last week shocked many with the disclosure that it cost over $154 million to keep it going.

Two of the reasons given for the high cost were the expense of color television and coverage of centennial events.

That same annual report showed that by March 31 some 98.6 per cent of all Canadians in Canada could get CBC radio in some form, and 95.8 per cent could get CBC television.

However, there may be as many as 255 communities of 500 people or more who still cannot receive a satisfactory radio signal.

Stephen

The CBC announced two experiments during the year which may help provide or speed up coverage for some of these communities. One involves a special television transmitter called a Frontier Coverage Package, the other, an experimental use of low-power FM transmitters to carry AM service in areas where no suitable AM frequencies are available.

With a list of some 6,000 centennial events across Canada to choose from, the report showed that by March 31, program production already totalled more than 120 hours on television and more than 260 hours on radio.

Individual programs were watched by up to nearly 2 million Canadians on the French network, up to 4 million on the English network.

CBC radio and television programs won awards or recognition at 17 festival competitions, 14 of them non-Canadian.

Some 27 countries, including Britain, the United States, France and Japan, broadcast to their citizens more than 40 CBC domestic productions which they either bought or exchanged.

A $10 million broadcasting complex for the nations of the world to cover Expo 67 and major productions for coverage of the Pan-American Games (still to come), and the visits of the Royal Family and heads of state also was included.

There is no doubt that some of the money is being ill-spent. This corner is not going to defend the corporation because $154 million is still a lot of money and many times the product received leaves a lot to be desired.

But, by the same token, the corporation is striving to live up to a goal of servicing as many Canadians as possible with radio and television.

MORE DEATHS, LOOTING

What Would You Do? Rioting Negroes Ask

By LEE LINDER

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—Negro leaders say the Newark riot was caused basically by the same things that have caused racial rioting and chaos in other urban slums.

They say Negroes were fed up with broken promises for new low-rent housing, better schools, better jobs and equal justice from police.

This was the powder keg of unsolved issues, simmering for many years through many hot summers, that exploded violently last Wednesday night after the arrest of a Negro cab driver.

The bloody rampage—which so far has resulted in 24 deaths, 1,100 wounded, 1,300 arrested and property loss of more than $5,000,000 — was blamed on "racist, brutal white cops and a mayor who refused to work with poor, helpless, frustrated people," said Oliver Lofton, administrator of the Newark legal services project, which operates on federal anti-poverty funds.

BOILING POT

Here, as elsewhere, it was a minor unconnected incident that ignited the powder—and it was during the hot, humid summer nights on steamy, crowded sidewalks.

It's a time when idle young men, without jobs, money or a place to go, seem to vent their frustrations with sudden fury.

That's how it went in 1964 when minor traffic mishaps triggered violence and looting in North Philadelphia and New York's Harlem.

And it was something similar in Los Angeles' Watts that erupted into the worst U.S. racial rampage in August, 1965, when six days of burning, looting and shooting killed 34 and caused $50,000,000 damage.

CUSTOMARY COMPLAINTS

Everywhere the complaints were the same: housing, jobs, education, and end to poverty and police brutality.

Lofton, a former assistant U.S. attorney, heads a staff of 14 that represents taxi driver John W. Smith and more than 1,000 adults and teen-agers arrested in what Governor Richard J. Hughes described as a "criminal insurrection."

The governor said only three or four per cent of the city's 200,000 Negroes were involved in the rioting, and he blamed a "criminal and subversive element"—perhaps as few as 20 or 25 persons—for continuing the rebellion against law and order.

He said the rioters were "people who say they hate the white man but who really hate America."

Lofton said Hughes was "dead wrong."

What bothered the Newark Negro community more than anything else were three things.

1. The recent all-out effort by the mayor to locate a new state medical school in the Negro slums. The school might displace as many as 22,000 persons.

2. The effort to name a white man as board of education secretary, for a school system that is 70 per cent black, over a Negro they felt more qualified.

3. Whether the anti-poverty program should be handled by the poor.

OPPOSE SIZE

Robert Curvin, former Congress of Racial Equality leader, said Negroes aren't opposed to developing the area where the medical school would be built—"but it should be located on 15 acres, not 150, and the rest set aside for low-rent homes and parks.

"We have held many demonstrations and sit-ins in the past but we have achieved nothing," said Curvin. "There has been absolutely no concession, no compromise, no offer from the city government to aid the plight of the poor."

Jesse Allen, head of the peoples action group, said: "Kids in the ghetto have no spending money and can't get jobs. Everyday we have many kids begging for help in getting work.

"And there's also no recreation areas and when the kids don't work and have no place to play, they stand around on the street, and then the police come along, and tell 'em to move on, but they have no place to go.

"What the hell—what would you do?"

MAKES PLEA

James Hooper, chairman of Newark's chapter of the Congress of Racial Equality, said Negroes pleaded with Mayor Hugh Addonizio, "to do something about these things for years, but all he's say was 'if you don't like what I'm doing, then vote me out—if you can.'"

Phil Hutchings of the Student Non-violent Co-ordinating Committee said impatient Negroes unable to wait any longer are "fighting back in the only way the city will let them."

"They knew what they were doing, too," added Hutchings. "They only destroyed those things which they believe are keeping them down."

Dr. Nathan Wright, community relations adviser to the Newark Episcopal (Anglican) diocese, said:

"The kind of housing the city has put up is not fit to live in. The job training programs serve imaginary needs. Unemployment, crime, venereal disease, tuberculosis in Newark are among the highest in the nation."

The mayor doesn't agree. Newark, which has a population density of more than 18,000 a square mile — possibly the most compact in the U.S.—listed 32 per cent of its housing as slums in 1960. Today Addonizio claims this has been cut by half and more homes are being built.

HEALTH OFFICE DENIAL

Increase in Rats Called 'Eyewash'

Reports that the rat population of Southern Vancouver Island has "exploded" in recent weeks were termed "eyewash" this morning.

Senior Health Officer for Greater Victoria, Dr. J. L. M. Whitbread said there had been no increase in complaints about rats and, in the judgment of sanitary inspectors, no increase in the rat population.

"Throughout the year we get about 20 complaints a week regarding rats," he said. "As soon as they are received we order poison bait to be laid down and clear the situation up. There has been no increase in those complaint calls during recent weeks."

Dr. Whitbread urged all residents in Greater Victoria to report rat sightings to the Metropolitan Health Board so that quick action might be taken.

"The Hartland Road dump is carefully controlled," he said. "Poison bait is put down twice a week whether we have any rat reports on not. And the dump is vistited once a week on a regular basis by sanitary inspectors."

Dr. Whitbread said the rat population can fluctuate rapidly.

"The rat population can show a rapid increase over a period of two weeks," he said. "This may have happened, although we think it doubtful because we are soon informed by telephone. The fact that there has been no increase in complaints is significant."

But just to make sure things are not getting out of hand rodent control procedures will be stepped up this week.

"If there has been a slight increase it will be eliminated before this weekend," Dr. Whitbread said. "At Hartland Road we have instituted a crash program and shall place poison bait, twice as strong as normal, on the dump each day this week."

The last night-check of the Hartland dump was made on July 9 at which time the inspector reported no significant increase.

"The operator of the Hartland dump has been most co-operative," Dr. Whitbread said. "He operates one of the best garbage dumps a community could have — but it is still a dump, not sanitary landfill."

Dr. Whitbread added that the health board supplied the poison for rat control in the Greater Victoria area and advice to unorganized territories.

"In both organized and unorganized areas the rat problem remains much as it has always been," he said. "There is certainly no cause for alarm."

Youth Section

MONTREAL (CP)—A "revolutionary" youth movement within the separatist Rassemblement pour l'independance nationale has been set up in Quebec. The group, called Les Jeunesses rinistes, was defined by its organizers as a movement for social and political pressure, made up of students and workers between the ages of 15 and 23.

FINAL ACCOUNTING MADE OF KUPER INDIAN FUND

A total of $13,043.56 was collected to send the Island school's drum and fife band on a week's visit to Expo.

S. J. Willis Junior Secondary School made a great contribution, raising $2,988.35 through the efforts of students and in donations received at the school.

One of Our Trains Missing But Otherwise It's Chaos

By JOHN LeBLANC

LONDON (CP)—The gentlemen in bowlers and furled umbrellas and the girls in miniskirts are eyeing the big board with the desperation of Wall Streeters watching U.S. Steel go through the cellar in 1929.

It is 6:35 p.m., and a muffled clanging behind the board produces an assortment of names and figures that mean the Southern Railway's 6:20 to Itchen Abbas has trickled into position and will soon be leaving on Track 9 if all goes well.

There is a polite cheer from some of the big crowd of board-watchers, and a segment detaches itself and marches purposefully past the pigeons of cavernous Waterloo Station to Track 9. The train may or may not be leaving from Track 9.

A pleasant lady on the loudspeaker system may break into the amplified strains of Mozart's Eine Kleine Nachtmusik to announce that everyone on Track 9 should hustle over to Track 14. Only when the train moves off do the commuters relax.

Multiply this by several hundred and throw in most of the minor quirks that can bedevil a railway, and you have the first week of the government-operated Southern's new and improved timetable. Headaches for the Southern and cold dinners for its 300,000 commuters have been the rule since last Monday.

OPEN SYSTEM

The "new deal for commuters" came about with the opening of an £18,000,000 ($54,000,000) electrification of the Southern's main line between Waterloo, Southampton and Bournemouth. While it was at it, the Southern threw in an extra 33 rush-hour trains a day, involving a monumental juggling of schedules.

Transport Minister Barbara Castle rode on the first train, and sort of set the tempo for the week. With one thing and another, like a displaced conductor rail at Basingstoke and a fire in the timbers of a wooden railway bridge at Pokesdown, she got back to Waterloo about 40 minutes late.

Occasionally, the loudspeaker lady announces that one or another train won't be running at all, which may mean that the 6:06 has just turned up in time to be the 6:36.

"Information on the 6:30 to Alton will be given as soon as it becomes available."

An explanation for this is that some electronic "coders" attached to trains, which automatically send out news of its whereabouts, have been wrongly programmed.

The Surrey Comet reports the case of a Kingston man looking for his train who asked a uniformed Southern man for help. The employee said he was its engineer and couldn't find it either.

The trains have displaced the weather as the current London grouch; are keeping the letters-to-the-editor columns filled, and also producing a new topic for wall-scribblers. A Waterloo announcement that reprints of the new timetable will soon be available had this pencilled underneath: "Plan your orders now for this outstanding work of fiction."

David McKenna, chairman and general manager of the Southern, joined the letter-writers Friday with a "so sorry" note in the Evening News. McKenna, whose job with the already-loaded railway has been described as the most horrifying commuter post in Europe even before the change, was asked in an interview if he considers he's the most unpopular man in town.

"I think," he said, "that's overstating things a little."

YOUR HEALTH

'Pink-Eye' Highly Catching

By DR. WALTER C. ALVAREZ

People write asking if an acute conjuctivitis can be catching. Yes, it can be, and this is why every member of a family ought to have his or her own towel and washrag. Fortunately most types of conjuctivitis in this country are not destructive to the eyes. The layman's term for a conjuctivitis is "pink-eye." The conjuctiva is the white lining of the eyeballs and the lids. The symptom may be some burning or extra tearing.

Alvarez

Poor people living in hovels, and especially the children of the very poor in the Orient, often catch a severe eye infection that is called trachoma. It thickens the eyelids and clouds the cornea or window of the eye. It is hard to cure, and among the very poor is can cause loss of sight. The North American Indians of the U.S. Southwest who live in huts are subject to trachoma.

If I were to get a "pink-eye," I would go immediately to my ophthalmologist and get some antibiotic eyedrops.

Nowadays, with the strenuous efforts often being made to start up respiration and pulse in persons who have apparently died, it is a serious question — when should the doctors stop their effots at resuscitation? So commonly when a man has had a big heat attack or a big stroke and has dropped to the floor, he is unconsious and practically dead. Sometimes, as when a patient quits breathing on the operating table, strenuous efforts, with special apparatus, and perhaps with massage of the heart, the doctors can bring back pulse and respiration. But if after five minutes no results have been optained, it will probably be very unwise and unkind to go on trying to bring the person back to life.

A while ago I read an article about a lawsuit in which a woman got a judgment for some $250,000 against a physician who, after 20 minutes of tremendous effort, succeeded in getting her husband's heart to beating again. The court decreed that the doctor should not have gone on trying to bring the man back to life after five minutes, by which time the upper — thinking — part of his brain was dead. What happened then? The man was left unconscious for the rest of his life — and with good medical and nursing care in a hospital he could live on as a vegetable for years.

I hope this information about the five minute limit can give comfort to many a now grieving woman who keeps saying year after year, "If, when my husband dropped to the floor apparently dead, if only 15 minutes later, when firemen arrived with a pulmotor, they could have gotten him to breathing again — if only . . . if only." Actually, it would probably have been a horrible disaster, if, after 10 or 15 minutes, the man had started breathing, and his heart had started beating.

Youngsters Return

DUNCAN — Twenty-four youngsters from Cowichan schools return this week from a two-week visit to eastern Canada under the centennial youth travel program.

An equal number of youngsters arrive here Aug. 1 from Richmond Hill, Ont.

ASK ANDY

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy.

Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes. The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia and of the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe.

Andy sends a complete, 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia to Lynda Cofer, age 14, of Clarkston, Washington, for her question:

How much energy do we get from the sun?

Suppose the sun produced peas all year and shot them out in all directions at a steady rate of one billion per second. Just two of the little round missiles from the celestial peashooter would strike the earth every second. During a year, every spot on land and sea would get a quota of whacks.

Our beaming sun, of course, is a nuclear powerhouse pouring forth electromagnetic energy from every spot on its surface. In units of horse power, its total output has been estimated to be around 50 — followed by 23 zeros. One part in 200 million stikes the planets. The rest fans on out across the universe as light that winks at other stars, and as radio, X-rays and other wave lengths of electromagnetic energy. One part in half a billion parts of this fabulous energy is intercepted by our orbiting earth. It speeds across 93 million miles of interplanetary space at 186,000 miles a second. The light beam that just struck your face left the surface of the sun about 8½ minutes ago.

The average amount of solar energy that reaches the earth is estimated to be around 170 million billion watts. This equals about 126 million million horsepower. If all this solar radiation reached the ground in usable forms, it would supply more than 50,000 nousepower units of energy for every human person. But only about 75 million billion watts, less than half the total quota, reaches the surface of the land and seas.

About 55 per cent of our share of solar energy is reflected back into space or absorbed by our blanketing atmosphere. We sometimes see a fraction of our reflected sunlight as earthshine on the face of the New Moon. The rest bounces off into space and is wasted. The atmosphere stops a minimum of 15 per cent of our quote of solar energy from reaching the surface. The clouds that shroud about half the globe screen out up to 40 per cent.

Absorbs Energy

The atmosphere tends to filter out ultraviolet ray, X-rays and the penetrating particles of solar energy that are dangerous to living tissues. Our thick, airy blanket is a shield that protects both plant and animal life from exposure to these types of radiation. Our total quota of solar energy, or course, does not strike the surface of the globe evenly. It falls upon only one side of the rotating earth at a time. It falls in larger quantities from straight rays when the sun is directly overhead. Slanting sunbeams pierce through thicker slices of atmosphere and lose up to 90 per cent of their heat before they reach the surface.

On every spot of the earth's surface, the solar energy varies with the day and the seasons, with weather conditions and with the sloping surface of the globe. At the top of the atmosphere, an area 10 by 12 inches square gets enough solar energy to run a 60-watt lamp — and more than half of this is lost on the way down.

Scientists have estimated how the earth budgets its quota of energy from the sun. About 25 percent of the total is used to evaporate 1,000 billion tons of moisture. Another 2½ per cent powers the winds and ocean currents. The earth's plant life absorbs roughly 8 per cent of our global solar energy. This portion indirectly supplies our oxygen, our vegetables and food for the animals that give us meat and dairy products. Plants store the sunshine of ages. Our coal, petroleum and other fuels are drawn from their reservoirs of ancient solar energy.

Andy sends a 14" World Book Globe to Megan McLeod, age 10, of Huntington, Connecticut, for her question:

How long have we been using zippers?

Until the 20th century, people depended upon hooks and eyes, buttons and bows to fasten their clothes. The first zipper was a line of hooks and eyes with a sliding tab to open and close them. It was invented in 1892 by Whitcomb Judson of Chicago. A better model was perfected in 1912. The hooks and eyes were replaced by metal teeth and a slide was used to interlock the whole row together. The same slide smoothly unlocked the meshed teeth.

The neat gadget was not called a zipper until later, and it did not become popular overnight. In 1924, the Goodrich Rubber company created rubber overshoes, using this type of slide fastener to make it easy to put them on and take off. The handy galoshes were marketed under the trade name of Zippers. Their most popular feature turned out to be their smooth fasteners.

Stewing SOBs Can't Bear It

McCLEARY, Wash. (AP)—The score at the annual bear festival in this Grays Harbor county town Saturday was SOT's 7,000, SOB's 3.

And the winners credited the losers with building up their team.

The SOT's—Save Our Trees committee—put on an annual celebration with bear meat stew for allcomers as a top attraction. The main ingredient helps cut down the bear population around McCleary. Residents say the bears eat trees, so are a threat to this logging community's prosperity.

In fact, the SOT's claimed the SOB's helped draw the crowd of 7,000 which viewed the bear festival parade, then joined the chow line.

The celebration swelled McCleary's population to more than six times its normal 1,115.

HUNDREDS SEE CANSO HIT MOUNTAIN AT GOLDSTREAM

Water Bomber Crash Kills Two

The plane dumps load, begins to disintegrate

Wing Clips Tree During Fire Run

By PETE LOUDON

The pilot and co-pilot, Alex M. Davidson, 43, and R. T. "Paddy" Moore, 45, both of Sidney, died instantly.

Forestry officials said the fire started at 4 p.m. The Flying Firemen, under contract to the B.C. government, were called in at 4:30 p.m.

It is uncertain how many trips over the fire the aircraft made before the crash at about 6:50 p.m.

But the fire, visible from the highway in Goldstream area, had attracted hundreds of sightseers. Many were parked and watching the operation when the tragedy occurred.

Cars travelling north and south were slowed to a crawl and RCMP were endeavoring to keep them moving.

Taking Water From Finlayson Arm

Eyewitnesses said the aircraft was making landings on Finlayson Arm, loading its 1,157-gallon tanks by skimming over the water with a "probe" or scoop, then flying over the fire to "bomb it with a deluge.

Thre path of the plane carried it south from Finlayson Inlet directly over the intersection of the Trans-Canada Highway and the road which cuts off to Goldstream Inn. There the plane would turn to approach the mountain.

Dropping its load of water, it would then head back to the inlet.

At the time of the fatal drop the plane appeared to veer to the east over the fire, striking a wing on nearby trees and falling at a point beyond the fire.

The plane burst into a pillar of flame. The bodies were found 150 feet from the main part of the plane. The plane was scattered over a wide area.

See pictures, stories pages 2, 17

The fire started by the crash was quickly controlled. The bodies were not brought out until this morning.

Herbert and Mabel Guttormson, 2516 Florence Lake Road, were standing near Goldstream Inn.

"He seemed awfully close to the trees," said Mr. Guttormson.

"He came in toward the lower part of the fire," said Mrs. Guttormson.

"I saw pieces coming off. He was veering toward the right when he crashed," the husband said.

"It didn't explode until after it fell to the ground. Just before the crash he got in behind some trees.

Mr. Guttormson said it was windy.

"I remarked about it. He was flying so low with all that wind."

Mr. and Mrs. William Hutchinson, 3460 Cedar Hill, had been watching the fire for half an hour and were taking pictures. They were standing opposite Goldstream (Shell) Garage, 2892 Trans-Canada Highway.

"The plane would come over us and we'd pick it up in the view-finder and follow it until it dropped its load.

"I was watching, and all of a sudden I saw a wing go up in the air and pieces flying off as he apparently hit the top of a tree. Then she bellied right down under the trees, out of sight."

They were taken by an amateur photographer, William Hutchinson, who went out with his wife to take snaps of a forest fire—and was confronted with sudden death.

Both were shocked by their experience.

"It's awful to know we could just stand there and watch men die," he said.

BILL EYED TO HALT RAIL STRIKE

A bill was expected on President Johnson's desk before day's end. (See page 21.)

Meanwhile, Canada today placed an embargo on mail bound for the United States because of the strike.

First class mail (letters travelling by air or land) will continue to be reecived and dispatched but other classes of mail will be held in Canada until the strike ends.

UN Team Moves In At Suez

Times News Services

Egypt and United Nations truce officials have reached agreement on details regarding the work of UN ceasefire observers in the tense Suez Canal area, Egyptian foreign ministry sources in Cairo said today.

The agreement followed a reported hitch which delayed the start of observation work along the canal Sunday. The points agreed on were not disclosed.

Meanwhile, Egyptian and Israeli guns along the waterway were silent for the second straight day.

The two Arab leaders Sunday night ended discussions in Cairo on the Middle East war aftermath with Presidents Nasser of Egypt, Nureddin Atassi of Syria and Ismail el Azhari of Sudan.

A communique on the talks said the five Arab leaders agreed to take effective measures to wipe out all traces of "Zionist imperialistic aggression."

They also approved a proposal by Azhari that Arab foreign ministers should meet soon in Khartoum, Sudan.

CHECK CANAL AREA

Small teams of UN observers, acting under a Security Council mandate, were on both sides of the canal, making preparations to observe the operation of the new ceasefire that halted the air and artillery battles Saturday.

The semi - official Cairo newspaper Al Ahram said the start of the UN patrols had been layed by continuation of talks in Cairo and Tel Aviv by Lt.-Gen. Odd Bull of Norway, the head of the UN Palestine truce organization.

AP correspondent Dennis Neeld reported from the Israeli headquarters at El Quantara, on the canal, that Egypt had refused to allow direct communication between UN observers on opposite sides of the canal.

LOCKED ROOM TURNED 'INTO FLAMING OVEN'

JAY, Fla. (AP) — Thirty-seven prisoners were killed Sunday at a state prison road camp when disgruntled convicts fired scrap paper and inadvertently turned their locked barracks into a flaming oven, state officials said today.

Fourteen of the 51 prisoners inside the burning barracks, which recently became racially-integrated were rescued. Six were taken to hospital with burns and eight were transferred to the jail at Pensacola.

The fire was set by prisoners, said Louis Wainwright, director of the state corrections division. A guard saw two prisoners — one a Negro and another white — touching lighted matches to newspapers, Wainwright said.

G. C. Mayne, Jr., assistant warden at the camp, earlier said the barracks erupted into flame when battling prisoners, a Negro and a white, broke a gas line and smashed a fluorescent lamp.

Wainwright said he didn't know exactly why the men were displeased. "That's what we have to find out. There has been no indication that any racial problem was involved at all."

Asked why more prisoners did not flee the burning building after the door was unlocked, Wainwright said: "The guard told them to get out. Apparently they panicked."

Among the dead was a prisoner who started the newspaper-fed fire, Wainwright said. Wainwright declined to give their names.

Rescue workers retrieved 35 bodies when the embers cooled several hours later. A reporter at the scene said 19 victims were found in the showers, where they apparently had sought safety by dousing themselves with water. The other two victims ran from the burning building and dropped dead on a lawn.

"The entire room was wrapped up with fire," the Santa Rosa sheriff's dispatcher, H. C. Crawford, quoted a surviving prisoner brought to county jail at nearby Milton. All eight unharmed convicts were jailed there overnight.

"Somebody hollered 'fire,'" Gerald Milligan, the prisoner, was quoted as saying. Milligan said he was sitting on his bunk removinr his shoes. Then, he said, the fire "swept the whole top of the building."

"They began to pass out," Milligan said. He said he ducked under beds and crawled toward the locked door holding his nose.

PLAN AIRLIFT FOR 3,000 FROM BIAFRA

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — About 3,000 Europeans and Americans were trying to get out of secessionist Biafra today as federal Nigerian troops advanced toward the rebel capital of Enugu.

Them UN truce fellas will be talkin' t' soldiers t'day but they don't want t' see any big shots.

Uncle Zeke got caught last year in one o' them airline strikes so yest'day he booked home from Miami by train.

TODAY'S GRAIN PRICES

WINNIPEG (CP)—Flax, rapeseed and rye markets showed brisk rallying tendencies in fairly active trade on the Winnipeg Gra niExchange today.

The advances were caused by moisture and deterioration in most areas of the Prairie grain belt. These reports stimulated some buying and overseas support in flax and rapeseed.

Rapeseed was also helped by firmer soybean prices in Chicago.

Oats and barley trade disclosed a few domestic orders associated with feed supply.

CHICAGO (AP)—Wheat and rye futures, influenced by lack of moisture in the northern United States and Canada, advanced 3 to 4 cents a bushel on the Chicago board of trade today.

A reported lack of moisture in Canada that might seriously affect the rye and wheat crops this year strengthened prices on the exchange around mid-session. Prices gained strength as the session wore on.

Violent Strike Over

NEWPORT NEWS, Va. (AP)—A week-long strike marked by sporadic violence ended at the huge Newport News shipyard Sunday as union workers overwhelmingly approved a settlement recommended by their leaders.

Spokesmen for the union, the 15,000-member Peninsula Shipbuilders' Association, said a general return to work would begin with the midnight shift at the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Co.

The vote was 7,418 for acceptance, 995 against, said L. W. Gauley, president of the union.

A walkout by some 300 workers in the shipyard's transportation department July 5 led to a yardwide strike last Monday — the first in the 81-year history of the company, which employs 21,000 persons.

The night a riot erupted at the plant gates involving more than 3,000 strikers, police and non-strikers. It swirled into downtown Newport News and 25 persons were injured before it was controlled.

The company agreed to restore to their jobs the three discharged workers and to take no disciplinary action against them.

Warner, Seven Arts To Merge

TORONTO (CP) — Shareholders of Seven Arts Production Ltd. of Toronto and Warner Bros. Pictures Inc. of Wilmington, Del., have voted to merge the two companies.

Spokesmen said the new company is the world's biggest movie producer and distributor.

The Toronto vote was 1,392,733 shares in favor of the deal, worth nearly $180,000,000 and 1,005 against. Warner Bros. shareholders approved the plan earlier.

Warner Bros. shareholders get $5 cash plus one-third of a Seven Arts common share and $10 principal amount of five per cent convertible subordinated debentures for each share held.

The new company will be called Warner Bros.-Seven Arts Ltd. Warner now distributes its movies through theatres and Seven Arts sells its films to television stations.

'HUNGRY SUMMER'

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (UPI) — Copper production in the U.S. was almost at a standstill today and striking workers looked forward to a "long, hungry summer."

About 37,000 workers at mines, mills smelters and refiners of the four major producers and several small companies walked off the job Saturday in a dispute over wages. Federal mediators Sunday conceded that they could see no quick end to the dispute, which involves 90 per cent of the industry.

Industry sources said copper consumers had about a three months supply on hand, but about one-quarter of production was earmarked for defence.

Interest 5½ Per Cent

VANCOUVER (CP)—Premier Bennett today announced a new $50,000,000 British Columbia Hydrp and Power Authority parity bond issue at the rate of 5½ per cent interest.

Mr. Bennett made the announcement at a breakfast for Vancouver investment dealers.

Car Output Up

OTTAWA (CP) — Canadian plants turned out 75,941 cars and 24,985 commercial vehicles in June, an over-all increase of 9.9 per cent over the same month of 1966, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported today.

Scholarship Program Asked

DETROIT (UPI) — The United Auto Workers asked the auto makers today to set up joint company-union scholarship programs for workers and their children.

The scholarship request was one of eight "position papers" handed to General Motors Corp. as the UAW finished its presentation of 39 such papers.

The latest demands were relatively minor and their delivery opened the way for bargainers to begin discussion of major UAW demands which compose the most expensive list of proposals in the history of auto industry labor negotiations.

The UAW's militancy, backed by a $65 million strike fund, combined with an apparent hardening attitude by the companies to raise the spectre of a possible strike when the contracts expire in September.

Plastic Industry Expanding Fast

HALIFAX (CP) — The plastics industry in Nova Scotia is geared for a rapidly expanding market with the construction of two new plants this year.

Newest company to enter the field is Chester Plastics Ltd., which in March announced plans to build and equip a $500,000 plant for the manufacture of small plastic containers for cosmetics and allied industries.

The parent company, owned by Charles Nemeskeri of Vienna, Austria, already has markets in Western Europe, United States, Australia and South America.

The new plant, financed under an agreement with Industrial Estates Ltd., Nova Scotia's industry promoting corporation, also qualifies for a grant under the federal government's area development program. The plant is expected to employ 25 to 39 persons.

BEGIN CONSTRUCTION

Earlier this year, Union Carbide Canada Ltd., began construction on a seven-acre site in Amherst. The $500,000 plant will manufacture plastic film products such as packaging bags, industrial shipping bags, bread wrap and construction film.

Raw polyethylene, a chemically produced synthetic resin, will be shipped to the plant by rail from the company's Montreal east plant.

One of the first persons to realize the potential of plastics in Nova Scotia was Gordon Alguire, president and general manager of Plastics Maritime Ltd., a Halifax-based company incorporated in 1946.

Mr. Alquire is optimistic about the future of the plastics industry in the Atlantic provinces as he is about the future of the plastics industry generally.

Plastics reinforced with glass fibre are being used increasingly and several Nova Scotia companies are taking advantage of what some describe as a new breakthrough in engineering technology.

DISTRIBUTE MATERIALS

Guildfords Ltd., of Dartmouth, N.S., specializes in the manufacture and distribution of insulation and building construction materials. It makes a variety of reinforced plastic products.

Another Dartmough company, Starr Manufacturing Ltd., steel producers since 1864, opened a plastic pipe division in 1956.

The company's range of plastic pipe is finding wider uses and has revolutionized water system in rural areas of the Atlantic provinces.

In the not too distant future, the company expects it will manufacture more plastic products than steel for the first time in its history.

MARKET SUMMARIES

White Pass Up $1

White Pass and Yukon rose $1 to $18 to lead the industrials in pre-noon trading on Vancouver Stock Exchange today.

The mining section was generally strong. Peso put on .07 to reach a new high of $1.45, Artic was .07 better at $1.24 and Western Explorations gained .04 to .32 on 91,000 shares.

Losses, however, went to Brenda, down .15 to $5.50, and Texmont, off .06 to .92.

In the oils, Plains was once again a heavy trader and gained .01 to .70 on 120,000 shares.

AT NEW YORK rail shares weathered the news of a U.S. rail strike and moved higher on balance as the over-all stock market continued an advance late today. Trading was active. Volume for the first four hours was 7,690,000 shares compared with 7,860,000 for the like period Friday.

While some copper stocks reacted to the strike in the copper industry a number of non-ferrous metal companies advanced on news of the removal of the government ceiling on the price of silver. Steels resumed their advance of Friday. Rubbers advanced. Autos were higher on balance, with Chrysler up more than 2.

Atlas Corp. paced the list on activity and gained a fraction. American Smelting, Homestake and Alcoa rose a point or more. Gains of around a point or better were made by U.S. Steel, Bethlehem, Republic Steel and Jones and Laughlin. Goodrich and Uniroyal advanced more than a point each.

Among Canadians, Granby Mining gained ½ and Massey-Ferguson ⅛. International Nickel was off ⅞, Alcan ⅜ and Distillers Deagrams ¼.

AT TORONTO western oils made a strong advance in generally light mid-afternoon trading.

Dome gained 2⅞ to 64⅝, Scurry-Rainbow 1 to 47 and Husky and Hudson's Bay ¼ each to 18 and 39½.

Mobil Oil Corp., Shell Oil Co. and Texaco Inc. of the U.S., which increased their Canadian imports to refineries on the Pacific coast by 35,000 barrels per day in June, have raised their July purchases by 30,000 barrels per day.

Trans Mountain Oil Pipe Line rose ½ to a 1967 high of 21½ following news that it plans to augment facilities on its line from Edmonton to Vancouver and Anacortes, Washington, to supplement the present line which is operating at capacity.

Among industrials, R. L. Crain advanced 1¾ to 52, B.C. Forest 1 to 20 and Shop and Save ¾ to 13½. Anthes A moved ahead ½ to 27¾ after the company announced record six-month earnings for the period ended June 30, 1967.

Uraniums moved ahead by small fractions with Rio Algom and Denison up ½ each to 34½ and 69¾ and Roman Corp. ¼ to 19¼.

AT MONTREAL the market seemed jumpy and indecisive towards 2 p.m. as stocks moved in both directions.

Dome Pete jumped 2¼ points to 65. CIL advanced ⅜ to 20 and IAC, Labatt and Trans-Mountain Pipe Line ½ each to 22, 27½, respectively.

B.C. Forest added ½ at 19⅝ and MacMillan-Bloedel ⅜ at 29⅛ among the better papers.

International Nickel lost 1¼ points to 106¼ and Hudson Bay Mining one point to 63. Hollinger slid ¾ to 26½ and CPR ⅝ to 70½. Canada Cement, Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce and Fraser Paper were all down ½ at 38, 64⅜ and 22 respectively.

Glen Lake Silver was up 30 cents at $2.50 on the Canadian exchange.

AT LONDON equity shares looked firm, the main feature being the considerable activity in nationalization steels after the government broker announced prices at which he would buy.

Elsewhere, it was left to special features among industrial shares to provide most of the gains and leaders were inclined to move lower.

Dollar stocks were dull on balance although sentiment was helped by a recovery in the dollar premium, which had opened lower. Noranda was firmer and Canadian Pacific to 58¼ had extended an early gain. International Nickel was off the bottom at 226½.

Trans Canada Pipe was easier but other price movements among Canadian shares were insignificant. Canadian banks lacked interest.

ICI, Dunlop, Beechams, Tubes and GEC were a shade off, but Bowater and Reed were firm. Tobaccos added a few pence.

Department Store Sales Show Gain

OTTAWA (CP) — Department store sales during the week ended June 24 were up 10 per cent from the same week of 1966, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics has reported.

Percentage increases by region: Atlantic 16.1; Quebec 10.9; Ontario 11.2; Saskatchewan 8.5; Alberta 9.9; British Columbia 13.9, Manitoba was down 16.1 per cent.

$ EXCHANGE

MONTREAL (CP)—United States dollar in terms of Canadian funds was unchanged at $1.07 27/32. Pound sterling was down 1/16 at $3.00⅝.

NEW YORK (CP) — Canadian dollar up 1/64 at 92 47/64 in terms of U.S. funds. Pound sterling down 3/32 at $2.78 49/64.

Houses Threatened By Spreading Blaze

Air, Ground Attack Stepped Up Sharply

The fire which led to the deaths of two pilots Sunday is still out of control and now is threatening homes in the Florence Lake area.

A change in the wind could bring it down on other buildings in the Goldstream area, harried forestry officials said at press time.

Loggers, water district employees and forestry fire fighters have joined forces to contain it and another water bomber, a huge Martin Mars flying boat, owned by Flying Tankers Ltd., has taken over aerial attack.

The fire, which started on Skirt Mountain Sunday afternoon, is now ranging over 500 acres.

"We haven't pushed the panic button, but we're close to it," a forestry official said.

STATION IN PERIL

"We have no idea how it started but we feel it might be hikers or children or damn fool carelessness. It doesn't take much to set one going."

He said he thought the service station near Goldstream is in danger.

"We can't rely on what the wind is going to do."

The possibility that the Trans-Canada Highway might be cut by the fire and traffic stopped to up-Island points could not be wholly discounted, he added.

At present the fire force includes one Martin Mars bomber brought in from Alberni area this morning, two fixed wing spotter aircraft and a helicopter, 120 men and 13 bulldozers. Another Canso was expected later today from Prince George.

About 15 water district men with a bulldozer are trying to stem the approach of the fire toward Florence Lake where a number of houses are located.

Hazards throughout the Vancouver Forest district have been high for days with 178 fires reported this season.

89 NEW FIRES

Eighty-nine new forest fires were reported over the weekend, a B.C. Forest Service spokesman said this morning.

This brings the number of fires to 280. More than 800 men are fighting them.

In the Vancouver district, which includes the Island and lower mainland, there were 13 new fires and 23 burning. All were reported quiet except the one on Mount Skirt.

THIRD FIRE CRASH

In 1961 two other Victoria men died when a Martin Mars flying tanker crashed at Northwest Bay on Vancouver Island.

Killed were W. G. "Bud" Richmond of Sidney, captain, and W. J. Wigins of Alberni, co-pilot.

The Martin Mars, largest flying boat still operational, thundered into a hill 72 miles northwest of Nanaimo, and burst into flames. The date was June 24, 1961.

SHOWN IN THE "BUBBLE" or "blister" of the Canso which took him and his partner to death at Goldstream Sunday is Alex Davidson, who formed Victoria Flying Firemen water bombing company.

Crash Victims Led Hazardous Life In Peace, War

Both victims of the plane crash Sunday were decorated wartime fliers and ranked as pioneers in the hazardous profession of water-bombing.

Both were also husbands and fathers.

A friend of the families, Carl Smith, who has flown with Alex Davidson and "Paddy" Moore, supplied these backgrounds:

Mr. Davidson, 43, learned to fly with the RCAF. He flew Spitfires and Tempests in Second World War and earlier was an instructor on Harvard aircraft at Ottawa.

For a time he was attached to a Czechoslovakian squadron, winning a flying cross from that nation for distinguished services.

Following the war, in 1951, he joined the Royal Canadian Navy and came to Patricia Bay airport in 1952. For a time he commanded the reserve squadron here.

He retired from the navy in 1955 and was a test pilot for Fairey Aviation here until 1965, when he formed the Flying Firemen.

While with Fairey he had assisted in development of water bombing and conversion of Mars water bombers.

"He was a pioneer in the fire-fighting game," said Mr. Smith.

He said the firm has had an active year so far, fighting fires all over the province with its three converted amphibious Cansos.

Mr. Davidson found time also to encourage flying among others. He was national president of the Royal Canadian Flying Clubs Association in 1965 - 66.

He is survived by his wife, Marjorie; a son, Craig, 16, and a daughter Bernice, 19, a student nurse.

His team-mate on the fatal flight, "Paddy" Moore, 45, leaves his wife, Kathy, and three children, all boys, Robert, 19; Andrew, 16, and Donald, 10. The Moores came from Halifax this year, where Mr. Moore had served with the Royal Canadian Navy as a flier and later worked for 11 years as a test pilot.

He had served in wartime in the Royal Navy Fleet Air Arm, at which time he was awarded a Distinguished Service Cross for gallantry.

Tot Dragged 75 Feet Beside Car

Three-year-old Gordon Davies of 463 Niagara was uninjured Saturday when he was dragged about 75 feet down the street with his hand caught in the door handle of a neighbor's car.

City police constable Ray Thomas said he backed from his driveway at 444 Niagara and had driven a short distance down the street before spotting the little boy.

Gordon was returned home to his mother, Mrs. Shannon Davies, unhurt in the incident.

Frederick Marsh, 20, of 195 Sims was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital with multiple facial cuts after his auto hit a parked car on Oswego near Beckley early Sunday.

HEAVY DAMAGE

Police said both cars were heavily damaged when Marsh's auto rammed the rear of a car owned by Rita Filleul of 328 Michigan.

Mrs. Alice Devereaux of Inuvik, Northwest Territories, was treated at St. Joseph's Hospital for scalp cuts after a two-car collision at Superior and Menzies Saturday afternoon.

Damage was estimated at $1,200 when hercar, eastbound on Superior, was in collision with a car northbound on Menzies and driven by Lawrence Kirstein of 1120 Blanshard.

Man Admits Wallet Grab

A man who snatched a wallet from a sailor's belt early Sunday pleaded guilty to theft when he appeared in central court today.

James King, 42, of 1065 Willow Place, was remanded in custody for sentence July 21.

Police caught King about an hour after the incident on Johnson Street near Douglas and the wallet was found later in a Yates Street parking building, court was told.

By JIM HUME

A new 400-bed acute care hospital designed to alleviate Greater Victoria's hospital bed problem will cost the taxpayers a minimum of $16 million.

The figure is based on latest construction costs in Vancouver and is being used as a base figure by the survey team now checking on Greater Victoria's acute bed needs.

The 400-bed requirement is estimated as the minimum the area needs if a new hospital is to be built relatively close to the high population area.

Hospital planners say a new hospital requires 900 square feet per bed at a cost of $45 per square foot. The square footage per bed includes the space required for operating theatres, kitchens and other ancilliary areas.

TOO EARLY

"It is far too early at present to even suggest what solution the survey team will come up with," he said. "But latest construction cost figures certainly indicate that $40,500 per bed is the average cost of a new hospital."

At $40,500 a bed a new 400-bed hospital would cost over $16 million if construction started immediately.

Mayor Stephen warned that it is dangerous to pre-judge the survey report.

"The survey has only just got under way," he said. "It will be some time before the preliminary report is ready and I would think it will be about this time next year before the survey team has anything really concrete for us to go on."

EXTENSIONS?

The mayor added that the survey team could well recommend extensions of existing facilities rather than the building of a new hospital.

"When it comes to spending this amount of public money we have to be absolutely sure that we are doing the right thing," he said. "That is why all municipalities agreed that a comprehensive survey of our needs had to be the first step."

The costs estimated for a 400-bed acute care hospital involve construction only. Staffing and operating costs would be in addition to the $16 million.

A suggestion that any new hospital built in the area should be on the University of Victoria campus to give Uvic a school of medicine appears to have foundered early in the survey.

Estimated costs of a university hospital, excluding faculty, classrooms and other essential facilities, are well over $20 million.

Requirements for a teaching hospital set the minimum floor space per bed at 1,400 square feet.

Recreation Chief Appointed Soon

A recreation manager for Saanich will be chosen "quite soon," Reeve Hugh Curtis said today.

The municipal personnel committee is down to several finalists from the more than 130 persons who applied for the job.

The successful applicant will take charge of the $1.25 million recreation program approved by ratepayers earlier this year. First stage is the $425,000 Tillicum ice arena.

Arbitration Hearing Starts On Estate Price

A three-man board of inquiry met in Victoria Law Courts today to consider the value of a 120-acre property on the McRae estate expropriated by Saanich council.

The board, comprising Richard Anderson, Vancouver, chairman; Ian Horne, QC, and Douglas Peaker, Victoria, adjourned at 11 a.m. to look over the estate.

The hearing was to be resumed this afternoon.

The dispute is over the price Saanich has offered for the site, which includes Cedar Hill Golf Course.

The McRae family has agreed on the principle of selling the property to the municipality for use as a large open area in the heavily populated part of southern Saanich.

Money for the purpose will come from the $2.4 million capital budget borrowing bylaw approved by Saanich ratepayers in December, 1965.

Youth Council 'Sick, Tired' Of Vandalism

By PAUL WILLIAMSON

Hoodlums smashed the front window of the Victoria Youth Council office early Sunday morning, an act of vandalism that may touch off a major conflict between youthful elements in the city.

Council spokesman Charles Barber said youths in a cream Mercury convertible hurled a rock through the window of the 503 Niagara St. office at 1:45 a.m. Sunday and drove off quickly.

The council has been asked to vacate the office, their fifth in less than a year.

"We're sick and tired of this treatment," said Mr. Barber.

FIFTH TIME

"If the police do not choose to act, we will find the culprits and prosecute to the limit of the law.

"This is the fifth office smashed up. We've had wiring ripped, windows and furniture smashed, and even our files stolen.

"We're serving notice to the community that we won't take this any more."

Mr. Barber was angry about the eviction, but sympathetic towards the landlord.

"He has tried to help us in every way, but he feels he has no choice because of the danger to neighbors."

The landlord, who aked that his name be withheld, said he "doesn't mind having the council as tenants.

"If I didn't want to help them, I wouldn't have let them in there, but I'm in business and I can't go against public opinion.

City police are investigating.

Two-Nation Show In Park Tonight

Canadian and Japanese bandsmen will give a two-hour concert in Beacon Hill Park bandshell tonight.

The concert, starting at 7:30, will feature the Canadian forces band from Esquimalt and sailor-bandsmen from Japanese warships attending the centennial naval assembly.

Accused Man Lost Memory For 3 Weeks

A man charged with capital murder in a shooting near Sooke nine weeks ago lost his memory for almost three weeks, a psychiatrist testified in central court today.

Dr. Edwin Mellor, on staff at Riverview mental hospital at Essondale, was the first witness heard today at a preliminary hearing into the charge against James Frederick Redlin, 37, a millwright from Coombs near Parksville.

Redlin is charged with capital murder after Mrs. Lavina Nicholson, 56, was shot dead in her bedroom early May 9 at the rear of the grocery store she and her husband operated at Saseenos.

17 WITNESSES

A total of 17 witnesses are to be heard in the hearing which will probably end Tuesday. If Magistrate Ostler finds the Crown has sufficient evidence, Redlin will be committed to trial before a higher court.

Redlin was hospitalized with head injuries following the shooting incident.

Dr. Mellor said that when he first saw the accused at Riverview June 1, Redlin was suffering from amnesia covering a period from 2½ to three weeks. He was "markedly depressed."

When he was discharged July 14, Redlin was mentally fit to instruct counsel, said the doctor.

... WATER BOMBER

Mr. Hutchinson said: "Nothing happened for maybe a second and then a huge column of fire—bright yellow fire—went straight up.

"It lasted two or three seconds while the fuel burned.

"We were both severely shocked.

"Nothing could have survived. They must have died immediately."

Saanich police sergeant John Post was parked nearer the Malahat, watching the fire-fighting operation and watching the plane scoop water from the inlet. He said he thought it was the plane's third pass when "he disappeared into the smoke and there was just a big ball of fire."

A woman standing near him began laughing hysterically, he said.

Flying Firemen Ltd. have been in service since 1965. It is a separate firm from Flying Tankers Ltd., which has operated Martin Mars water bombers in this area.

Davidson Founded, Headed Firm

Mr. Davidson was founder and president of the firm, in partnership with William Harrison of Omineca Air Services. It has operated throughout B.C. with three Cansos, wartime flying boats, and planned to have two more airborne soon.

In recent days the Canso which crashed had conducted successful attacks on a fire on Mount Finlayson.

It has also worked in the interior of the province, where the two other operational planes are now working.

An official of the firm said it is impossible to say who was flying.

'They worked as a team."

The bodies were carried down the mountain at daybreak along a trail leading to the Goldstream Garage, 2892 Trans-Canada Highway. They were brought into Victoria by Langford Ambulance.

The transport department has launched an one-site investigation and a B.C. Forest Service investigation team was on its way from Vancouver.

Coroner Edmond Jorre de St. Jorre said this morning he has directed the bodies be taken to St. Joseph's Hospital for a post-mortem. An inquest date would be set "as quickly as we can."

London Bridge May End Up In Carolina

Now he wants to buy the London Bridge.

London is planning to sell the bridge to make way for a new and larger bridge.

King called a friend in London on Friday and asked him to get details.

He figures that if London is willing, the bridge's granite supporting arches can be dismantled and sold there and the railings and other ornamentation can be shipped to North Carolina for reassembly as a tourist attraction.

North Carolina's Yadkin River would be a good place, he said.

Negro Shot In Fresno

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — Police said the Negro director of Fresno's summer anti-poverty program was shot in the arm and thigh Sunday night after a day of sporadic violence involving Negro youths.

Police said Dennis Mathis, 28, who directs a job program, was hit by a bullet fired by a white private patrolman. Police were attempting to learn whether the incident was accidental.

Monaco Royalty Outdraws Queen

OTTAWA (CP)—Prince Rainier and Princess Grace of Monaco drew a traffic-jamming 12,000 spectators to Parliament Hill Sunday for an official welcome opening a two-day visit.

The crowd was the biggest by far in the round of Centennial Year ceremonies for heads of state. With the exception of Queen Elizabeth's appearances, crowds have not exceeded 5,000.

TWO CARS

Nine Die In Road Collision

ESPANOLA, Ont. (CP)—Nine persons, four of them Americans, were killed today in the head-on collision of two cars on Highway 17 about 50 miles west of Sudbury.

It was the worst death toll in a Canadian car accident since nine were killed in a head-on collision near Kamsack, Sask., June 22, 1965.

A man and woman from St. Paul, Minn., and two women believed to be sisters from the Elmwood post office district in Wisconsin, were dead in one car.

An Ottawa man, his wife and three children died in the other.

A fourth child of the Ottawa couple, a young girl, survived the crash and was reported in serious condition in hospital at Sudbury.

Police said the Espaonla accident occurred in good weather at a slight curve in the two-lane highway. The collision occurred on the centre-line, they said.

There have been higher road tolls in Canada, but they all involved vehicles larger than cars.

Other accidents with high death tolls:

Terrace, B.C. eight dead, July 31, 1965; Vegreville, Alta., eight dead, April 8, 1966.

Highway 17 in the area of the crash is a two-lane road forming part of the Trans-Canada Highway.

WEATHER SYNOPSIS

Fair weather was reported this morning from southern and central interior while the north coast and the northern half of Vancouver Island reported cloudy conditions with a few showers.

A ridge of high pressure will maintain mainly sunny skies over southern portions of the province today. However, moist air over the north coast is expected to move southeastward over the province Tuesday bringing increasing cloudiness to most of B.C.

Surveyor Landed but Not Softly

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Plans called for Surveyor IV spacecraft to land on the moon—which it did.

But scientists questioned today whether it landed gently, as planned, or went down with a crash. The odds, they said, favor the crash—and Surveyor IV wasn't talking.

"Everything was going as planned—it just didn't go on long enough," scientist Howard Haglund said Sunday night after contact with the craft was lost.

Attempts to contact Surveyor IV were halted at 1:10 a.m., today to be started again at 5:30 p.m. at which time the craft will be over the Goldstone tracking station, 40 miles northwest of Barstow, Calif.

"All we know is that Surveyor IV is on the moon," Haglund, the project manager, added. "We don't know its condition."

The 2,290 - pound craft was heading for what looked to be a perfect textbook landing, officials at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory said.

CONTACT LOST

Then, when it was about seven miles above the moon, all contact was lost.

Controllers went through the normal landing routine, shutting off equipment, trying to test components, but they got no response.

"It will take several hours at least before we can be certain what happened," Haglund said.

"There are many possibilities but one of those uppermost in my mind is that there may have been an explosion in the rocket case just before burnout.

SKRIEN SUMS UP CAMP . . . 'HARD WORK'

"They worked."

After 14 days of hard work the Lions packed their three tons of gear and headed home for two exhibition games and the 16-game Canadian Football League schedule.

Klass Plans Suit

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — Jack Klass of Woodland Hills, Calif., will seek a court injunction to stop play in the $17,500 ladies open golf tournament at London this week if officials refuse the entry of his 10-year-old daughter, Beverly.

Play in the Ladies' Professional Golf Association event at Sunningdale Golf Club starting Wednesday is restricted to players 16 and over.

"I hope the tournament director (Joe Winter) takes a neutral position on this matter . . . otherwise I'll seek an injunction to stop the tournament," Mr. Klass said in an interview Sunday night.

Mr. Klass and his daughter arrived in London Sunday.

"I was told at Sunningdale that the age limit was set out in last year's entry, basically to prohibit amateurs from getting into the tournament for the sake of having fathers say that their daughter played against girls like Mickey Wright or Kathy Whitworth and so on.

"I feel in my own mind that this age rule was not intended for the pros, regardless of their age."

Merger Sought

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Ken Macker, commissioner of the National Professional Soccer League wants to merge with the United Soccer Association. He said the two groups will meet Friday in an effort to iron out details.

Painful Finish to 100-Mile Grind

Getting attention for cramps in legs is Victoria cyclist Alan Jones, who fell from bike as muscles cramped after he finished third in annual 100-mile race for Gary Lund Memorial Trophy. Only two seconds separated first three riders as Joe Hailey (inset) of Vancouver, beat Seattle's Bob Haye and Jones across finish line at Portage Inlet after covering route from Qualicum in 4:29:30. Next three finishers, in order, were Andy Newland, Portland; Steve Hall, Vancouver, and Mike Akerley, Portland.

RACING ROUNDUP

Gallant Native Diver In Millionaire Class

Damascus turned back the bid of lightly regarded Favorable Turn in the home stretch and won the $83,350 Dwyer Handicap at New York's Aqueduct race track Saturday.

Under top weight of 128 pounds, Damascus carried the silks of Mrs. Edith Bancroft over the sloppy 1¼ miles in 2:03 for his seventh victory in 10 outings this year.

With Bill Shoemaker using his whip liberally through the final one quarter mile, the son of Sword Dancer-Kerala hit the finish line three-quarters of a length in front of Herbert Allen's surprising Favorable Turn.

As the strong choice of the crowd of 44,551, Damascus paid $3, $2.80 and $2.40.

Favorable Turn, running his best race of the year with Ron Turcotte, a native of Grand Falls, N.B., in the saddle, returned $11.20 and $6.20 while Blasting Charge paid $4.40 for show.

For his victory in this 50th running of the Dwyer, Damascus earned $54,177 and ran his 1967 bank account to $457,069.50.

Native Diver captured the $162,100 Hollywood Gold handicap for an unprecedented third straight year, easily defeating the heavily favored Pretense in a wire-to-wire run at Inglewood, Calif.

The eight-year-old California gelding drew thunderous applause from the 52,000 or more fans packed into Hollywood Park for this 28th running of the classic.

Pretense came on to challenge in the stretch but Jockey Johnny Sellers couldn't overhaul Native Diver, ridden by his regular jockey, Jerry Lambert.

The triumph sent owner L. K. Shapiro's Native Diver into the millionaire class — $1,002,850 with the winner's purse of $112,000 in the Gold Cup.

The time for the 1¼ miles was 1:58 4-5.

Native Diver, second and sentimental favorite, paid $11.60, $2.80 and $2.10 and Pretense $2.20 and $2.10 and Biggs $2.10.

Hobeau Farm's Handsome Boy, capably ridden by Jacinto Vasquez, scored a 2½-length victory in the $112,400 Amory L. Haskell Handicap at Monmouth Park in Oceanport, N.J.

The four-year-old son of Beau Gar covered 1¼ miles in 2:02 over a sloppy track before a crowd of 29,476.

The winner paid $8.80, $4.80 and $4. Amberoid paid $3.60 and $3.20, while Good Knight returned $5.60.

The victory netted Handsome Boy $73,060 to boost his season's earnings to $116,570.

The victory was worth $32,900 to the Wheatley Stable as Stupendous covered the mile in 1:35 under his top weight of 119 pounds.

The winner paid $4.20, $3.20 and $2.40. The entry of Bold Tactics and Francis U. returned $4.20 and $2.80 and R. Thomas paid $3 to show. Francis U. was fourth.

TWICE ON SUNDAY

John Starches Lake Cowichan

Yankoski didn't plan to pitch the doubleheader. Things just worked out that way.

The steady righthander fanned 10 and didn't walk a batter to hold Lake Cowichan to two runs on six hits while his ball club pounded out an 11-2 win in the opener.

Lake Cowichan	5	11	.313	8

King's manager, short on pitching, took the mound again in the third inning of the second contest when starter Wayne Peters proved ineffective.

Once again Yankoski refused to walk a batter, guiding King's to a 10-6 victory. Leard collected two hits in the second contest, Brian Grexton stroked a double and two singles, Dennis Thompson singled and doubled to drive home three runs.

Saturday, George Hemming hurled an impressive four-hit shutout as Greaves waltzed to a 7-0 victory over King's Hotel. Jerry Lister and Dave Rivers each collected two hits and drove home two runs for the winners.

Rawlings' George Brice looked effective while stifling league leading Transports 10-2 in another Saturday contest. Manager Herb Wetherell singled twice and drove in four runs for the winners. Barry Cosier tripled off the left field wall to notch his 16th run batted in of the season as Rawlings pulled within a half game of second-place Greaves.

STONE SHAKES GLENN

Derek Stone drilled a clutch three-bagger off Luckies' Glenn Langsett with the bases loaded in the bottom of the sixth to break up a scoreless pitchers' duel Sunday.

Stone's two-out blast cleared the bases and enabled Colony Inn's Bob Labelle to post a 3-0 upset victory in the first game of a Central Park double-header against the Senior Men's Softball League leaders.

Labelle fired a slick three-hitter to earn the win. He fanned six, walked just two and set Luckies down in order in four games.

Langsett matched Labelle's scoreless effort for five innings before running into trouble in the sixth. Two walks and a single by Gary Bishop loaded the bases with two out to set up first baseman Stone's game-winning triple.

STEELERS START WORK; ACQUIRE TWO PLAYERS

Victoria Steelers have shifted their pre-season tryout camp from Royal Athletic Park to Topaz Park, manager Bill Bowes announced today.

Workouts will begin tonight and will be held nightly at 6:30 p.m. until the Continental Football League club moves to Athletic Park on August 7 to prepare for exhibition games and the league opening on August 26.

Steelers will play two pre-season games at Athletic Park, against Seattle Rangers (August 12) and Seattle Cavaliers (August 19).

Bowes also announced the signing of two more players—flanker Stan Sherman and halfback Julius "Whitey" Tuss, both from Calgary.

Gil Makes Magic; Cubs Sock Giants

Hodges' Solons Win 7th in Row

Two weeks ago, Leo Durocher and Chicago Cubs had baseball's miracle market cornered.

Hodges' Washington Senators, campaigning for a place in the sun after 20 dark years n the American League depths, reeled off their seventh successive victory Sunday, trimming Cleveland Indians 4-1 behind Ken McMullen, a .238 hitter, and Bob Humphreys, a nondescript relief pitcher making his second start in two seasons.

Elsewhere, Minnesota Twins swept a doubleheader from California Angels, 5-1 and 7-6, and climbed within one-half game of the first place Chicago White Sox, who split a twin bill with Kansas City. The Athletics won the nightcap 7-0 after bowing 5-1 in the first game. Baltimore Orioles edged New York Yankees 2-1 in 14 innings and Boston Red Sox drubbed Detroit Tigers 9-5.

OFF RELIEF

Humphreys, opening on the mound after 30 relief appearances this year, blanked the Indians on three hits before giving way to Bob Priddy in the seventh inning. McMullen walloped a pair of homers—his seventh and eighth of the season—as Washington matched its record winning string as an AL expansion club.

"I'm really worked up about this streak," said Hodges, who inherited a 10th place team halfway through the 1963 season, piloted the Senators to a ninth place finish in 1964 and has brought them in eighth the last two years.

The victory left the Senators a half game behind Baltimore's struggling 1966 champs and within 4½ lengths of the first division. The last time a Washington club finished in the top half of the AL was 1946, when the old Senators wound up fourth in an eight-team circuit.

LUSTY PINCH HIT

Bob Allison pinch hit a three-run homer for Minnesota in the first game and smacked a two-run seventh-inning shot that tied the nightcap 6-6 before Rich Rollins' leadoff homer in the ninth completed the Twins' sweep.

Dave Boswell stopped the Angels on four hits in the first game and reliever Al Worthington was the nightcap winner.

Southpaw Paul Lindblad earned KC a split at Chicago by firing a three-hitter in his first complete game of the year. The White Sox took the opener behind first-time starter Wilbur Wood.

ERNIE BANKS

. . . played it cool

Chicago's Banks On Homer Binge

Ed Kranepool had a hot time in St. Louis while Ernie Banks played it cool in San Francisco.

And the swinging times had by these two first basemen Sunday were too much for St. Louis Cardinals, who saw their National League lead cut to two games over second-place Chicago Cubs.

"I had a real cold spell after the All-Star break," said Kranepool after he turned hot with a pair of two-run homers to lead New York Mets to a doubleheader sweep of the Cardinals, 2-1 and 8-5.

The 36-year-old Banks, who likes to play in San Francisco because "the cool weather here seems to give older players a boost," hit a three-run homer and a two-run shot to help the Cubs beat the Giants 9-0 and 3-2.

NO HOMER SWING?

In other NL games Sunday, Atlanta Braves edged Pittsburgh Pirates 2-1, Philadelphia Phillies trounced Cincinnati Reds 8-0 and Houston Astros swept Los Angeles Dodgers 4-1 and 8-2.

"Fifteen homers for me is a good year because I don't have that kind of swing for home runs," said Kranepool, who connected with Tommy Davis on base in the seventh inning for his sixth homer to give the Mets their first-game victory.

Kranepool singled in a run and then unloaded again with Davis on during a five-run burst in the fifth inning of the nightcap.

ADOLFO CLINCHES IT

Banks sent a ball all the way over the fence with two aboard in the first inning of the opener and then did it again with a man on in the second inning of the nightcap.

The Cubs had no trouble in the first game, Adolfo Phillips clinching it with a grand slam home run in the sixth, but they had a real fight in the second game.

Bank's homer was the only hit off Ron Herbel until Don Kessinger singled to lead off the ninth with the score tied 2-2. Glenn Becker forced Kessinger, but Billy Williams singled Becker to third from where he scored on Ron Santo's sacrifice fly off reliever Frank Linzy.

Double M Murders Hotelmen

Ken Bate allowed just three hits while pitching the 9-1 victory in the first game. Doug Gregory hit a three-run homer. Darrel Cairns clouted a two-run circuit blast. Rich Kitto tagged Morrisons' third home run of the contest.

Muzz Smith drove home six runs with two three-run homers as Morrisons routed King's in the second game.

U.S. STRONG FOR PAN-AM

'WHO'S GOING TO STOP US?' ASKS 'CORNY' WARMARDAM

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—"This team will do very well in Winnipeg, even without some good sprinters. Who's going to stop us?"

That was the appraisal today by head coach Cornelius (Dutch) Warmardam of the United States track and field squad heading soon for the fifth Pan-American Games at Winnipeg, July 23-Aug. 5.

"There weren't any real disappointments in the trials—just some upsets, like Jim Grelle failing to make it in the 1,500 metres."

Despite the absence of sprinters Tommie Smith, Charlie Greene and Jim Hines and miler Jim Ryun, this may be the strongest track array the U.S. has sent into the Pan-Am Games.

During the weekend trials, existing Pan-Am records were handily surpassed in 13 of the 17 men's events and in six of the nine women's events.

Most noteworthy was a world record-matching performance by Southern California's Earl McCullough, who Sunday won the 110-metre high hurdles in 13.2.

McCulloch whipped National AAU champion Willie Davenport by four yards as he equalled the world mark set by Germany's Martin Lauer in 1959 and matched by the USA's Lee Calhoun in 1960.

The 30-year-old Grelle, pegged the best Pan-Am 1,500 metre fill-in for Ryun, was elbowed out of a berth by Tom Von Ruden and Sam Bair, both clocked in the modest time of 3:49.8.

Probably the world's two best vaulters will be in Winnipeg—Southern California's Paul Wilson, claimant to a world mark of a 17-8, and current world record holder Bob Seagren 17-5½.

ROWING TROPHY TO SHAWNIGAN

MOLESEY, England (CP) — A rowing crew from the Shawnigan Lake, B.C., school won the Molesey Challenge Cup Saturday in second division races at the Centenary regatta here.

The Shawnigan eight defeated Maiden Head Rowing Club and Midland Bank Rowing Club in the heats to enter the final. In the hard-fought final, the British Columbia school defeated the Kingston Rowing Club by four feet to take the cup.

The school's senior crew won their first heat in the junior-senior eights by defeating Poplar and Backwall clubs but bowed by half a length to Quintin rowing club in the semi-finals.

Shawnigan has private races against Westminster School and Eton College Tuesday and Wednesday and is entered in the Bedford regatta next weekend.

The crew later goes to Copenhagen for an international race and to Ratzeburg, West Germany for the European championships.

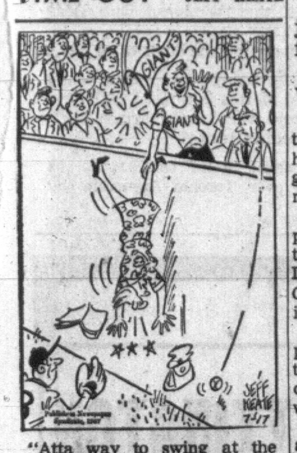
Wakeham Rings Bell And Bells Ring Here

TIME OUT

By JEFF KEATE



"Atta way to swing at the ball, Willie boy, but straighten the next one out! . . . You okay, dear?"

By DOUG PEDEN

It was late Saturday afternoon when the telephone jingled and the operator announced a long-distance call from Toronto.

"You asked me to call if I won anything," said the voice at the other end.

Bill Wakeham couldn't hide the excitement in his voice as he explained what had been guessed as soon as the operator mentioned Toronto.

He had just scored his biggest professional tee triumph, capturing the Ontario Open at the Islington Golf and Country Club and becoming the first pro in four years to win the event.

If victory and the $1,200 first prize weren't enough to excite the 26-year-old Victorian, the dramatic manner of his win would have done the trick.

Trailing Cooksville, Ont., amateur Ben Kern by one stroke starting the last hole of the 54-hole tourney, Wakeham stroked an 18-foot putt into the cup for a birdie to tie Kern at 208 and force a sudden-death playoff.

On the first extra hole, a 376-yarder, Bill smacked a 245-yard drive down the fairway, rammed a nine iron shot six feet from the flag and dropped the putt for a birdie while Kern had to settle for a par and second place.

In third place was another amateur, Gary Cowan of Kitchener, who finished at 210, one strok ahead of veteran Ontario pros Moe Norman and Jerry Magee.

Wakeham and Kern, who started the last round tied with Norman at 139, each fired a one-under-par 69 Saturday and were the only players below par for the distance.

'PUTTED REAL WELL'

Away to a slow start Saturday, Wakeham stroked some remarkable shots around the greens as he rebounded for the victory that gave him a berth in the $200,000 Carling World Open at Woodbridge, Ont., in September.

Three strokes behind Norman after five holes, Bill dropped a 20-foot birdie putt on the sixth, chipped 18 feet for a bird on the 10th, canned a 17-foot birdie putt on the 12th, then used three putts on both the 15th and 16th greens before rebounding with his crucial putt on the 18th.

"I've been very pleased with my game," said Wakeham, who also collected a gold watch and a $400 expense cheque for the World Open. "I might have won the Quebec Open (he finished sixth) except for one bad hole.

"The greens were very good here and I putted real well today. In fact, I had it going all week and I just hope I can continue to hit the ball in the same way."

Wakeham, who has won $1,862 in prize money since leaving Victoria a month ago, plays this week in the Manitoba Open at Winnipeg.

Playoff Triumph

Jeune Brothers added the James Bay Little League baseball crown to their league title Sunday as they nipped Victoria Sports 4-3 in the playoff final.

Junior Anglers Await Annual Salmon Derby

Youthful anglers have only six more days to wait until their big event of the summer at Saanich Inlet.

Coming up next Sunday is the annual junior salmon derby staged by the Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association. The derby, running from 6 a.m. until 12 noon, is open to all boys and girls 16 years of age and under.

Although club trophies can be won only by junior members of the VSIAA, all contestants will be eligible for the flock of derby prizes and all will be invited to share in the consumption of soft drinks and ice cream.

Salmon, which must be of legal size (12 inches from nose to vee of tail) or larger, may be weighed in at Hall's, Anglers-Anchorage, Gilbert's and Brentwood boathouses.

Rocks Crack Losing Skein

COQUITLAM—Coquitlam Adanacs have one comforting thought as they prepare to take another shot at the top berth in the Inter-City Lacrosse League Tuesday night at Vancouver.

They won't have to look at Doug Thompson.

Continuing to fill in for injured goalie Barry Forbes, Thompson all but slammed the door on the Adanacs in the final two periods here Saturday night, enabling Victoria Shamrocks to scamper to a 10-5 triumph and bounce back into a first-place deadlock with Vancouver.

Thompson blocked nine of 12 shots in the opening period as the clubs battled to a 3-3 sawoff and then permitted only one tally in each of the last two sessions while stopping a total of 15 drives.

While Doug's work was the major reason the Rocks were able to end a losing streak at four games, there were other notable contributions to the Irish success — hustle, teamwork and the shooting of Ted Liebiech, who fired three goals.

Ranjit Dillon and Bill Munroe each zipped two shots past Coquitlam goalie Joe Comeau, who was able to block only 20 of 30 shots fired at his cage.

Adanac ace Mike Gates collected two goals and an assist to maintain his league scoring lead.

VICTORIA TEAM OPENS RUTH PLAY TONIGHT

Beaten in the final by Trail last year, the host Victoria League tonight starts another attempt to win the provincial Babe Ruth League baseball championship.

Victoria tangles with Vancouver Fraserview tonight at 6 as the week-long, seven-team tournament opens at Royal Athletic Park.

Play continues Tuesday with Trail facing Saanich Evening Optiimsts at 2 p.m. and Vancouver Intercommunity meeting Vancouver Capilano at 6.

Games will be played at 2 and 6 each day, with the final round next Sunday.

Saanich Bounces Back To Grab Island Crown

DUNCAN — Saanich Evening Optimist all-stars lost their first game in the Vancouver Island Babe Ruth League (13-year-old division) baseball tournament here Saturday and then bounced back to win the championship.

Optimists bombed Gordon Head Cosmopolitans 20-1 in the deciding game as pitcher Fred King held the Cosmos to three hits and Nick Hay drove in five runs with three consecutive triples.

Cosmos, who had lost their first game in the double-loss, elimination tourney and then won three in a row, made it four straight as they pummelled Optimists 19-6 earlier in the day to force an extra game.

Drag Racer Flips Over At 186 mph

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — A drag racer travelling about 185 miles an hour flipped over after the decelerating parachute failed to open and critically injured the driver Sunday.

James Johnson, 24, of Oklahoma City, Okla., suffered a broken right arm and possible head injuries.

Johnson had hit 189 m.p.h. over the quarter-mile long dragway seconds before the accident during time trials of the Texas fuel championships.

ROSS RAMBLES TO CLEAR WIN

Don Ross captured the John Hart Trophy in the 23rd annual Vancouver Island Seniors' Golf Association two-day tournament as he finished the 36 holes with 152 for an 11-stroke edge over Larry McCooey and D. M. Hogarth, who tied for second.

Ray Spouse (net 143) won the W. and J. Wilson (handicap) Trophy, Gorge Vale golfers won the team title and John MacMillan tied John Carlow for first place in a par contest.

Munn Ninth In Lilac Open

SPOKANE — Ken Still of Tacoma fired a two-under-par 69 Sunday and won the Lilac City Open golf tournament with a 72-hole total of 266, 18 under par.

Still collected $1,000 as he finished seven strokes ahead of amateur Maholn Moe of Spokane and professional Boots Porterfield, who were tied at 273.

Vancouver pro Dick Munn, who fired an opening round 62, finished in ninth place at 278 and won $425.

Your first Volvo
will get you out from under car payments
for life

Your Second Volvo
will give you a bank account

Your third Volvo
will put one of your kids through two years of college. Clothes and all.

No, we're not pulling your leg. We're merely doing simple mathematics. Like this:

First Volvo. Drive it six years. That gives you three years to pay for it, three years to make payments to yourself after you've paid for it.

Second Volvo. Take the payments you've made to yourself and pay cash for the second Volvo. Drive it six years and continue making payments to yourself during that time. (At, say, $80 a month for six years you'll end up with a nice round $6,000.)

Third Volvo. Take some of that $6,000 and pay cash for your third Volvo too. (You'll still have about $3,000 left.) Continue making payments to yourself for six more years. You now have nearly $9,000. Enough for college, and your fourth Volvo. And you can take it from here.

Will it actually work? It will if you want it to. Will Volvos actually hold up for six years? In Sweden Volvos hold up an average of 11 years. In Sweden there are no speed limits on the highways; there are over 70,000 miles of unpaved roads.

See a nearby Volvo dealer. He can have a Volvo Canadian in your garage tomorrow. It's the only genuine do-it-yourself money-making machine we know of that the Government doesn't frown upon.

Best baby, Ricky Hull, and proud mother, Marlene

Happy-Go-Lucky Ricky Wins Baby Show Contest

And these attributes paid off Saturday when Ricky was named best baby in the All Sooke Day-Victoria Times baby show.

Ricky, son of Mr. and Mrs. Garry Hull, 2488 Millstream Road, won out over 65 competitors.

His proud parents were surprised and delighted.

"We just came out to see how he would do," said Mrs. Hull. "We weren't really counting on him winning. I always play safe and think negative."

The babies were judged by Drs. Jack Patterson and Jack Cooper, of Victoria, who said they used a mixture of "intuition and medical know-how".

Best baby under six months was Steven Carlos, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Carlos, 4761 Cordova Bay Road.

Best Sooke baby was Sheryl Nan Gibson, 15-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Gibson, of Sooke.

15 HOURS COOKING

GARGANTUAN FEEDING OF 10,000

How do you feed 10,000 excited hungry people?

It's simple. You buy 1,000 pounds of salmon, 525 pounds of beef, thousands of clams, buns and wieners, and truckloads of soft drinks and ice cream.

That's what they did for All Sooke day. But buying it is only part of the problem—cooking it is a gargantuan task.

To cook the beef, Sooke Community Association volunteers, under the direction of Larry Rumsby, lit fires at 9 a.m. Friday in a pit four feet by 20 feet by four feet deep.

At 1:30 a.m. Saturday, they buried 22 huge chunks of beef, seasoned and wrapped in burlap.

By Saturday afternoon, they had 525 pounds of perfectly cooked roast beef for hungry patrons.

The salmon barbecue was directed by George Duncan, a construction worker with B.C. Hydro in Sooke, who uses an old Indian method. He builds a long line of fire between two parallel rails one yard apart.

The salmon is tied to screens which stand vertically against the rails on either side of the fire. A couple of hundred pounds can be cooked at once.

Mr. Duncan, who has worked on the salmon barbecue for 20 years, estimates 2,000 persons were treated to barbecued salmon during the afternoon.

EX-NEW ZEALANDER BIG MAN AT ALL SOOKE DAY

'H' for Herlihy and Hero

10,000 Crowd Flats

By PAUL WILLIAMSON

Some 10,000 persons jammed Sooke River flats Saturday for All Sooke Day — and for all of them Brian Herlihy is the heor of the day.

The hardy New Zealand immigrant took first place in four events, was on the second place relay team, and walked away with $315 prize money and the Best All-Round Logger trophy.

Mr. Herlihy, 28, has been competing in logging sports since he was 16. He says there is no secret to his success.

"In New Zealand there is much more and much tougher competition. There are 500 registered axemen, and they're all good."

And Mr. Herlihy isn't exactly slow with an axe. Last year, he just missed making the New Zealand team for the annual New Zealand-Australia competitions.

WINS FOUR

And Saturday, he won four axe events: men's tree chopping, men's square timber chipping, hard hitting, and the standing block chop.

Sooke's own Jubiel Wickheim was as popular with the crowds. Holde of the American log birling championship, he walked off with the Canadian championship held last year by his brother, Ardiel.

Ardiel is in Montreal and was unable to compete. The brothers perform wild antics on bobbing rolling logs every day at the western pavilion of Expo.

As always, the high-rigging event was a spectacular crowd-pleaser.

Louis Kloeiver from Washington climbed the 110-foot spar, rang the bell, and slithered to the ground in an incredible 39 seconds.

Runners-up (and down) were Ray Schend of Oregon, 43 seconds, and Dick Munro of Squamish, 51 seconds.

'CLIMB A TREE'

Spectators gasped in disbelief half way through the afternoon when an apparent drunk staggered on to the field and began climbing the spar.

"My girlfriend told me to go climb a tree," he shouted.

But it soon turned out he was no drunk. And when he reached the top, Port Angeles daredevil Mal Harper threw down his rope and spurs and stood on his head.

As if this wasn't enough, he demanded music and started dancing on the narrow top of the slender tree, eventually falling off and sailing to earth on a concealed safety line.

If the crowds loved it all, the loggers loved it more. It was their day.

GETTING TOUGHER

Big men. Like John Martin, veteran of eight years competition who says it's getting tougher.

"In 1958 we could only get three men to enter the bucking contest — now we're running heats."

Half way through the afternoon he had been in two events and failed to place.

"My arms are like rubber today" he said eyeing his axe critically.

He had better luck with his saw. Ten minutes later he buzzed his way to first place in class B of the men's log bucking event.

Other winners of main events were:

Men's tree chopping, class B: G. F. Hansen, Sooke.

Men's log birling, class B: Jim Duncan, Sooke.

Power saw bucking: Chris Tetz, Chilliwack.

TUG-OF-WAR

Flyweights Score Win In Losing

A three-way war between Canada, the United States, and Japan broke out in Sooke Saturday afternoon.

And Canada won.

It was a happy war — a tug-o'-war.

The winning team was sponsored by Sooke Forest Products and captained by Ian Humphries.

The Orientals, all from the visiting Japanese naval command ship Tedusi, challenged the second place American team and were trounced.

But they won the hearts of the crowd who considered them the best sports of the day.

When did Niagara come into the picture?

Tom and Jane checked their finances. They found they were short of money. Would the family holiday have to be postponed? The youngsters disappointed? Definitely not. Tom dropped in to see the manager of the nearest Niagara Loans office. He outlined the problem to him, found him very understanding and helpful. In privacy, they discussed the cost of loans. A repayment plan. (And payment terms to suit the family budget.) Within 24 hours Tom had the money in his hands. And the family was headed for a fun-packed vacation.

Large Park Audience For Combos, Singer

A concert by vocalist Terry Cain and two Victoria rhythm combos — The Pharoahs and The Foundry — attracted more than 700 people to the Cameron Bandshell at Beacon Hill Park Sunday afternoon.

Attractive in a floor-length white dress, Miss Cain sang the Hawaiian wedding Song, Eidelweiss and other favorites.

The Pharoahs scored a big hit with Georgy Girl and Georgia on My Mind. Hundreds of teenagers joined with Victoria veterans and out-of-town visitors in applauding the performers.

MISS UNIVERSE

"I'D RATHER be plain Sylvia after the year is out," says Miss Sylvia Hitchcock, 21, after she was crowned Miss Universe Saturday in Miami Beach. She plans to return to her studies at the University of Alabama after her reign and says "I hope my classmates will forget I was Miss Universe." Miss Hitchcock's measurements are 35½-24½-36½. Miss Canada, Donna Barker of Toronto, did not reach the finals.

ATLANTIC CROSSING IN 37' YAWL

HALIFAX (CP) — Three young Canadian sailors who set out on a transatlantic voyage in a 37-foot yawl as a centennial project did it in eight days less than they had estimated.

The steel-hulled Jala arrived at Finnet Island off Ireland Saturday night, 13 days and four hours after leaving St. John's, Nfld.

Skipper Don Fairweather of Toronto had anticipated the trip from Newfoundland would take 21 days. The Jala left here for St. John's June 20.

NORMAN CRIBBENS

YOU'RE A BIG BOY NOW
Peter Kastner
Royal Theatre

Here is a generally wacky farce ranging in mood from the light fantastic to the heavy-handed. Some of the sequences are outrageously funny, some rather precious and some barely tolerable.

The story, winnowed out of a novel by David Benedictus, revolves about an inexperienced young man (Peter Kastner) who wants to get a girl.

Nothing very original about that, but the circumstances perhaps are unusual.

Kastner works as a roller-skating stock boy in the main branch of New York's public library and his father (Rip Torn) happens to be the curator of rare books.

Over the tearful protests of Kastner's mother (Geraldine Page), father agrees to let the boy develop on his own in a room away from their suburban home.

He is placed in a rooming house, owned by Julie Harris and also inhabited by a policeman and a pet rooster with an aversion to allowing girls in the upstairs rooms.

Kastner takes library assistant Karen Black to a night club where Elizabeth Hartman is starred as a dancer. Kastner has been long enamored of her, but Karen manages to distract his attention by asking him to show her his new living quarters.

Kastner is well on the way to his first love affair when the virtuous rooster objects noisily and rouses the whole household. A tremendous hassle ensues in which landlady Julie Harris breaks an arm and somebody falls downstairs.

The frantic situations which follow are best left to the screen as they have little or no verisimilitude in cold print. The tangled plot has been capably handled by director Francis Ford Coppola and the acting generally is efficient for this type of entertainment.

Accent On Youth At Expo

MONTREAL (CP)—Expo 67's World Festival turns its attention to youth this week as Montreal is host to the 21st congress of the Federation internationale

The firstes. calmusi snsu of 11 programs to beJe deses oreal is host to the 21st congress of the Federation internationale des Juenesses musicales.

The first of 11 programs to be offered during the congress by the Canadian branch of the organization, devoted to promoting music among youth, was presented Sunday night at Place des Arts.

It featured the three winners of the national competitions for voice, piano and violin organized by the Canadian group as a centennial project.

Second on the program was Annon Lee Silver, a soprano from Glace Bay, N.S., who had placed second in the voice section and received $2,000. The grand prize was not awarded in this section.

HAPPIEST MAN AT CALGARY STAMPEDE

Pot-O'-Gold Winner Realizes Dream

CALGARY (CP) — An American sweep of major rodeo events and a recored attendance Saturday ended the 1967 Calgary Stampede.

High point of the rodeo finals was a spectacular ride by Larry Condon of Omak, Wash., in the Brahma bull riding competition, good for the championship and just under $2,000 in prize money.

Total attendance for the nine days of the stampede soared to 798,575. Until this year, the stampede was a six-day event and the record attendance was 654,120.

Perhaps the happiest of all those who went to the stampede was Peter B. Horsley of Calgary, a 49-year-old commercial advertising designer who won the $50,000 gold brick in the annual pot-o'-gold draw.

Mr. Horsley said initial plans for the money include a holiday with his family and he will use some to carry out long-nurtured plans to go to university. Most of the windfall, however, will be stashed away for the future.

Will She Go Back? Of Course She Will

By ELIZABETH FORBES

Forbes

Saw a friend waiting for a bus early evening Saturday and stopped the car to offer her a lift home. Friend looked a mite disheveled. Her hat was on the back of her head. Hair was not quite tidy. Make-up had disappeared and she was quite definitely weary.

"What's happened to you?" I asked.

"Just back from the All Sooke Day party," she answered as she sank down beside me and wriggled one foot out of a dusty shoe. "Oh, it's good to sit down!"

More to start the converstational ball rolling than anything else, I suggested that I'd always heard All Sooke Day was a barrel of fun.

"Agreed!" my friend answered. "It is a lot of fun. But somehow I din't have time to enjoy it."

From her story I gleaned that she had gone out to Sooke on Saturday with a daughter and son-in-law and their two small children. She was drafted to take care of the three-year-old while her daughter entered the younger one in the baby show.

A wild look came into her eyes as she told me the rest of the story.

Before they started for Sooke the baby had to have a nap. By the time they were rolling the road was crowded with cars. "Did you ever see that road when it was crowded with cars?" she asked me.

To ease the tension I suggested that her son-in-law was a very good driver.

"Of course he is," she came back at me, "but it's the other drivers you've got to reckon with."

They finally did get to Sooke Flats ... "late of course, and by then there was no place to park."

The baby show was uppermost in the daughter's mind so she and my friend and the children got out and left the husband to "ease the car in somewhere."

Evidently the daughter went through the crowd on the run. But the three-year-old wanted to stop every few yards. So my friend got away behind.

She lost her daughter entirely and only found her again as she was coming away from the show. Seems the judging was over before she got there.

"So we had all that scurrying and hurrying for nothing," my friend said with a weary sigh.

Things went from bad to worse from then on.

The babies were tired. They could't find her son-in-law or the car. They din't get near the clam chowder, the beef or the barbecued salmon "for ages" there was such a crowd.

Finally the little family did get together. "The children were crying. My daughter was nearly crying too, she was so disappointed she didn't get the baby in the show."

The son-in-law was hot and dusty. He' been looking for his people the better part of the afternoon. "We decided to start back home."

By the time they got to the car and eased it out on the road "the crowd was beginning to come away and we had all that traffic to contend with again."

My friend dropped out when they got back to downtown Victoria. "I went into a coffee shop and had a good cup of tea and a sandwich," she explained. "Now I'm going home to soak my feet and get to bed."

By then we had reached her home and she eased herself out of the car. "It's been quite an experience!" she muttered.

"Think you'll take in All Sooke Day next year?" I called after her.

She looked back at and grinned. "I might at that," she said. "You see, if my daughter has her way we'll all be living out there next year. Then we'll be sure of getting the baby in the show."

Crash Victims Identified

WILLIAMSPORT, Nfld. (CP)—RCMP and transport department officials are investigating the deathes of four men, including two Japanese businessmen, in the crash of a single-engine plane here Saturday.

The dead are Kenichi Muraji, 50, and Toshio Tanaka, 40, both of Tokyo; Donald Milton Steeves, 50, of Gunningsville, N.B., and Neil Bridger, 22, of Gander, Nfld., who was piloting the float-equipped aircraft.

Schools Win Centenary Contest

The Greater Victoria Junior Schools Orchestra has been declared winner of its class in the Canadian Centenary Festival of Music.

The 75-member orchestra includes students from Victoria junior and senior secondary schools and competed in the under-19 years catagory.

Directed by Thomas Tucker, the orchestra won the Island semi-finals in Victoria and performed before the centennial adjudicators in Vancouver June 9.

The adjudicators travelled across Canada judging orchestras as they went. The winners were announced in Saint John, N.B. Saturday.

HOME GARDEN

Geraniums Easily Touched Up

By HILDA BEASTALL

Hilda

Even old fashioned bedding geranium (or zonal-leaved pelargonium) needs an assist to continue its colorful career in our gardens until frost.

While these plants do not require a rich moist soil, they certainly respond to an occasional thorough watering and a once-a-month light feeding.

In addition to these aids, geraniums need to be checked a couple of times each week to remove the occasional yellowing leaf. Left on the plants, the whole appearance of the border or planter begins to look neglected.

While the number of heads of bloom depends to some extent on the variety, a plant from a three-inch pot in spring can easily have half a dozen large trusses at one time by early July.

In addition to the previously mentioned assists to health it is as necessary to remove old flower heads from geraniums as from other garden plants.

The time to do this is when the central blossoms in the head are beginning to fade and there are no further buds to open at the base of the truss.

The flower stem will snap off cleanly at its junction with the main stem.

Prompt removal plus occasional food and water results in continuous color on healthy looking plants.

Miscarriage

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Mrs. Cheryl Bono, better known as Cher of the Sonny and Cher singing duo, lost the baby expected to arrive next February, a spokesman said Saturday. The miscarriage occurred Friday and the 21-year-old Cher was taken to Cedars of Lebanon Hospital.

Laity Search Called Off

NORTH VANCOUVER (CP)—RCMP have called off the search for Mrs. Frances Laity, of Victoria, missing for two weeks after going swimming in Lynn Creek here.

"The search was completely negative," said a police spokesman Sunday. "There will be no more searches, at least for the time being."

Canso Water Bomber Begins to Disintegrate While Dumping Load

Goldstream Air Crash Kills Two

Water Bomber Hits Mountain

By PETE LOUDON

The pilot and co-pilot, Alex M. Davidson, 43, and R. T. "Paddy" Moore, 45, both of Sidney, died instantly.

The plane, a Super Canso PBY operated by Victoria Flying Firemen, Ltd., was fighting a blaze on Skirt Mountain, a third of a mile from Trans-Canada Highway.

Forestry officials said the fire started at 4 p.m. The Flying Firemen, under contract to the B.C. government, were called in at 4:30 p.m.

See pictures, stories pages 2, 17

It is uncertain how many trips over the fire the aircraft made before the crash at about 6:50 p.m.

But the fire, visible from the highway in Goldstream area, had attracted hundreds of sightseers. Many were parked and watching the operation when the tragedy occurred.

Cars travelling north and south were slowed to a crawl and RCMP were endeavoring to keep them moving.

Taking Water From Finlayson Arm

Eyewitnesses said the aircraft was making landings on Finlayson Arm, loading its 1,157-gallon tanks by skimming over the water with a "probe" or scoop, then flying over the fire to bomb it with a deluge.

The path of the plane carried it south from Finlayson Inlet directly over the intersection of the Trans-Canada Highway and the road which cuts off to Goldstream Inn. There the plane would turn to approach the mountain.

Dropping its load of water, it would then head back to the inlet.

At the time of the fatal drop the plane appeared to veer to the east over the fire, striking a wing on nearby trees and falling at a point beyond the fire.

The plane burst into a pillar of flame. The bodies were found

They were taken by an amateur photographer, William Hutchinson, who went out with his wife to take snaps of a forest fire—and was confronted with sudden death.

Both were shocked by their experience.

"It's awful to know we could just stand there and watch men die," he said.

CONTAINED BY EVENING?

The British Columbia Forest Service said this afternoon there is a possibility the Mount Skirt fire near Goldstream can be contained by evening. See earlier story Page 17.

A spokesman reported the first Mars water bomber was returning to Alberni and a second was en route to replace it. A Canso bomber from Prince George was due about 3 p.m.

Bulldozers were clearing a path around the fire to contain its spread and allow fire-fighters to concentrate on putting the fire out.

The fire started by the crash was quickly controlled. The bodies were not brought out until this morning.

Herbert and Mabel Guttormson, 2516 Florence Lake Road, were standing near Goldstream Inn.

"He seemed awfully close to the trees," said Mr. Guttormson.

"He came in toward the lower part of the fire," said Mrs. Guttormson.

"I saw pieces coming off. He was veering toward the right when he crashed," the husband said.

"It didn't explode until after it fell to the ground. Just before the crash he got in behind some trees.

Mr. Guttormson said it was windy.

"I remarked about it. He was flying so low with all that wind."

Mr. and Mrs. William Hutchinson, 3460 Cedar Hill, had been watching the fire for half an hour and were taking pictures. They were standing opposite Goldstream (Shell) Garage, 2892 Trans-Canada Highway.

"The plane would come over us and we'd pick it up in the view-finder and follow it until it dropped its load.

'All of a Sudden Wing Went Up'

"I was watching, and all of a sudden I saw a wing go up in the air and pieces flying off as he apparently hit the top of a tree. Then she bellied right down under the trees, out of sight."

Mr. Hutchinson said: "Nothing happened for maybe a second and then a huge column of fire—bright yellow fire—went straight up.

"It lasted two or three seconds while the fuel burned.

"We were both severely shocked.

"Nothing could have survived. They must have died immediately."

Saanich police sergeant John Post was parked nearer the Malahat, watching the fire-fighting operation and watching the plane scoop water from the inlet. He said he thought it was the plane's third pass when "he disappeared into the smoke and there was just a big ball of fire."

A woman standing near him began laughing hysterically, he said.

Flying Firemen Ltd. have been in service since 1965. It is a separate firm from Flying Tankers Ltd., which has operated Martin Mars water bombers in this area.

Davidson Founded, Headed Firm

Mr. Davidson was founder and president of the firm, in partnership with William Harrison of Omineca Air Services. It has operated throughout B.C. with three Cansos, wartime flying boats, and planned to have two more airborne soon.

In recent days the Canso which crashed had conducted successful attacks on a fire on Mount Finlayson.

It has also worked in the interior of the province, where the two other operational planes are now working.

An official of the firm said it is impossible to say who was flying.

'They worked as a team."

The bodies were carried down the mountain at daybreak along a trail leading to the Goldstream Garage, 2892 Trans-Canada Highway. They were brought into Victoria by Langford Ambulance.

The transport department has launched an one-site investigation and a B.C. Forest Service investigation team was on its way from Vancouver.

Coroner Edmond Jorre de St. Jorre said this morning he has directed the bodies be taken to St. Joseph's Hospital for a post-mortem. An inquest date would be set "as quickly as we can."

TWO CARS

Nine Die In Road Collision

ESPANOLA, Ont. (CP)—Nine persons, four of them Americans, were killed today in the head-on collision of two cars on Highway 17 about 50 miles west of Sudbury.

It was the worst death toll in a Canadian car accident since nine were killed in a head-on collision near Kamsack, Sask., June 22, 1965.

A man and woman from St. Paul, Minn., and two women believed to be sisters from the Elmwood post office district in Wisconsin, were dead in one car.

An Ottawa man, his wife and three children died in the other.

A fourth child of the Ottawa couple, a young girl, survived the crash and was reported in serious condition in hospital at Sudbury.

Police said the Espaonla accident occurred in good weather at a slight curve in the two-lane highway. The collision occurred on the centre-line, they said.

There have been higher road tolls in Canada, but they all involved vehicles larger than cars.

Other accidents with high death tolls:

Terrace, B.C. eight dead, July 31, 1965; Vegreville, Alta., eight dead, April 8, 1966.

Highway 17 in the area of the crash is a two-lane road forming part of the Trans-Canada Highway.

WEATHER SYNOPSIS

Fair weather was reported this morning from southern and central interior while the north coast and the northern half of Vancouver Island reported cloudy conditions with a few showers.

A ridge of high pressure will maintain mainly sunny skies over southern portions of the province today. However, moist air over the north coast is expected to move southeastward over the province Tuesday bringing increasing cloudiness to most of B.C.

Surveyor Landed but Not Softly

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Plans called for Surveyor IV spacecraft to land on the moon—which it did.

But scientists questioned today whether it landed gently, as planned, or went down with a crash. The odds, they said, favor the crash—and Surveyor IV wasn't talking.

"Everything was going as planned—it just didn't go on long enough," scientist Howard Haglund said Sunday night after contact with the craft was lost.

Attempts to contact Surveyor IV were halted at 1:10 a.m., today to be started again at 5:30 p.m. at which time the craft will be over the Goldstone tracking station, 40 miles northwest of Barstow, Calif.

"All we know is that Surveyor IV is on the moon," Haglund, the project manager, added. "We don't know its condition."

The 2,290 - pound craft was heading for what looked to be a perfect textbook landing, officials at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory said

CONTACT LOST

Then, when it was about seven miles above the moon, all contact was lost.

Controllers went through the normal landing routine, shutting off equipment, trying to test components, but they got no response.

"It will take several hours at least before we can be certain what happened," Haglund said.

"There are many possibilities but one of those uppermost in my mind is that there may have been an explosion in the rocket case just before burnout.

RACE VIOLENCE SPREADS

White Policeman Beaten, Shot Dead

SNIPER FIRE SUBDUED

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — New Jersey's largest city had its first night of relative quiet in five violent days Sunday, but gunfire and firebombs mushroomed in nearby Plainfield, where national guardsmen were called in after a white policeman was shot and beaten to death as Negro gangs rampaged.

Trouble also echoed in Jersey City where a group of teenagers was scattered after smashing several windows with rocks and firebombs, and in adjacent East Orange where police arrested three white men for firing from a car at a Negro boy.

Guardsmen stationed on every corner along Newark's ravaged Springfield Ave. reported scattered but considerable subdued sniper fire after dark, and no more of the looting and firebombing that left the Negro shopping area a mass of broken boards and glass.

Three more riot deaths Sunday brought the Newark total to 24. A woman was shot before dawn, a youth died from gunfire while looting a store, and a 12-year-old boy was shot after dark. Governor Richard J. Hughes said some bodies probably still lie undetected on roofs or inside buildings.

More than 1,100 persons have been hurt in the worst racial riot in the United States since Watts in 1956. Property damage estimates soared past $5,000,000.

GARBAGE ROTTING

Hughes said the 11 p.m. curfew throughout the city might be lifted today, and that collection might begin on the piles of garbage starting to rot in the cordoned-off Negro area that covers almost half this city of 400,000.

Hughes said all schools, liquor stores and bars, shut since Friday, will remain closed today.

Three persons were killed Thursday, 11 Friday and seven Saturday. Only two were white, a detective and a fire captain.

The 5,000 guardsmen who searched cars and suspicious persons in the riot area Sunday will stay, Hughes said, until the snipers are isolated and order is restored.

He made no reply to a demand from leaders of three civil rights organizations for the withdrawal of all armed forces as the necessary first step toward law and order.

A pullback, said the leaders of the Congress of Racial Equality, Student Non-Violent Co-ordinating Committee and United Community Corp. at a press conference, would give leaders a chance to reason with Negro militants.

James Hooper, chairman of Newark CORE chapter, said poor housing, overcrowded schools on split sessions and discrimination in the city administration's employment policy were some of the reasons for longstanding resentment in the Negro community.

PLAINFIELD, N.J. (AP) — Gunfire flashed through a 14-block Negro district and within sight of police headquarters Sunday on the third night of racial trouble in this suburban city.

A white policeman was shot and died after being beaten and stamped by a Negro gang.

Only occasional gunfire was heard early today.

Twelve persons were hurt, 10 of them shot during what Mayor George Hatfield charged was "planned, open insurrection" in this community, 18 miles southwest of riot-wracked Newark.

Also injured was an attractive blonde who tumbled from a bullet-riddled car at police headquarters crying, "They shot me! They shot me!"

GUARD SUPPORT

National guardsmen and state police moved in to back up local officers reinforced by helmeted patrolmen from neighboring towns.

Governor Richard J. Hughes said he was "shocked and dismayed" by his state's second episode of shooting and death.

Shots echoed through the night, clearly heard at police headquarters. Some came from automatic weapons.

Detective Lieut. Daniel Hennessy said he saw Negroes in a car speed around a corner firing a sub-machine-gun. He said he was atop a roof returning fire.

About 50 firemen and policemen were pinned by shots inside the central fire station for nearly eight hours.

Police mounted rooftops to guard headquarters against any possible hit-and-run raid after the woman was hit in the ankle by one of 17 bullets sprayed into the car in which she and a male companion rode.

"It was really brutal," David Hardy, a Negro reporter for the Plainfield Courier News, said of the attack which took the life of patrolman John Vincent Gleason Jr., who joined Plainfield's police force in 1958, the year his police lieutenant father retired.

Witnesses said Gleason had moved to head off a group of white youths menacing a band of Negroes. He was caught between the two groups.

The white youths ran and Gleason was surrounded by Negro youngsters. Witnesses said he pulled his pistol. A shot was fired and the young man, Bobby Williams, fell.

Another shot felled Gleason and the youngsters swarmed over him, Hardy said. "They beat him and stamped him. He was raising his hand and they just kept kicking him."

Hardy, Negro Councilman Everett Lattimore and two other Negroes guided a white reporter into the troubled area but quickly had to escort him out to avoid trouble. Hardy returned to the scene, then advised: "They're shooting at anything white."

PETTY RUCKUS

Trouble began with looting, aimed mainly at liquor stores, after two nights of lesser violence. Thirty-seven persons were arrested and 17 were hurt Saturay night in a fluryr of rock pitching.

No shots had been reported until Sunday night.

After the policeman's death, shots rattled through the West End of the city, a Negro area of individual houses, apartments and two low-income housing projects. It is not a tenement region nor a slum of the sort which burst into fury in Newark.

Mother, Child Killed in Fall

PARADISE, Wash. (AP)—A mother and her four-year-old daughter died Saturday from a fall into an ice tunnel on 14,420-foot Mt. Rainier or from exposure in the freezing temperature in the tunnel.

Another small daughter is missing, and a young son suffered a skull fracture in a fall.

Mrs. Melvin Louden, 26, of Bremerton, and four-year-old Karen Louden were found Sunday afternoon in the tunnel, caused by snow melting under the surface.

UN Team Takes Suez Position

Times News Services

Egypt and United Nations truce officials have reached agreement on details regarding the work of UN ceasefire observers in the tense Suez Canal area, Egyptian foreign ministry sources in Cairo said today.

The agreement followed a reported hitch which delayed the start of observation work along the canal Sunday. The points agreed on were not disclosed.

Meanwhile, Egyptian and Israeli guns along the waterway were silent for the second straight day.

The two Arab leaders Sunday night ended discussions in Cairo on the Middle East war aftermath with Presidents Nasser of Egypt, Nureddin Atassi of Syria and Ismail el Azhari of Sudan.

A communique on the talks said the five Arab leaders agreed to take effective measures to wipe out all traces of "Zionist imperialistic aggression."

They also approved a proposal by Azhari that Arab foreign ministers should meet soon in Khartoum, Sudan.

CHECK CANAL AREA

Small teams of UN observers, acting under a Security Council mandate, were on both sides of the canal, making preparations to observe the operation of the new ceasefire that halted the air and artillery battles Saturday.

The semi-official Cairo newspaper Al Ahram said the start of the UN patrols had been layed by continuation of talks in Cairo and Tel Aviv by Lt.-Gen. Odd Bull of Norway, the head of the UN Palestine truce organization.

AP correspondent Dennis Neeld reported from the Israeli headquarters at El Quantara, on the canal, that Egypt had refused to allow direct communication between UN observers on opposite sides of the canal.

The Egyptian government announced it had informed Bull any Israeli attempt to move boats on the Suez Canal would be considered a violation of the ceasefire and Egyptian forces would immediately open fire.

On the Egyptian side of the canal, five UN truce officers and seven assistants were setting up headquarters in a hotel at Ismailia, the midpoint of the 104-mile waterway.

The observer unit on the Israeli side raised the blue-and-white UN flag over a headquarters at El Qantara, and a large Israeli escort took three observers on a tour of the canal to stake out spots for observation posts. The first unit was made up of four officers and seven UN civilian employees.

The Australian leader of the group at El Quantara, Maj. Ronald Skinner, said there would be a gradual buildup of observers along the canal.

The observers moved into the canal area after the third successive weekend of fighting following the June Arab-Israeli war and a new ceasefire worked out Saturday night at UN headquarters in New York.

The Egyptian government said 50 Egyptians were killed and 134 were wounded in the fighting Friday and Saturday and that many were civilians. The Israelis reported eight of their soldiers killed and 42 wounded.

In dogfights over the Suez Canal, Israel said it shot down six Egyptian planes — five MiGs and a Sukhoi-7 fighter-bomber, all Soviet built.

The Egyptians claimed they shot down six Israeli planes. The Israelis and Egyptians admitted only losing one plane each.

STANFIELD
. . . in Tory race?

Roblin Delay May Bring Stanfield

By VICTOR MACKIE
Times Ottawa Bureau

Premier Robert Stanfield of Nova Scotia may soon declare himself a candidate for the Progressive Conservative national leadership.

Patrick Nowlan (P.C.-Digby-Annapolis-Kings) in Ottawa for one day, today, after travelling around his constituency, said there was a growing feeling in Nova Scotia that the premier would be entering the race.

He said certain moves were afoot this past week that indicated the premier was under pressure to let his name go before the convention.

The failure of Premier Duff Roblin to come out and announce that he will be a candidate for the national leadership has led to "certain prominent people within the party," making representations to Premier Stanfield to run. according to the young Nova Scotia M.P. He said up until ten days ago there had been a feeling that the Maritime premier would not be available.

PICTURE CHANGES

"But there has now been a change. There is a growing belief that Premier Roblin's apparent reluctance to declare himself is changing the picture," said Mr. Nowlan. He said he had encountered a number of Conservatives in Nova Scotia this past week who were confident that Mr. Stanfield would decide to seek the leadership.

He said it had been understood that Premier Stanfield was not going to run because Premier Duff Roblin would be running. But with the Manitoba premier still holding back a number of leading Conservatives were looking elsewhere and turning to Mr. Stanfield.

Admiral Wows Reeve's Daughter

Saturday morning, following the naval parade of Japanese, American and Canadian sailors through Victoria streets, Esquimalt Reeve Ray Bryant introduced his daughter Janine, 5, to Rear-Admiral Seizaburo Hoshino.

It was love at first sight.

Saturday evening at a special reception for civic leaders Rear-Admiral Hoshino called for attention while he made a special presentation.

Reeve Bryant, pleasantly surprised, accepted for his daughter a delicate engraved brooch carrying a flag emblem.

Suddenly I Lost My Memory!

A noted publisher in Chicago reports there is a simple technique for acquiring a powerful memory which can pay you real dividends in both business and social advancement and works like magic to give you added poise, necessary self-confidence and greater popularity.

According to this publisher, many people do not realize how much they could influence others simply by remembering accurately everything they see, hear, or read. Whether in business, at social functions or even in casual conversations with new acquaintances, there are ways in which you can dominate each situation by your ability to remember.

To acquaint the readers of this paper with the easy-to-follow rules for developing skill in remembering anything you choose to remember, the publishers have printed full details of their self-training method in a new booklet "Adventures in Memory," which will be mailed free to anyone who requests it.

No obligation. Send your name and address to: Memory Studies, 835 Diversey Parkway, Dept. 142-217, Chicago, Ill., 60614. A postcard will do.

Mercenaries Make Stand In Leader's Plantation

KINSHASA, The Congo (AP) White mercenaries and Katangan troops who mutinied against the Congolese government are reported to be holed up in the vast plantation of Maj. Jean Schramme, their Belgian leader, in a tropical rain forest 155 miles southeast of Kisangani.

The mutineers, who seized part of Kisangani July 5, moved out last week, leaving it to the Congolese army. The army did not pursue the mutineers but instead started looting.

Mercenaries and Katangan troops took over Bukavu and Kisangani after news reached them of the kidnapping July 1 in Europe of their former leader, former premier Moise Tshombe. Tshombe now is being held in Algiers, and Congolese President Joseph Mobutu's government is seeking his extradition so it can execute him.

Schramme, about 40, fought for Tshombe during the Katanga secession in 1961 and led a mercenary forces when Tshombe was premier in 1964. A long-time resident of The Congo, he was among the mercenaries who remained with the army after Tshombe was overthrown.

Congolese sources said 20 or so mercenaries who were in Kinsheasa when the mutiny broke out July 5 have been "liquidated," but there was no official confirmation of this.

LACK IDENTITY

Four Belgians and three Frenchmen were presented on Congolese television Sunday as captured mercenaries. But the commentator did not say when or where they had been taken prisoner.

Estimates of the strength of the rebels at Schramme's plantation near Punia ranged between 50 and 180 whites and 200 and 800 Katangans.

As many as 10 Europeans were killed in the fighting in Kisangani, refugees who arrived in Kishasa said. Congolese troops who entered Bukavu after the rebels moved out also killed white civilians in retaliation for the mutiny.

Three U.S. Air Force C—130 transports sent to Mobutu by President Johnson and two Red Cross planes evacuated 330 Europeans and Americans from Kisangani and were continuing to fly supplies into Congo troops.

Tomatoes, Rocks Thrown at Diplomats

PEKING (Reuters) — Two British diplomats were pelted with tomatoes today at the gates of Britain's diplomatic mission here by Chinese demonstrators protesting against the arrest of Chinese newspaper men in Hong Kong.

About 1,000 slogan-chanting demonstrators from the official New China news agency and other Peking newspapers, marched to the mission to present protest petitions.

When two members of the staff of the British charge d'affaires—First Secretary Anthony Blisen and Second Secretary Leonard Appleyard—went to the gates to receive the petitions they were pelted with tomatoes and some stones.

They were not hurt although both returned to the mission with their shirts stained.

When you've got a gin this good

the only thing you can improve is the package.

So we did.

We've added a bright new blue and silver label to Hiram Walker's Crystal Gin. But inside our distinctive new bottle we've kept the same superb dryness and subtle flavour. Crystal Gin is dry enough for martinis, yet flavourful enough to sit up beautifully in a tall collins or tonic.

Try Crystal Gin in this new crystal package. You can recognize it by its good taste.

TODAY'S GRAIN PRICES

WINNIPEG (CP)—Flax, rapeseed and rye markets showed brisk rallying tendencies in fairly active trade on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today.

The advances were caused by moisture and deterioration in most areas of the Prairie grain belt. These reports stimulated some buying and overseas support in flax and rapeseed.

Rapeseed was also helped by firmer soybean prices in Chicago.

CHICAGO (AP)—Wheat and rye futures, influenced by lack of moisture in the northern United States and Canada, advanced 3 to 4 cents a bushel on the Chicago board of trade today.

A reported lack of moisture in Canada that might seriously affect the rye and wheat crops this year strengthened prices on the exchange around mid-session.

Plastic Industry Expanding Fast

HALIFAX (CP) — The plastics industry in Nova Scotia is geared for a rapidly expanding market with the construction of two new plants this year.

Newest company to enter the field is Chester Plastics Ltd., which in March announced plans to build and equip a $500,000 plant for the manufacture of small plastic containers for cosmetics and allied industries.

The parent company, owned by Charles Nemeskeri of Vienna, Austria, already has markets in Western Europe, United States, Australia and South America.

The new plant, financed under an agreement with Industrial Estates Ltd., Nova Scotia's industry promoting corporation, also qualifies for a grant under the federal government's area development program. The plant is expected to employ 25 to 39 persons.

BEGIN CONSTRUCTION

Earlier this year, Union Carbide Canada Ltd., began construction on a seven-acre site in Amherst. The $500,000 plant will manufacture plastic film products such as packaging bags, industrial shipping bags, bread wrap and construction film.

Raw polyethylene, a chemically produced synthetic resin, will be shipped to the plant by rail from the company's Montreal east plant.

One of the first persons to realize the potential of plastics in Nova Scotia was Gordon Alguire, president and general manager of Plastics Maritime Ltd., a Halifax-based company incorporated in 1946.

Mr. Alquire is optimistic about the future of the plastics industry in the Atlantic provinces as he is about the future of the plastics industry generally.

Plastics reinforced with glass fibre are being used increasingly and several Nova Scotia companies are taking advantage of what some describe as a new breakthrough in engineering technology.

DISTRIBUTE MATERIALS

Guildfords Ltd., of Dartmouth, N.S., specializes in the manufacture and distribution of insulation and building construction materials. It makes a variety of reinforced plastic products.

Another Dartmough company, Starr Manufacturing Ltd., steel producers since 1864, opened a plastic pipe division in 1956.

The company's range of plastic pipe is finding wider uses and has revolutionized water system in rural areas of the Atlantic provinces.

In the not too distant future, the company expects it will manufacture more plastic products than steel for the first time in its history.

MARKET SUMMARIES

White Pass Up $1

White Pass and Yukon rose $1 to $18 to lead the industrials in pre-noon trading on Vancouver Stock Exchange today.

The mining section was generally strong. Peso put on .07 to reach a new high of $1.45, Artic was .07 better at $1.24 and Western Explorations gained .04 to .32 on 91,000 shares.

Losses, however, went to Brenda, down .15 to $5.50, and Texmont, off .06 to .92.

In the oils, Plains was once again a heavy trader and gained .01 to .70 on 120,000 shares.

AT NEW YORK rail shares weathered the news of a U.S. rail strike and moved higher on balance as the over-all stock market continued an advance late today. Trading was active. Volume for the first four hours was 7,690,000 shares compared with 7,860,000 for the like period Friday.

While some copper stocks reacted to the strike in the copper industry a number of non-ferrous metal companies advanced on news of the removal of the government ceiling on the price of silver. Steels resumed their advance of Friday. Rubbers advanced. Autos were higher on balance, with Chrysler up more than 2.

Atlas Corp. paced the list on activity and gained a fraction. American Smelting, Homestake and Alcoa rose a point or more. Gains of around a point or better were made by U.S. Steel, Bethlehem, Republic Steel and Jones and Laughlin. Goodrich and Uniroyal advanced more than a point each.

Among Canadians, Granby Mining gained ½ and Massey-Ferguson ⅛. International Nickel was off ⅞, Alcan ⅜ and Distillers Deagrams ¼.

AT TORONTO western oils made a strong advance in generally light mid-afternoon trading.

Dome gained 2⅞ to 64⅝, Scurry-Rainbow 1 to 47 and Husky and Hudson's Bay ¼ each to 18 and 39½.

Mobil Oil Corp., Shell Oil Co. and Texaco Inc. of the U.S., which increased their Canadian imports to refineries on the Pacific coast by 35,000 barrels per day in June, have raised their July purchases by 30,000 barrels per day.

Trans Mountain Oil Pipe Line rose ½ to a 1967 high of 21½ following news that it plans to augment facilities on its line from Edmonton to Vancouver and Anacortes, Washington, to supplement the present line which is operating at capacity.

Among industrials, R. L. Crain advanced 1¾ to 52, B.C. Forest 1 to 20 and Shop and Save ¾ to 13½. Anthes A moved ahead ½ to 27¾ after the company announced record six-month earnings for the period ended June 30, 1967.

Uraniums moved ahead by small fractions with Rio Algom and Denison up ½ each to 34½ and 69⅞ and Roman Corp. ¼ to 19¼.

AT MONTREAL the market seemed jumpy and indecisive towards 2 p.m. as stocks moved in both directions.

Dome Pete jumped 2¼ points to 65. CIL advanced ⅜ to 20 and IAC, Labatt and Trans-Mountain Pipe Line ½ each to 22, 27½, respectively.

B.C. Forest added ½ at 19⅝ and MacMillan-Bloedel ⅜ at 29⅛ among the better papers.

International Nickel lost 1¼ points to 106¼ and Hudson Bay Mining one point to 63. Hollinger slid ¾ to 26½ and CPR ⅝ to 70½. Canada Cement, Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce and Fraser Paper were all down ½ at 38, 64⅝ and 22 respectively.

Glen Lake Silver was up 30 cents at $2.50 on the Canadian exchange.

AT LONDON equity shares looked firm, the main feature being the considerable activity in nationalization steels after the government broker announced prices at which he would buy.

Elsewhere, it was left to special features among industrial shares to provide most of the gains and leaders were inclined to move lower.

Dollar stocks were dull on balance although sentiment was helped by a recovery in the dollar premium, which had opened lower. Noranda was firmer and Canadian Pacific to 58¼ had extended an early gain. International Nickel was off the bottom at 226½.

Trans Canada Pipe was easier but other price movements among Canadian shares were insignificant. Canadian banks lacked interest.

ICI, Dunlop, Beechams, Tubes and GEC were a shade off, but Bowater and Reed were firm. Tobaccos added a few pence.

Department Store Sales Show Gain

OTTAWA (CP) — Department store sales during the week ended June 24 were up 10 per cent from the same week of 1966, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics has reported.

Percentage increases by region: Atlantic 16.1; Quebec 10.9; Ontario 11.2; Saskatchewan 8.5; Alberta 9.9; British Columbia 13.9, Manitoba was down 16.1 per cent.

$ EXCHANGE

MONTREAL (CP)—United States dollar in terms of Canadian funds was unchanged at $1.07 27/32. Pound sterling was down 1/16 at $3.00⅝.

NEW YORK (CP) — Canadian dollar up 1/64 at 92 47/64 in terms of U.S. funds. Pound sterling down 3/32 at $2.78 49/64.

MORE DEATHS, LOOTING

What Would You Do? Rioting Negroes Ask

By LEE LINDER

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) —Negro leaders say the Newark riot was caused basically by the same things that have caused racial rioting and chaos in other urban slums.

They say Negroes were fed up with broken promises for new low-rent housing, better schools, better jobs and equal justice from police.

This was the powder keg of unsolved issues, simmering for many years through many hot summers, that exploded violently last Wednesday night after the arrest of a Negro cab driver.

The bloody rampage—which so far has resulted in 24 deaths, 1,100 wounded, 1,300 arrested and property loss of more than $5,000,000 — was blamed on "racist, brutal white cops and a mayor who refused to work with poor, helpless, frustrated people," said Oliver Lofton, administrator of the Newark legal services project, which operates on federal anti-poverty funds.

BOILING POT

Here, as elsewhere, it was a minor unconnected incident that ignited the powder—and it was during the hot, humid summer nights on steamy, crowded sidewalks.

It's a time when idle young men, without jobs, money or a place to go, seem to vent their frustrations with sudden fury.

That's how it went in 1964 when minor traffic mishaps triggered violence and looting in North Philadelphia and New York's Harlem.

And it was something similar in Los Angeles' Watts that erupted into the worst U.S. racial rampage in August, 1965, when six days of burning, looting and shooting killed 34 and caused $50,000,000 damage.

CUSTOMARY COMPLAINTS

Everywhere the complaints were the same: housing, jobs, education, and end to poverty and police brutality.

Lofton, a former assistant U.S. attorney, heads a staff of 14 that represents taxi driver John W. Smith and more than 1,000 adults and teen-agers arrested in what Governor Richard J. Hughes described as a "criminal insurrection."

The governor said only three or four per cent of the city's 200,000 Negroes were involved in the rioting, and he blamed a "criminal and subversive element"—perhaps as few as 20 or 25 persons—for continuing the rebellion against law and order.

He said the rioters were "people who say they hate the white man but who really hate America."

Lofton said Hughes was "dead wrong."

What bothered the Newark Negro community more than anything else were three things.

1. The recent all-out effort by the mayor to locate a new state medical school in the Negro slums. The school might displace as many as 22,000 persons.

2. The effort to name a white man as board of education secretary, for a school system that is 70 per cent black, over a Negro they felt more qualified.

3. Whether the anti-poverty program should be handled by the poor.

OPPOSE SIZE

Robert Curvin, former Congress of Racial Equality leader, said Negroes aren't opposed to developing the area where the medical school would be built—"but it should be located on 15 acres, not 150, and the rest set aside for low-rent homes and parks.

"We have held many demonstrations and sit-ins in the past but we have achieved nothing," said Curvin. "There has been absolutely no concession, no compromise, no offer from the city government to aid the plight of the poor."

Jesse Allen, head of the peoples action group, said: "Kids in the ghetto have no spending money and can't get jobs. Everyday we have many kids begging for help in getting work.

"And there's also no recreation areas and when the kids don't work and have no place to play, they stand around on the street, and then the police come along, and tell 'em to move on, but they have no place to go.

"What the hell—what would you do?"

MAKES PLEA

James Hooper, chairman of Newark's chapter of the Congress of Racial Equality, said Negroes pleaded with Mayor Hugh Addonizio, "to do something about these things for years, but all he's say was 'if you don't like what I'm doing, then vote me out—if you can.' "

Phil Hutchings of the Student Non-violent Co-ordinating Committee said impatient Negroes unable to wait any longer are "fighting back in the only way the city will let them."

"They knew what they were doing, too," added Hutchings. "They only destroyed those things which they believe are keeping them down."

Dr. Nathan Wright, community relations adviser to the Newark Episcopal (Anglican) diocese, said:

"The kind of housing the city has put up is not fit to live in. The job training programs serve imaginary needs. Unemployment, crime, venereal disease, tuberculosis in Newark are among the highest in the nation."

The mayor doesn't agree. Newark, which has a population density of more than 18,000 a square mile — possibly the most compact in the U.S.—listed 32 per cent of its housing as slums in 1960. Today Addonizio claims this has been cut by half and more homes are being built.

Strike Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate passed overwhelmingly today President Johnson's bill designed to get the United States railways running again. It provides for a mandatory settlement of the countrywide dispute involving the shopcraft unions. (See Page 2.)

The bill, cleared after 3½ hours of debate, was sent to the House of Representatives, which was also ready to act immediately, so the president could get it by nightfall.

PLAN AIRLIFT

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — About 3,000 Europeans and Americans were trying to get out of secessionist Biafra today as federal Nigerian troops advanced toward the rebel capital of Enugu.

FINAL ACCOUNTING MADE OF KUPER INDIAN FUND

A total of $13,043.56 was collected to send the Island school's drum and fife band on a week's visit to Expo.

Wire Record

ST. REMY, France (Reuters) —Frenchman Henri Rochatain, 36, Sunday tiptoed to a world tightrope distance record of 1,858 yards, breaking his own mark by 237 feet.

LOCKED ROOM TURNED 'INTO FLAMING OVEN'

JAY, Fla. (AP) — Thirty-seven prisoners were killed Sunday at a state prison road camp when disgruntled convicts fired scrap paper and inadvertently turned their locked barracks into a flaming oven, state officials said today.

Fourteen of the 51 prisoners inside the burning barracks, which recently became racially-integrated were rescued. Six were taken to hospital with burns and eight were transferred to the jail at Pensacola.

The fire was set by prisoners, said Louis Wainwright, director of the state corrections division. A guard saw two prisoners — one a Negro and another white — touching lighted matches to newspapers, Wainwright said.

G. C. Mayne, Jr., assistant warden at the camp, earlier said the barracks erupted into flame when battling prisoners, a Negro and a white, broke a gas line and smashed a fluorescent lamp.

Wainwright said he didn't know exactly why the men were displeased. "That's what we have to find out. There has been no indication that any racial problem was involved at all."

Asked why more prisoners did not flee the burning building after the door was unlocked, Wainwright said: "The guard told them to get out. Apparently they panicked."

Among the dead was a prisoner who started the newspaper-fed fire, Wainwright said. Wainwright declined to give their names.

Rescue workers retrieved 35 bodies when the embers cooled several hours later. A reporter at the scene said 19 victims were found in the showers, where they apparently had sought safety by dousing themselves with water. The other two victims ran from the burning building and dropped dead on a lawn.

"The entire room was wrapped up with fire," the Santa Rosa sheriff's dispatcher, H. C. Crawford, quoted a surviving prisoner brought to county jail at nearby Milton. All eight unharmed convicts were jailed there overnight.

"Somebody hollered 'fire,' " Gerald Milligan, the prisoner, was quoted as saying. Milligan said he was sitting on his bunk removing his shoe. Then, he said, the fire "swept the whole top of the building."

"They began to pass out," Milligan said. He said he ducked under beds and crawled toward the locked door holding his nose.

Just as he reached the door a guard opened it and Milligan escaped the flames with only his hair singed.
